137th of the General Assembly.

Vol. 30.

HARRISBURG, PA., FRIDAY, JUNE 13, 1947.

No. 75.

SENATE

FRIDAY, June 13, 1947.

The Senate met at 12:00 o'clock, M., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Daniel B. Strickler) in the Chair.

PRAYER

In the absence of the Chaplain, prayer was offered by the gentleman from Berks, Dr. RUTH.

Almighty God, our Heavenly Father, as we come to Thee today we praise Thee for Thy kindness unto men and unto us. As we come towards the end of this session, we thank Thee for the new friendships we have made and for the strength of the old friendships, and we pray that throughout the years we may be working close one to another and to Thee. We pray that Thou wilt bless our efforts and our accomplishments. We have done what we could; perhaps not all the world will be satisfied, but we pray that through Thy spirit we may have the consciousness that under the circumstances in which we were placed, we did the best that we could.

We leave the future in Thy loving hands, knowing that Thou wilt make all things work together for good unto those who love Thee.

We ask it in Jesus' name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. TALLMAN and Mr. WADE, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

Amend Section 20 (C), page 44, line 7, by striking out after the word "provided" and before the word "the" the following: "however" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "further that the word loan herein, shall not include nor this act prohibit, a rearrangement of payments under the instalment sale contract by a refinance transaction involving a restoration of certain instalment payments made under the contract but the refinance charge on such amount restored may be not more than six per centum per annum simple interest and provided further, however, that."

It was agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The twenty-first, twenty-second, twenty-third, twenty-fourth, twenty-fifth and twenty-sixth sections were read and agreed to.

The twenty-seventh section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. BECKER offered the following amendment:

Amend Section 27, page 52, by striking out lines 2 to 5 inclusive, and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "If the proceeds of the resale are not sufficient to defray the expenses thereof, and also the expenses of retaking, keeping and storing the motor vehicle to which the seller or holder may be entitled and the balance due upon the purchase price, the seller or holder may recover the deficiency from the buyer, or from any one who has succeeded to the obligations of the buyer, provided that where the contract price covering the instalment sale of a motor vehicle, sold for any use other than a commercial or business use, amounts to two thousand dollars or less: (1) the buyer may have the reasonable value of the motor vehicle at the time of resale determined in any action or proceeding brought by the seller to recover the deficiency, the resale price being prima facie but not conclusive evidence of such reasonable value, and the said reasonable value as determined, or the resale price, whichever shall be higher, shall be credited to the buyer on account of his indebtedness; (2) If the buyer has paid an amount equal to eighty per centum or more of the purchase price at the time of his default in the payment of any sum due under the contract, and if the buyer, at the request of the seller and without legal proceedings, surrenders the motor vehicle to the seller in ordinary condition and free from malicious damage, the seller must, within a period of five days from the date of receipt of the motor vehicle at his place of business, elect either (a) to retain the motor vehicle and release the buyer from further obligation under the contract, or (b) To return the motor vehicle to the buyer at the seller's expense and be limited to an action to recover the balance of the indebtedness. If the buyer, at or subsequent to the surrender, agrees that the motor vehicle may be retained by the seller in satisfaction of the indebtedness, the seller shall not be required to sell the motor vehicle. If he elects to retain same in every action or proceeding for a deficiency, the buyer may have the reasonableness of the expense of retaking, keeping and storing the motor vehicle determined. Nothing contained in this section shall apply to a deficiency on a resale which was held prior to the effective date of this act."

It was agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The twenty-eighth section was read and agreed to.

The twenty-ninth section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. BECKER offered the following amendments:

Amend Section 29, page 53, line 14, by inserting at the end of the line after the word "therefor" the following: "if requested or payment is made in cash;" Amend Section 29, page 54, line 2, by inserting after the word "shall" and before the word "also" the following: "if requested by the buyer."

They were agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The thirtieth, thirty-first, thirty-second, thirty-third, thirty-fourth, thirty-fifth, thirty-sixth, thirty-seventh, thirty-eighth and thirty-ninth sections and title were read and agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time, as amended,

On the question.

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading, as amended?

Mr. BECKER. May the Senate be at ease, Mr. President.

(The Senate was at ease.)

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading, as amended?

Mr. ROSENFELD. Mr. President, I desire to offer an amendment at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Section 31, page 56, by inserting after line 20, the following: D—No person or seller licensee shall contract for charge or receive directly or indirectly any charges, credits, brokerage commissions or expenses whatever, from any sales finance company or banking institution in connection with the financing of the sale of any motor vehicle under the provisions of this act; provided however that a service charge or dealers reserve not to exceed two (2%) percent of the principal amount of any such instalment sales contract may be paid or credited by a sales finance company or banking institution to any such seller.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading, as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILL ON CONCURRENCE IN HOUSE AMENDMENTS RECALLED FROM THE GOVERNOR

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of House Bill No. 1035, as follows:

An Act to amend section forty of the act approved the twenty-fifth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 1050) entitled "An act relating to the collection of taxes levied by counties county institution districts cities of the third class boroughs towns townships certain school districts and vocational school districts conferring powers and imposing duties on tax collectors courts and various officers of said political subdivisions and prescribing penalties" by providing that the surety on the bond or bonds of a deceased collector for whose estate no executor or administrator has been appointed shall have the sole right and power to take over the tax duplicates in which said surety is interested and to proceed to make collections thereon in accordance with the provisions of this section

Section 1 Section forty of the act approved the twenty-fifth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 1050) entitled "An act relating to the collection of taxes levied by counties county institution districts cities of the third class boroughs towns townships certain school districts and vocational school districts conferring powers and imposing duties on tax collectors courts and various officers of said political subdivisions and prescribing penalties" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 40 Collection of Taxes by Sureties of Defaulting or Deceased Collectors (a) When any tax collector shall default in the payment of the taxes charged on the duplicates either by embezzlement negligence or failure to collect such taxes within the time prescribed by this act it shall be lawful for the surety or sureties on his bond to demand from the tax collector the tax duplicates in which said sureties are interested and the tax collector shall turn over to his said sureties such duplicates of the various taxing districts for which he is collector

(b) If the tax collector shall fail neglect or refuse to turn over such duplicates upon demand made by his surety or sureties it shall be lawful for the surety or sureties to present a petition to the court of common pleas of the county in which such tax collector resides setting forth the fact that such collector has defaulted in making collections The court being satisfied that such default has been made shall make an order to compel the tax collector to turn over to his sureties the tax duplicates upon which the sureties are liable

(b-1) When any tax collector shall have died and no executor or administrator within fifteen (15) days thereafter has been appointed to administer his estate the surety or sureties on his bond shall have the right and power after petitioning the court of common pleas of the county in which such deceased tax collector resided and after the said court has entered an order granting the prayer of the said petition to take over the tax duplicates in which said sureties are interested and to proceed to collect the taxes remaining unpaid upon such duplicates in accordance with the provisions of this section until such time as an executor or administrator of the estate of the deceased tax collector shall be appointed at which time the said surety or sureties shall file an accounting of such collections in the court where the said order was entered and shall pay such undistributed funds to said executor or administrator

(c) The holders of such duplicates shall have the right to appoint a collector for such period of time as herein provided to collect the taxes remaining unpaid upon such duplicates any collector so appointed shall have all the authority and power under the warrant issued to the original collector vested by this act. The authorities issuing said warrants may issue an additional warrant to the collector of such delinquent taxes upon request of such sureties

(d) The provisions of any law extending the time or any warrant for the collection of taxes on duplicates shall likewise extend to the collection of taxes on such delinquent tax duplicates

(e) Whenever the surety or sureties on the bond of any defaulting or deceased tax collector shall under the provisions of this section undertake to collect delinquent taxes charged in any duplicate delivered to such defaulting or deceased tax collector by distress and sale of the goods and chattels of the delinquent or shall distrain on the goods and chattels of any person who shall allege that the taxes with which he stands charged have actually been paid or that such person whose goods and chattels have been distrained upon shall deny liability for such taxes then in either event the taxpayer may petition the court of quarter sessions of the county for a stay of any such sale of goods and chattels distrained upon setting forth the reasons therefor

The court shall have power to stay such sale pending a hearing of the matter. The court shall have power to fix a day for hearing of which due notice shall be given the surety or sureties of such defaulting or deceased tax collector as the court may prescribe

(f) If the court after hearing shall be of the opinion that a taxpayer has actually paid such taxes or is not liable for the taxes with which he stands charged on the duplicate it shall direct satisfaction to be entered on such duplicate by the surety or sureties

(g) The surety or sureties on the bond of any such defaulting or deceased tax collector or any taxpayer shall have the right upon demand made to have a jury pass upon the question whether or not a taxpayer has paid taxes with which he stands charged and if the jury shall find such taxes have been so paid the court shall direct the surety or sureties to enter satisfaction on the duplicate

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate concur in the same?

(d) The restriction set forth in section four of this act

The application or applications shall thereupon be completed in accordance with such examination and duly sworn or affirmed and subscribed to by the applicant or applicants

Upon the completion of any application or applications taken before an alderman, magistrate, Notary Public or justice of the peace such application or applications shall be promptly transmitted to the clerk of the orphans' court of the county in which the license is to be issued. There shall be attached to each application so forwarded a certificate of the officer before whom it was taken certifying that the applicant was identified to the satisfaction of such officer.

The clerk of the orphans' court wherein the application for license is filed when properly completed applications on behalf of each of the parties to the proposed marriage have been taken before him or duly forwarded to him by an alderman, magistrate, Notary Public or justice of the peace shall if there is no legal objection to the marriage grant a license. Such license shall not be granted until three (3) days shall have intervened from the date of the filing in said office of the most recent of the two (2) applications therefore is received by or filed with the clerk of the orphans' court.

The clerk of the orphan's court shall provide application blanks upon request to aldermen, magistrates, Notaries Public and justices of the peace and also blanks for certifying the identification of applicants.

Section 7 Orphans' Court To Pass Upon Refusal of Clerk to Issue License In those cases where the right to a license is not made to appear the clerk of the orphans' court shall refuse to issue the same. At once upon such refusal he shall certify the proceedings to the orphans' court of the county without formality or expense to the applicants for license who shall be notified by the clerk of such action.

Such application for a license to marry shall thereupon at the earliest possible time be heard by a judge of said court without a jury in court or in chambers during the term or in vacation as the case may be. The finding of the court that a license ought to issue or ought not to issue shall be final and the clerk of the orphans' court shall act in accordance therewith.

The true intent of this section is to secure for applicants a hearing before the orphans' court without affirmative action by said applicants and to give notice to them of such hearing its time and place without delay or expense.

Section 8 Recording Application and Consent Certificate The applications for license and all consent certificates shall be immediately recorded by the clerk of the orphans' court in a book provided for that purpose at the cost of the county which shall be called the marriage license docket and which shall be a public record open to inspection or examination by the public at all times during business hours. Section 22 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WOODRING. Mr. President and members of the Senate, I am not going to give an affirmative vote on this bill without giving my reasons for doing so.

This is a bill creating for a limited time authorities, briefly, to make available for veterans of World War II temporary emergency housing. If it was needed this bill should have been passed long ago, 1943 or 1945. This is one of those "you-missed-the-boat bills," like I was talking about some time ago concerning the Republican National Convention, but it is too bad that Pennsylvania has to continually miss the boat. We are not doing very much as a Commonwealth for our veterans of this Commonwealth, and the public ought to have a right to know that. Thus far, we have given free fishing licenses, if they were badly enough mutilated, and this bill does not give them very much more. It permits local municipalities to set up authorities and spend their own money for emergency housing for veterans, but the Commonwealth is not taking its part in caring for our veterans in Pennsylvania.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I appreciate the fact that the gentleman from Northampton, Senator Woodring, is going to vote in favor of this bill.

As to what Pennsylvania has done with regard to a veterans' program, I would like to invite the gentleman from Northampton to attend the next joint conference of Veterans Legislative Committee, composed of the legislative committee of the American Legion, of which I happen to be chairman, and the various veterans' committees of the Amvets, the committees of the Order of the Purple Heart, the Catholic War Veterans and also the Jewish War Veterans.

I have here in my hand, Mr. President, a list of twenty-five bills that have been prepared, passed and presented to the Governor, dealing with the problems of the veterans and which were requested by this joint legislative committee.

Mr. President, I think, when the final record is written at the close of the 1947 session, that the veterans of Pennsylvania will say the 1947 session took more progressive steps in assisting the veterans and a veteran's program in Pennsylvania—and I know the gentleman is vitally interested in the veteran's program because of the frequent remarks he has made on the floor of this Senate with regard to it. I would be very happy to have him attend the next meeting of that committee, so that he can become acquainted with what this session of the Legislature has done to assist the veterans of Pennsylvania.

Mr. WOODRING. Mr. President, in answer to the remarks of the gentleman from Allegheny, I would be very happy to accept his invitation, and I hope his remarks are absolutely correct and that we will have written a fine veteran's program.

Frankly, Mr. President, I have tried to follow the legislative program very carefully and I am of the opinion we have not done much, and I certainly am of the opinion this bill is a political sop and is not going to be helpful to our veterans.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, the list is here and available to the gentleman and I want to say to him that his hopes will be realized. There have been progressive steps taken and I will be glad to furnish him with a citation of the bills and a digest of what they do and a copy of the minutes of meetings where they were approved by the Veteran's Legislative Committee, so that he will be satisfied that this has been done.

I want to say to him very frankly probably there are a lot of things he would like to suggest that are not done, and if he will point out in the histories of either the House or the Senate where there are bills that could be classified as veteran's bills that are not on the list, I will be very happy to have those citations.

Mr. WOODRING. Mr. President, I do not like to break the rules of the Senate but I have been spoiled enough to do it.

I would point out this in answer to the statement of the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Walker, that we have not passed the Rahauser Bill which would set up a lending authority such as the state of New Jersey has, such an authority which is working in the state of New Jersey to the great benefit of the many veterans of that state and which authority has not cost the people of New Jersey one penny but which is actually showing a profit for the help that is being given.

In addition to that, Mr. President, there are a number of other things that have not been done. There was the matter of scholarships for the children of deceased and disabled veterans which, to my knowledge, did not receive very much consideration; there was the matter of extending certain licensing privileges to veterans' organizations newly created and nationally chartered, and that bill was very carefully held down until the dying stages of the session, until such date that we do not know whether it is going to pass or not.

We have loitered on the job in the consideration of veteran's legislation. We have not to date done very much more than we did during the war, at which time we gave them free hunting and fishing licenses while they were on Iwo Jima and other points East and West.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I believe I could spend the rest of the day and all of tomorrow telling the veterans of Pennsylvania what we have not done for them. If you will go into the record you will find some five bills, I think, permitting local municipalities to donate to the Amvets Memorial Day exercises, and most of these bills that we passed we are passing on to the local communities, like increasing the cost of headstones and the like, passing on to the local communities the cost of any special privileges given to the veterans.

Mr. President, I do not think the gentleman from Allegheny could go before any veteran's group today and tell them of really concrete things that were done for the veterans of Pennsylvania. The veteran of Pennsylvania is still living, with his wife and kids, with his mother, or generally she is living with her mother and he is living with his mother, and in a lot of cases some of us are living in homes which are not large enough for ourselves and our families and, in fact, a lot of the matrimonial troubles of the returned veteran are being caused because of the government, and that includes Pennsylvania, has failed to provide proper housing for the returned veteran.

I believe it is time for us to quit talking about what we have done for the veteran because we have not done anything for them worthwhile in this session—outside of passing a bonus, payable in 1952, I think—but for actual work in meeting the problems the veteran has to meet today, we have not done anything. We have not done anything for them in helping in the schooling of some of those veterans, due to the fact that the Republican party has destroyed price control—food products have gone up so high that the veterans have to stop their education in college because the amount of money given to them is not enough to buy food for their wives while they are in school. The Republican party has done nothing to correct this. They have not given the veterans any extra money to go to school, they have not provided any extra housing, they provided no cooperation in training.

As I said, Mr. President, I would not like to take the rest of the time until this session ends in telling what we have not done.

All we have done is to put through a few measly bills which concern organization of the veterans groups and where, if they get any money, they go back home to the municipality, to their mothers and fathers who own homes there and who are supporting the families of veterans' who are married, by letting them stay at their homes, and they are going to pay the extra taxes to give them the little extra money they might get. Anyone who leaves this session and says it is a monument to what we have done for the veterans of Pennsylvania is lying to the nth degree.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I would like to say very carefully to the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Holland, and also to the gentleman from Northampton, Senator Woodring, that I will be very happy to meet with them in front of any veteran's group in Pennsylvania and discuss what this session of the Legislature has done.

Mr. President, when we consider and point out what has been done for the veterans of Pennsylvania, there were two little bills sponsored by the gentleman from Northampton, Senator Woodring, Senate Bills 28 and 29, which are now acts, passed by the House and Senate and approved by the Governor, which provide for the planting of memorial trees in honor of veterans of the Second World War.

Mr. WOODRING. Mr. President, they were harmless turkeys and they are the only kind to get through in this session.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, for the sake of the record, I will accept the challenge of the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Walker, to meet him before any veteran's group and argue what his party has done for the veterans of Pennsylvania.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, that includes the C.I.O. Veterans Committee.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, it includes the C.I.O. or any K.K.K. group. Mr. Walker, you protect them very nicely.

And the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—2

Chapman, Watson,

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same without amendments.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 302, as follows:

An Act to amend section one thousand two hundred six of the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred eleven (P. L. 309) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" by further providing for leaves of absence of professional employees because of illness or other causes

Section 1 Section one thousand two hundred six of the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred eleven (P. L. 309) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" as last amended by the act approved the twentieth day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-one (P. L. 1012) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 1206 When a board of school directors is compelled to close any school or schools on account of contagious disease the destruction or damage of the school building by fire or other causes the school district shall be liable for the salaries of the teachers of said school or schools for the terms for which they were engaged Whenever a teacher is prevented from following his or her occupation as a teacher during any period of the school term for any of the reasons in this section specified the school district shall be liable for the salary of such teacher for such period at the rate of compensation stipulated in the contract between the district and the teacher in addition to the time actually occupied in teaching by such teacher

[Whenever a teacher is prevented by sickness or some other unavoidable circumstances from following his or her occupation the school district may at the discretion of the directions make such payments of compensation during the period of absence from duty as the exigencies of the case may seem to warrant Provided That in the case of sickness no payments shall be made unless such teacher shall have furnished to the board of school directors a certificate from a physician stating the nature of the sickness and certifying that he or she was unable to perform duties as a teacher]

In any school year whenever a professional employee is prevented by illness from following his or her occupation the school district shall pay to said professional employee for each day of absence the full salary to which the professional employee may be entitled as if said employee were actually engaged in the performance of duty for a period of five days Provided however that such leave shall be cumulative from year to year but shall not exceed twenty (20) days' leave with full pay in any one year Provided further that the board of school directors shall require the professional employee to furnish a certificate from a physician or other practitioner certifying that said professional employee was unable to perform his or her duties during the period of absence for which compensation is required to be paid under this section

Whenever a professional employee shall be absent from duty because of a death in the immediate family of said employee there shall be no deduction in salary of said employee for an absence not in excess of three school days The board of school directors may extend the period of absence with pay in its discretion as the exigencies of the case may warrant Members of the immediate family shall be defined as father mother brother sister son daughter husband wife parent-in-law or near relative who resides in the same household or any person with whom the professional employe has made his or her home

Whenever a professional employe is absent because of the death of a near relative there shall be no deduction in the salary of said employe for absence on the day of the funeral The board of school directors may extend the period of absence with pay in its discretion as the exigencies of the case may warrant A near relative shall be defined as first cousin grandfather grandmother aunt uncle niece nephew brother-in-law or sister-in-law

All compensation required to be paid under the provisions of this act shall be paid to the professional employe in the same manner and at the same time said employe would have received his salary if actually engaged in the performance of his duties

Any board of school directors (or any board of public education) may adopt rules or regulations pertaining to the payment of salaries of professional employees when absent from duty extending the period of leave with pay in excess of that herein provided or authorizing leaves with pay for other purposes This act is not intended to repeal any rule or regulation of any board of school directors now in effect which does provide for such additional compensation or additional period of leave with pay

[All contracts with teachers shall hereafter contain a covenant providing for their payment in cases arising under the circumstances described in this section and at the same rate as is specified for the time actually engaged in teaching

Payments of salaries heretofore or hereafter made for the school year ending June thirtieth one thousand nine hundred and nineteen or any portion thereof in conformity with the provisions of this act are hereby declared to be valid and effectual in law and binding upon the school district]

Any temporary or emergency increases heretofore granted and the discontinuance thereof at the end of the period for which granted are hereby ratified confirmed and made valid notwithstanding the fact that the same may have been done without previous authority of law.

No school district shall be required to pay any increments provided for hereby to any teacher for any part of the probationary period of such teacher.

Section 3 Section one thousand two hundred forty-one of said act as added by the act approved the twenty-ninth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 1112) is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 1241 For the purposes of this subdivision of Article XII of this act the following terms shall have the following meanings:

(1) "District Pupils" of a school district shall designate all pupils enrolled in the public schools of the Commonwealth and of adjacent states who are residents of a given school district except those pupils who are enrolled in the public schools maintained by the vocational school district and territorial limits of which include the school district. "District Pupils" of a vocational school district shall designate all pupils enrolled in the public schools maintained by the vocational school district who are residents of the district.

(2) "District Teaching Units" A district's number of teaching units shall be obtained as follows: (1) divide by twenty-two (22) the number of district pupils in average daily membership in a public high school (2) divide by thirty (30) the number of district pupils in average daily membership in a public elementary school and (3) add the quotients obtained under (1) and (2) above.

(3) "Average Daily Membership" shall be computed in accordance with the rules of procedure as established by the Department of Public Instruction for the school term 1944-1945.

(4) "Minimum Subsidy" shall designate the minimum amount per teaching unit payable by the Commonwealth to any school district or vocational school district under the provisions of this act. The minimum subsidy [shall be six hundred dollars ($600)] for the school year 1946-1947 and the school year 1947-1948 shall be seven hundred dollars ($700) and for each school year thereafter eight hundred dollars ($800).

(5) "Maximum Subsidy" shall designate the maximum amount per teaching unit which may be payable by the Commonwealth to any one school district or vocational school district under the provisions of this act. The maximum subsidy for the school year [1945-1946 and the school year 1946-1947 shall be one thousand eight hundred dollars ($1800) and for each school year thereafter two thousand dollars ($2000)] 1946-1947 shall be two thousand two hundred dollars ($2200) for the school year 1947-1948 two thousand three hundred dollars ($2300) for the school year 1948-1949 two thousand four hundred dollars ($2400) for the school year 1949-1950 two thousand five hundred dollars ($2500) and for each school year thereafter two thousand six hundred dollars ($2600).

(6) "Standard Reimbursement Fraction" School districts or vocational school district's standard reimbursement fraction shall be computed annually in the month of [November] December by the Department of Public Instruction.

In the case of a school district its standard reimbursement fraction shall be computed for the school year [1945-1946 and the school year 1946-1947 by subtracting from one thousand eight hundred dollars ($1800) an amount determined by multiplying the school districts assessed valuation per district teaching unit by five-one thousandths (.005) and dividing the difference so obtained by one thousand eight hundred dollars ($1800).

and for the school year 1947-1948 and for every school year thereafter by subtracting from two thousand dollars ($2000) an amount determined by multiplying the school district's assessed valuation per district teaching unit by five-one thousandths (.005) and dividing the difference so obtained by two thousand dollars ($2000) 1946-1947 by subtracting from two thousand two hundred dollars ($2200) an amount determined by multiplying the school district's assessed valuation per district teaching unit by six-one thousandths (.006) and dividing the difference so obtained by two thousand two hundred dollars ($2200) for the school year 1947-1948 by subtracting from two thousand three hundred dollars ($2300) an amount determined by multiplying the school districts assessed valuation per district teaching unit by six-one thousandths (.006) and dividing the difference so obtained by two thousand three hundred dollars ($2300) for the school year 1948-1948 by subtracting from two thousand four hundred dollars ($2400) an amount determined by multiplying the school district's assessed valuation per district teaching unit by six-one thousandths (.006) and dividing the difference so obtained by two thousand four hundred dollars ($2400) for the school year 1949-1950 by subtracting from two thousand five hundred dollars ($2500) an amount determined by multiplying the school district's assessed valuation per district teaching unit by six-one thousandths (.006) and dividing the difference so obtained by two thousand five hundred dollars ($2500) and for every school year thereafter by subtracting from two thousand six hundred dollars ($2600) an amount determined by multiplying the school district's assessed valuation per district teaching unit by six-one thousandths (.006) and dividing the difference so obtained by two thousand six hundred dollars ($2600).

A school district's assessed valuation to be used for purposes of computing the standard reimbursement fraction shall be the assessed valuation of the district's taxable real property as determined for the preceding year for county tax purposes. Provided That if the assessed valuation as determined for county purposes does not adequately represent the market values of the taxable property the State Council of Education may ascertain such market values and base the reimbursement to any one school district upon the market values ascertained by the State Council of Education. Provided further That if any system for the equalization of the values of real property throughout the Commonwealth shall be provided for by act of assembly each district's assessed valuation to be used for purposes of computing its standard reimbursement fraction shall be the valuation placed upon its taxable real property under such system.

In the case of a vocational school district its standard reimbursement fraction shall be computed for the school year 1945-1946 and the school year 1946-1947 by subtracting from one thousand eight hundred dollars ($1800) an amount determined by multiplying the assessed valuation per district teaching unit by three-one thousandths (.003) and dividing the difference so obtained by one thousand eight hundred dollars ($1800) and for the school year 1947-1948 and for every school year thereafter by subtracting from two thousand dollars ($2000) an amount determined by multiplying the assessed valuation per district teaching unit by three-one thousandths (.003) and dividing the difference so obtained by two thousand dollars ($2000) 1946-1947 by subtracting from two thousand two hundred dollars ($2200) an amount determined by multiplying the assessed valuation per district teaching unit by three-one thousandths (.003) and dividing the difference so obtained by two thousand two hundred dollars ($2200) for the school year 1947-1948 by subtracting from two thousand three hundred dollars ($2300) an amount determined by multiplying the school district's assessed valuation per district teaching unit by three-one thousandths (.003) and dividing the difference so obtained by two thousand three hundred dollars ($2300).

for the school year 1948-1949 by subtracting from two thousand four hundred dollars ($2400) an amount determined by multiplying the assessed valuation per district teaching unit by three-one thousandths (.003) and dividing the difference so obtained by two thousand four hundred dollars ($2400) for the school year 1949-1950 by subtracting from two thousand five hundred dollars ($2500) an amount determined by multiplying the school district's assessed valuation per district teaching unit by three-one thousandths (.003) and dividing the difference so obtained by two thousand five hundred dollars ($2500) and for every school year thereafter by subtracting from two thousand six hundred dollars ($2600) an amount determined by multiplying the school district's assessed valuation per district teaching unit by three-one thousandths (.003) and dividing the difference so obtained by two thousand six hundred dollars ($2600).

A school district's or vocational school district's number of district teaching units for purposes of determination of the standard reimbursement fraction shall be obtained as follows (1) divide by twenty-two (22) the number of district pupils in average daily membership in a public high school during the preceding school term (2) divide by thirty (30) the number of district pupils in average daily membership in a public elementary school during the preceding school term and (3) add the quotients obtained under (1) and (2) above except when the pupil-teacher ratio exceeds thirty-three (33) in which case the sum obtained under (1) and (2) above shall be multiplied by thirty-three (33) and the product so obtained shall be divided by the pupil-teacher ratio of the district. Provided That no school district or vocational school district shall be credited with less than one teaching unit or be assigned a reimbursement fraction lower in value than the minimum subsidy divided by the maximum subsidy. Provided further That until the end of the school term during which the present hostilities shall cease as determined by proclamation of the Governor all one-room schools operated in accordance with the provisions of the act to which this is an amendment shall be credited with at least one teaching unit. Upon cessation of such hostilities such one-room schools shall be credited with at least one teaching unit only if their operation is approved by the State Council of Education. The State Council of Education shall withhold its approval of any one-room one teacher school unless (1) topography distance or condition of roads are such as to make transportation of pupils impractical or (2) it is impossible to accommodate pupils in existing graded schools in the district or other districts or (3) the district is financially unable to construct a consolidated school.

Section 4 Section one thousand two hundred forty-two of said act as added by the act approved the twenty-ninth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 1112) is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 1242 Every school district and every vocational school district shall be paid by the Commonwealth for the [fiscal years 1945-1946 and] school year 1946-1947 on account of the instruction of all pupils in average daily membership in the district's public schools and joint elementary schools an amount to be determined by multiplying the number of teaching units based on the number of all pupils in average daily membership in the district's public schools and joint elementary schools by [one thousand eight hundred dollars ($1800)] two thousand two hundred dollars ($2200) and by the district's standard reimbursement fraction.

The amount of payment to be made by the Commonwealth to any school district during the school year 1947-1948 for the school year 1946-1947 on account of the instruction of pupils under the provisions of this section shall not be less than the amount paid to the district during the school year 1945-1946 on account of the salaries of fulltime members of the teaching and supervisory staff of the district.

Every school district and every vocational school district shall be paid by the Commonwealth for the school year 1947-1948 [and for every school year thereafter] on account of the instruction of all pupils in average daily membership in the district's public schools and joint elementary schools an amount to be determined by multiplying the number of teaching units based on the number of all pupils in average daily membership in the district's public schools and joint elementary schools by [two thousand dollars ($2000)] two thousand three hundred dollars ($2300) and by the district's standard reimbursement fraction

Every school district and every vocational school district shall be paid by the Commonwealth for the school year 1948-1949 on account of the instruction of all pupils in average daily membership in the district's public schools and joint elementary schools an amount to be determined by multiplying the number of teaching units based on the number of all pupils in average daily membership in the district's public schools and joint elementary schools by two thousand four hundred dollars ($2400) and by the district's standard reimbursement fraction

Every school district and every vocational school district shall be paid by the Commonwealth for school year 1949-1950 on account of the instruction of all pupils in average daily membership in the district's public schools and joint elementary schools an amount to be determined by multiplying the number of teaching units based on the number of all pupils in average daily membership in the district's public schools and joint elementary schools by two thousand five hundred dollars ($2500) and by the district's standard reimbursement fraction

Every school district and every vocational school district shall be paid by the Commonwealth for the school year 1950-1951 and for every school year thereafter on account of the instruction of all pupils in average daily membership in the district's public schools and joint elementary schools an amount to be determined by multiplying the number of teaching units based on the number of all pupils in average daily membership in the district's public schools and joint elementary schools by two thousand six hundred dollars ($2600) and by the district's standard reimbursement fraction

Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this section when because of sparsity of population road or climatic conditions or lack of other available high school facilities the State Council of Education has approved the continued operation of a small high school the district shall receive an amount based on a number of teaching units equal to the number of teachers approved by the State Council of Education as being required to provide a satisfactory educational program in such school provided that the number of teachers employed is not less than the number approved

For no year shall any school district or vocational school district receive less than [six hundred dollars ($600)] the minimum subsidy per teaching unit

Section 5 Section one thousand two hundred forty-four of said act as added by the act approved the twenty-ninth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 1112) is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 1244 Each school district regardless of classification sending [high school] pupils to another school district or vocational school district or to a joint high school approved by the Department of Public Instruction shall be paid by the Commonwealth for the school term [1945-1946] 1946-1947 and for every school term thereafter on account of [high school] tuition an amount to be determined by multiplying the sum of "overhead cost per [high school] pupil" and "instruction cost per elementary pupil" or "instruction cost per high school pupil" as the case may be as defined in section one thousand two hundred sixty of this act [less the rental charge of eight dollars ($8)] or in the case of district pupils attending a [high] school not located in this Commonwealth on the basis of a reasonable tuition charge per pupil to be determined by the Superintendent of Public Instruction (1) by the number of district pupils sent to [high] schools of other districts or to a joint [high] school and (2) by the district's standard reimbursement fraction and (3) by seventy-five-one-hundredths (.75) and (4) subtracting from the amount so obtained the per pupil State appropriation paid to the district where the pupil attends [high] school multiplied by the number of pupils

Section 6 Sections one thousand two hundred fifty-five and one thousand two hundred fifty-seven of said act as added by the act approved the twenty-ninth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 1112) are hereby amended to read as follows

Section 1255 The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall ascertain and determine the amount of funds required to meet each of the four payments to school districts and vocational school districts which become due and payable within the two fiscal years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred forty-five and ending on May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred forty-seven and each biennium thereafter on the data and material contained in the certificates which school districts and vocational school districts are required by these amendments to file with the Superintendent immediately preceding the beginning of each biennium The Superintendent shall apportion and allot the same to and among the respective districts The amount paid to any district within any biennium shall be computed on the data and information contained in the certificates required to be filed each year as herein provided Provided That if any system for the equalization of the values of real property throughout the Commonwealth shall be provided for by act of Assembly each district's assessed valuation to be used for purposes of computing its standard reimbursement fraction shall be the valuation placed upon its taxable real property under such system In no case shall the amount paid to any district exceed the amounts computed on such data

Section 1257 The amount apportioned and allotted to each school district or vocational school district shall be divided into equal semi-annual installments and the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall draw his requisition semi-annually upon the State Treasury in favor of each district for the amount to which it is entitled and payment thereof shall be made to fourth class school districts and to vocational school districts during the months of [February and August of each year to second and third class districts during the months of March and September of each year and to first class districts during the months of April and October] March and October of each year and to first second and third class districts during the months of April and November of each year

In the event that hereafter any school district for a period of two successive years employs the same teacher who holds only an emergency certificate for any grade or subject which he teachers or for a period of two successive years employs in the same position teachers who hold only an emergency certificate for any grades or subjects which they teach such school district shall forfeit the sum of three hundred dollars ($300) for each teacher so employed or for each position so filled Any school district that employs any teacher who does not hold any form of teacher certification to teach in the public schools of this Commonwealth shall forfeit one reimbursement unit for each such teacher employed The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall in either event deduct such sum or sums from the amount of the Commonwealth appropriation otherwise due such district under the provisions of this act

Section 7 Section one thousand two hundred sixty of said act as added by the act approved the twenty-ninth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 1112) is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 1260 A school district or vocational school district receiving elementary or high school pupils who are residents of another school district or another vocational school district shall compute the tuition charges as follows

(1) General add the salaries of secretaries treasurers auditors superintendents the cost of library books the salaries of librarians lectures health medical nurse and dental services the wages of janitors and other comparable employes the cost of fuel water light and power the cost of maintenance of school plant including ordinary repairs but not including alterations or remodeling the cost of attendance at teachers' institutes and the district's contribution to the retirement fund on behalf of the above listed employes and divide the sum so obtained by the total number of pupils in average daily membership in the receiving district's public schools The quotient so obtained shall be designated the "Overhead Cost Per Pupil"

(2) Elementary Tuition Charge Add the salaries of supervisors principals clerks assistants and teachers employed in the receiving district's elementary schools the district's contribution to the retirement fund on behalf of teachers supervisors and principals employed in the district's elementary schools the cost of text books and supplies of the second class used in the district's elementary schools and divide the sum so obtained by the total number of pupils in average daily membership in the receiving district's elementary schools the quotient so obtained shall be designated as the "Instruction Cost Per Elementary Pupil" add to the instruction cost per elementary pupil the overhead cost per pupil and a rental charge of eight dollars ($8) per pupil for the use of the receiving district's school plant deduct from the amount so obtained the per pupil state appropriation on account of elementary school teaching units The cost so determined shall be the "Tuition Charge Per Elementary Pupil"

(3) High School Tuition Charge Add the salaries of supervisors principals clerks assistants and teachers employed in the receiving district's high schools The district's contribution to the retirement fund on behalf of teachers supervisors and principals employed in the district's high schools The cost of text books and supplies of the second class used in the district's high schools and divide the sum so obtained by the total number of pupils in average daily membership in the receiving district's high schools The quotient so obtained shall be designated as the "Instruction Cost Per High School Pupil" Add to the instruction cost per high school pupil the overhead cost per pupil and a rental charge of [eight dollars ($8)] ten dollars ($10) per pupil for the use of the receiving district's school plant deduct from the amount so obtained the per pupil state appropriation on account of high school teaching units The cost so determined shall be the "Tuition Charge Per High School Pupil"

Section 8 The provisions of this act are severable and if any of its provisions shall be held unconstitutional the decision of the court shall not affect or impair any of the remaining provisions of this act It is hereby declared to be the legislative intent that this act would have been adopted had such unconstitutional provisions not been included herein

Section 9 This act shall become effective on the first day of July one thousand nine hundred forty-seven

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President and members of the Senate, this is a bill that is known as the teachers' pay bill. It represents, as I understand it, an agreement between the majority members of the House and the majority members of the Senate.

In registering the vote against this bill that I intend to place upon the record, I want it clearly understood that we on this side are going to vote on the roll call as individuals, but that my vote shall establish the party principle on the matter.

Speaking therefor from the minority viewpoint upon this legislation at this time, I want to try to bring before the people of Pennsylvania the whole question of the educational program in this Commonwealth as it relates to the school teachers, their pay, and as it relates to comparison between this and other states.

In the first place, Mr. President, I believe the members of the Senate are well aware of the fact that in messages concerning the budgetary needs of the Commonwealth I have made provisions before the Senate, on behalf of the minority, for additional funds to be paid out to the school teachers in salary raising legislation.

Mr. President and members of the Senate, I am voting against this bill because it does not do the job that ought to be done at this time. Never in the history of this Commonwealth have so many people from so many walks of life been so interested in the condition of our educational system in this Commonwealth. I have before me in this file letters from practically every endeavor in my county and in the various counties of the state, from Chambers of Commerce, professional groups, from all the civic organizations that you can name, who have long ago endorsed the principle that at this time the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania must do something more than a patchwork job in the matter of an educational program.

First of all, Mr. President, if you will recall, I recommended to this Senate the passage of a statewide mercantile tax that would have raised, by a seventy per cent collection of an eight-mill tax, $100,000,000. This has been proven to be a very low estimate, if we can believe the estimates advanced by the city of Pittsburgh and the spokesman for the city of Philadelphia on the question of passing a mercantile tax for these two particular cities, in the estimates that they have arrived at as to the return from a one-mill tax.

Mr. President, I had in mind, if the state assessed a statewide tax for specific purposes, this Commonwealth could undo the injustice that has been in existence for too many years, in that communities that have an honest assessment on their real estate values are being penalized by the Commonwealth in its educational program, because of the basis of the reimbursement fraction and the formula used to subsidize the various school units. Outstanding in this regard, Mr. President, is the history and record of this particular item of the school and educational program in this Commonwealth. For instance, we have a disparagement of close to $1,000 between the districts that receive a high subsidy and the districts that are confined to a low subsidy by the nature of their real estate tax operations. For instance here we have, Mr. President, just as an example, the city of Pittsburgh restricted under this bill for the present year to a $700 subsidy, and yet we have under this bill, Mr. President, cities like Carbondale, receiving $1,322; New Castle receiving $1,098; Norristown receiving $1,189; York receiving

$1,322, and so forth and so on. There would be no purpose gained if I would take each and every one of these communities and townships of this Commonwealth and give you figures that prove beyond any reasonable doubt that we have a very unsound principle of financing our educational program in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

At this time, Mr. President, I may say that if the minority would have been given the courtesy of attending the various conferences and meetings held by the majority in the matter of writing this particular piece of legislation we would have endeavored to give to Pennsylvania a qualified program based upon equality, the only basis of operation that is proper under a democratic form of government.

Mr. President, there can be no excuse for continuing this type of educational program. If it is possible for the city of Pittsburgh to be granted specific taxing authority, and the city of Philadelphia to be granted specific taxing authority, just to meet in either instance a need that the state has failed to take care of, then it is more proper for us to assume that the state should adopt and assess a tax rate on a statewide basis, and then redistribute to the various school districts on an equality basis, a subsidy that would allow all the districts in Pennsylvania to pay a minimum standard of wages comparable to neighboring states that have a higher educational standard than the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

I have heard it said that this Commonwealth contributes more to the various school districts than a number of the other states. Mr. President, when you measure the amount subsidized to the districts by the state government in this Commonwealth against the amounts returned in other states, on a percentage basis, you find that this is an untrue statement. In every instance where we have states of comparable stature, we find that the state government returns in categories, other than that of education itself, such a large amount of state collected taxes that in the main the local real estate carries a lesser burden than real estate carries in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and, after all comparisons are made and after all rules of measure are employed I am sure the answer to the question is what real estate carries the greater burden, that in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, that within the various subdivisions of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, or that in the neighboring states.

Mr. President, the basis of our argument this afternoon is this; this state must sooner or later assume the position that it has a state responsibility to see to it that there is an equalization of scholastic standing, both in the payment of teachers and the educational opportunities to the school children of the Commonwealth; there should be no difference or disparagement between educational opportunities because of the residence that a person has within the whole structure of the Commonwealth.

Mr. President, I believe that if we had a specific tax for specific purposes and then assumed the payment of a full minimum schedule on an equal basis all over the Commonwealth, then the question of maximums could be left properly in the hands of the local authorities. You say that Pittsburgh receives a minimum state subsidy because it has behind every school unit a tax assessment of approximately $380,000 and you say that the various other sub-divisions are given a much higher subsidy because they have on the average in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania a real estate assessed valuation behind each school unit of $60,000. And yet, Mr. President, we admit very frankly that the city of Pittsburgh and the city of Philadelphia have to assess other taxes against their citizens to meet the needs of their teaching units.

Now you have before you on the calendar today a bill that opens up the field of local taxation to all the whims of all the local taxing authorities. The purpose behind the passage of this bill, as I understand it, is to allow the local authorities to raise money to meet their needs in education. And yet, Mr. President, in House Bill 417 we find no reservation made for when these new additional local taxes are applied against the citizens, in the industries or businesses in a given district; you find nothing in this bill that will change the reimbursement basis that they now operate on, and yet that community may in its sum total collection of taxes have a greater return of revenue per teaching unit than the city of Pittsburgh or the city of Philadelphia. It is definitely an unsound basis for a sound progressive educational program.

At various times during recent years the minority has attempted to create a new educational structure in the Commonwealth. We know too that it can not be done overnight. I want to say to the membership of this Senate that when we spent something approximating $75,000 in the creation of a tax school study commission, I had high hopes, and I know that many of you had high hopes, that this commission would come to the General Assembly with a plan for a school program that was based upon a study of facts over the entire Commonwealth. I am sorry to say that program has not come forth and I am happy to see that we are terminating the work of that commission and putting in into the hands of the Joint State Government Commission.

At this point, Mr. President, I am recommending that the Joint State Government Commission, of which Senator Heyburn is chairman, take school legislation in Pennsylvania and try to come before the General Assembly two years hence with a program that will be fair to each and every citizen of this Commonwealth.

Mr. President, I can see no justification in assessing against a citizen in one community a greater cost or charge for the education of the children in that community as against a lesser charge in another community in the Commonwealth.

I can understand, Mr. President, and so I believe all of us can understand, that where a particular school district adds to its regular curricula extra-curricular activities they may have a greater expense than that required for single standard education, and that the citizens of that community would naturally be assessed to meet that bill.

But, Mr. President, if we do this one thing, if we set an equalized standard all over the Commonwealth in subsidy returns and in a educational standard, then we have started at least to build a sound educational structure.

I am ashamed to have to admit, Mr. President, that by national standards, according to reports that I have in my folder, the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania stands thirty-second in the educational picture in the entire nation. I am not the authority for that statement; however, I have the authority here and I will be glad to submit it if so desired.

Now, Mr. President, we come to the question of the teachers themselves. Throughout the past campaign both political parties made very lavish promises to the school teaching profession of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. If the Democratic party had been successful I am sure that they too would have had the full responsibility of fulfilling their pledges. The fulfillment of that pledge is not a political obligation—it is a moral obligation because, in the first instance, Mr. President, both political parties made the pledge because they knew full well that the school teaching profession in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania was miserably underpaid as a group; they knew that they were upon sound ground when they said that we had to have a higher minimum standard in this Commonwealth. The question as to whether House Bill 417 meets the campaign pledges of the party now responsible for the redemption of its campaign pledge is one that is purely a matter of opinion. The framers of House Bill 417, in its original appearance, felt that their interpretation of their campaign pledge was embodied in what they had drafted into the original House Bill 417.

Now we find before us a much emasculated bill, with the same number and the same sponsorship, but nowhere near the same provisions. That could be done for one of two purposes. It could be to take House Bill 417 and amend it to meet what other groups or an individual group feels to be a redemption of their campaign pledge, which would be purely a matter of mechanics, something that was done in order to facilitate passage of this legislation, which would take a bill already passed by the House and amend it in order to put into that bill the interpretations of the Senate. That is one thing that may have been in the minds of the persons who engineer the legislative actions. And again, Mr. President, it might have been purely a matter of political strategy. All the school teachers in this Commonwealth are collectively and individually for House Bill 417 as it was introduced in the House of Representatives. In my file I have countless letters from individual school teachers, from school teacher's groups, from civic bodies and groups of service clubs, church leagues, federations of all kinds, in favor of House Bill 417 as it was originally introduced. Now we find thousand upon thousand of citizens who can not hear the debate upon the contents of this bill, thousands upon thousands of citizens who must depend upon the picture that they gain from the daily newspapers, to know exactly what the Legislature does, and those thousands upon thousands of citizens are being confused to the point that they believe that they still are getting House Bill 417. We admit, Mr. President, that they are getting the number and the names of the sponsors but there is a protest, one of the protests I make by my vote.

Every teacher in this Commonwealth was safe in assuming that if their political party won the election, or whichever one would win it, that particular political party was pledged to a program approximating that which was contained in House Bill 417 in its original presentation.

Mr. President, I say to the Republican majority that if this is your interpretation and your fulfillment of your campaign pledge, we accept it as such, but I say to you also that in my mind, having been one of those who campaigned all over the state and spoke to various groups of teachers all over the Commonwealth, this does not represent in their minds a fulfillment of the pledge made last year.

I believe the teachers felt that they were to receive a minimum salary somewhere near the basic $2,500. They were not led to believe, Mr. President, that to get this salary raiser they would have to witness a revolution in the matter of taxation in this Commonwealth.

We are, Mr. President, upon the brink of a very profound moment in this Commonwealth's fiscal history. We are passing, at the insistence of the Governor of this Commonwealth, a bill broadening the tax base in every school district in this Commonwealth. Mr. President, I want to say to the members of the Senate that nobody can do that and feel that they have fulfilled their part of the educational program. They can not do it, Mr. President, in the light of what will happen in the future, and be satisfied with that fulfillment, because to my mind we are going to have the greatest hodge-podge of taxing systems ever to come out of the untrained tax minds of local authorities. I can well see communities fighting with one another, with campaigns put on by the local civic leaders, weaning away from another community that business which can be moved, because of a better tax structure over the borough line.

Mr. President, the ills that have accursed mankind in middle Europe are directly traceable to the Balkans because of their tax walls and embargoes against each other's goods.

Mr. President, I can see in House Bill 800 the foundation for a tax wall which will cause more trouble between our local communities than any other piece of legislation to this day found upon the statute books of Pennsylvania. Some of you may disagree, and that of course is your privilege and your right. I have tried to think the matter out thoroughly. I can see my community placing a tax upon a given object or subject, and I can see my neighboring community allowing that object to go tax free, and if I know human nature, having learned a little during my few years here and if the basis of giving a manufacturer's exemption in this Commonwealth had any soundness to it at all, if there was any logic to the argument that allowed that bill to be first put upon the statute books, then the thing that industry and business is interested in is its cost of doing business as relates to the tax formula taxed against it.

So if that is the basis of industry's thinking can you not see that in the passage of House Bill 417, which as I understand it is coupled definitely to the passage of House Bill No. 800, we are creating a cancerous growth in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania which will require more than a major operation to kill or cure. I am in dead seriousness when I say to you that someone has misled you into the belief that we could continue the crazy-quilt pattern of the educational program in this Commonwealth for two more years in the hope that something will happen two years hence and the problem will not recur. Mr. President, I believe as long as we continue to do exactly what we are doing in House Bill 417, making fish out of one and fowl out of another, we will have a recurrence of this problem before the General Assembly every time it meets.

The question of a salary schedule at this moment must be subordinated to the over-all picture of the educational structure in this Commonwealth. We all know that standard teachers under this bill do not receive a salary increase sufficient to meet the every-day living costs that they must and are obliged to meet. We have in Pennsylvania three classifications of teachers for mandated salary purposes; we have the standard teacher that makes up, as I understand it, approximately forty-eight per cent of the total teacher population; then we have the college teacher and lastly we have those who have master degrees. There is a question in my mind, and one that I have not been able to solve—I can not at this moment tell the General Assembly with all honesty that I know how much difference there ought to be in the pay of a standard teacher, qualified by experience, qualified by training and continual study of her or his teaching duties, and the teacher who acquires a certain classification because through a mechanical process they have gone on to school; I do not know whether the difference ought to be $600, I do not know whether the difference ought to be $1,000 or whether the difference ought to be a nominal sum of $200. A careful study of the requirements in the classroom will give the answer to that problem. But to just sit down and arbitrarily write a figure, to set the standards and the salaries, is not to my mind a sound method of approach to this very delicate subject.

I say to the members of this Senate that the minimum salary contained in this bill is not sufficient to attract and hold in the school rooms of Pennsylvania the type of teachers we all want our children to be taught by.

The teachers have made a valiant fight during this session of the Legislature. They have tried and tried and tried to put across to the members of the General Assembly the very urgent need that is theirs in the matter of salary raises. I have a great deal of respect, Mr. President, and a very high regard, for that great number of teachers who, during the high pay and lush days of the war period stuck to their jobs at the minimum miserable wages paid in this Commonwealth. They are not being rewarded in House Bill 417.

Mr. President, I could stand before this Senate and pick out, paragraph by paragraph, the unsound legislation that is being enacted and re-enacted in this bill. I can give to the Senate, if it so desires, comparative charts on the various cities throughout the United States of two hundred thousand population and more and the percentage of state aid to those cities granted by their state governments. I could give to the Senate of Pennsylvania a comparative schedule of the subsidy amounts paid to our various sub-divisions of government in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. For the purposes of the record, in order that we do not get to the point of misquoting again, I submit to the reporter this file marked "A" for inclusion in the Journal.

I have here, Mr. President, a letter repeating a statement that I heard made over in the Educational Forum the day of the public hearing on House Bill 417. This statement is by one Alvin Fuller of Ickesburg, at the open hearing before the House Committee on Education in the Forum of the Education Building. I wish to submit this letter as an example of the crying need for a higher salary schedule in this Commonwealth. I will only read it for the information of those who are not fortunate enough to read the Legislative Journal. Let us hear what this young man has to say. In this statement, if I may add, is contained the whole philosophy of the school teacher's every-day existence.

The State Highway Department pays one hundred dollars more for a truck driver in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania than we pay a school teacher with all the added responsibility the school teacher has. You hide behind the proposition that the school teacher is employed for one hundred eighty some odd days a year, but there is no truth in that statement; the school teacher is employed because the school teacher has been accepted in the community life of all America as part and parcel of that community and an agent of that community. On every committee throughout the war we found school teachers serving without compensation, hours and hours and days and days they gave, and during peace times we find school teachers serving on all the various committees that have to do with the community welfare. The school teacher as a symbol stands for Americanism at its best. No other group within the confines of this Commonwealth gives more to the community life than the school teachers do.

Every person in this room, if he will just stop and think for a moment, can name offhand the members of the school teaching profession, in his community who are leaders and the workers in the civic enterprises in that community.

I submit to you, Mr. President, for inclusion in the Legislative Journal, this statement.

I will not go into the matter of individual salary increases but this young man gets an increase of $175. It will give him, when it is all over, I think it figures out to $62 less than that truck driver because the truck driver has been increased ten per cent.

I do not intend to read to the members of the Senate from a nation-wide chart showing the condition of public schools in the entire nation, but it is worthy of study by the men who are forced into the position of being responsible leaders of the responsible majority for the drafting of school legislation. I would be glad to give copies of this to the majority leaders who have this responsibility.

Throughout the entire session of this Legislature we have been presented with certain facts by certain leaders in the school field. I want to say now to the school teaching profession in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that I am grateful to them for the mass of information that they gave to me upon every occasion when I had need to request specific information and I want to say that at no time did they ever try to color or distort the facts as they relate to the school problem in this Commonwealth. They have pointed out very graciously the direct benefits that will accrue to the various school districts in this Commonwealth by the passage of this bill, but, by the same token, they have presented to me a graphic picture of the lack of benefits to other school districts in Pennsylvania, and that will always be so, Mr.

President, so long as we operate our school system in this Commonwealth upon a patch-work basis. This state of ours must sooner or later come to that happy state where the Commonwealth will assume its full responsibilities for minimum salary standards in this Commonwealth and, until that moment arrives, we can hope for nothing more than what we have in House Bill 417.

I do not hesitate to say that the framers of this legislation have had a hard job. I think they have worked hard. I think they have tried to resolve the problem in such a way that they could stay within the budgetary figures mandated by the Governor's office and they have had to work from a pattern already cut for them, and I am proud to be a member of the same Senate with some of these men who have made a sincere effort to reach a happy conclusion in the matter of school legislation. I do say, and still maintain, that does not take away from the legislation itself any of the features that we believe to be detrimental to the educational picture in the state.

And so, Mr. President, I hope that I have given to the members of the Senate somewhat of an insight into the plans that the minority has for this Commonwealth's educational program, if and when the minority party has to assume the responsibility of writing school legislation.

"Standard Reimbursement Fractions Determined in 1945-46 for Payments Due in 1946-1947."

Office of E. A. Quackenbush
Director of School Administration
Department of Public Instruction
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania

"April 22, 1947.

"Statement by Alvin Fuller of Ickesburg at the open hearing today before the House Committee on Education in the Forum of the Education Building:

"My name is Alvin Fuller. I have taught in the Elementary School of Ickesburg, Perry County, for the past 16 years. I have been married for 12 years. I have a daughter 10, a son 7, and a son 4.

"In addition to teaching, I take an active part in community affairs. I am a past president of the Lions' Club and am now a director in that organization, as well as active in several of its committees. I was Superintendent of our Sunday School for several years and now am teacher of the Men's Bible Class. I am a deacon in our church and am active in all church affairs. I am a mem- ber of the Perry County Boy Scout Committee and Finance Advisor of our local troop. I am chairman of a group of teachers of Perry County in Curriculum Study in Education on Pupils, Interests, Needs, and Abilities. I have been and am chairman in our district for soliciting funds for the Red Cross and the Community Chest.

"I have had as many as 68 pupils enrolled in one room, and taught them all subjects. I now have 36 pupils in grades six, seven, and eight. Last year I received a salary of $1,775, the highest salary paid to any of the seven elementary teachers employed in our district.

"I have a record of many incomes from various types of work in my community, and from these I wish to mention only a few. The State Highway Department paid a truck driver $1,874. A business concern paid another truck driver $2,122. A farm boy received $1,657 and in addition was given at least one meal each day. A farmer living on a farm with a very low valuation reported at income of $3,108. A business man who says his busiest day is Monday and who has much free time during the rest of the week reported an income of well over $4,000. And the state is now paying $96 per month, which would total $1,152 a year, to one family in relief.

"Now I would like to tell you how I spent my $1,775:

Food ($20 per week)	$1040
Rent	108
Church contributions	115
Doctors' Bills	250
Life Insurance	106
Fuel	120
Expenses for instructional and educational material ..	62
Summer school expenses	150
Clothing	250
Household replacements	50

Total $2250

"This report has not taken into consideration children's allowances, car expenses, light bills, and many other incidentals.

"You can readily see that if I must spend over $2,250 for necessities, it is necessary that I supplement my salary with additional earnings. I'll admit I do not have the time I would like, or the time I need, in my profession, for I am serving as Justice of the Peace and am also an agent for three fire insurance companies. During the months of January, February, and March I worked most of the evenings from 4 until 11, 12, and even 1, taking care of this business. If my memory serves me correctly, I had, during that time, three evenings to be with my family. By using every moment possible I was able to raise my total income to $2,639.

"It is my ambition to attend summer school and educational meetings periodically in order to keep abreast of new ideas and methods in education. This belief is shared alike by teachers, school boards, and communities.

"Surely the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania does not expect me to be penalized in order to render this service. Even though my service is in a rural area, I feel this service is the most important rendered in my community. Financially it is not reimbursed as such.

"I am speaking for those of us who yet remain as classroom teachers in the schools of Pennsylvania, who are unable to provide a satisfactory home as well as properly provide for the health and education of our own children

"I have cited only a few reasons why we ask you to support House Bill No. 417 which does contain a salary schedule and provides a standard of compensation that will approach the earnings of my neighbors in my community."

Mr. WADE. Last evening, Mr. President, it was my privilege and pleasure, even though the hour was quite late, to listen with a great deal of interest to the long discussion on this same bill that we are now considering and during that discussion I want to compliment my colleague on the other side, Senator Dent, for provoking debate that was very helpful to me and I feel helpful to my colleagues, as well as helpful to the many who were privileged to visit us and to listen to the debate as well.

Particularly, Mr. President, I was glad of the opportunity to hear the very able discussion, or should I say defense of this piece of legislation that we are now considering, by my colleague from Schuylkill, Senator Wagner. His defense of this plan that we are now considering and about to vote on was marvelous and it indicated to me that he had made a very thorough study of the issues involved.

But here today, Mr. President, I am sorry to say that for thirty-five minutes I have been forced to listen to a political speech, a speech made by the leader of the minority—perfectly within his rights, very ably delivered and perhaps very impressive to some, in which he made many implication and in which he spoke of the injustices of the plan, the unsoundness of the entire educational system in the state of Pennsylvania, and in which he viewed with alarm the entire situation in this Commonwealth. I, for one, do not share his alarm.

And I for one, when four members of the Republican side voluntarily—it might be well here to explain that after the discussion last night I asked my colleagues, including the leader of the majority side, Senator Tallman, if he or any others had delegated the duty to four men in the Senate on the Republican side, that they should come in and spend hours and hours studying this situation to find out where we stood on it and to find out what the possibilities of it were, what money we had to use and how it best could be used, how additional taxes could be raised, and all those different ramifications of the problem, and I learned that they had done it entirely voluntarily, except perhaps for the fact that Senator Homsher was assigned to be chairman of the Committee on Education in the Senate.

My colleague from Westmoreland, Senator Dent, today said that according to reports he had Pennsylvania stood thirty-second in the nation but I submit to you, Mr. President and my colleagues, that he was very careful not to tell you what report he was reading from, what other states stood above us or in what particular they stood ahead of Pennsylvania.

And then again, Mr. President, the gentleman from Westmoreland used the term several times, "other states." Very carefully I remind you, and I say that not one single time did he name a particular state. And then again, Mr. President, the gentleman from Westmoreland used the term "equalization of scholastic standards" and other ramifications. Perhaps if I were assigned to reply to his very able political discussion I would say he attempted to describe the world and its contents and foreign educational systems, because at one time he was in the Balkan states and elsewhere in the world.

We in Pennsylvania, after we settle down to a serious discussion of the problem which confronts us, must admit that this is the answer to the Republican pledge in their platform last year.

Mr. President, we find that in Pennsylvania we have some sixty thousand teachers. We find that in House Bill 417 we have allocated a total over-all amount of some $48,000,000 additional this biennium. Well, how much is that? I remember when I first came to the Legislature—and it seems but a very short time ago, in 1931, that we talked, as I remember, of a total over-all educational budget of $35,000,000. This money, together with the other money that is allocated for this purpose educationally—and I might use the term elementary education—now totals the sum of some $200,000,000 and we learn from reliable authority that forty-two per cent of every general fund tax dollar that comes to Pennsylvania is allocated for educational purposes. Add to that, if you will, the amounts contributed by the Commonwealth for the education of unfortunates such as the deaf and the blind and the appropriations to such grand institutions as the University of Pennsylvania, Temple University, the University of Pittsburgh, Penn State and others, we find that almost fifty cents out of every general fund dollar in the state of Pennsylvania goes toward improving educational standards of our citizens.

But let us return to the original statement, Mr. President. The sum of $48,000,000 additional divided by the sixty thousand teachers in the state of Pennsylvania—and I am speaking generally—is an over-all increase of $800 per teacher. To me, Mr. President and my colleagues, that is a satisfactory answer to the pledge of the Republican party; it is a satisfactory and a four-square answer to the problem.

My colleague from Westmoreland, Senator Dent, mentioned one of my constituents, Alvin Fuller of Ickesburg, Perry County—one of the bright spots of the Commonwealth because Ickesburg lies just south of the Tuscarora mountains, ten miles west of Millerstown, a town through which many of my colleagues pass on their route to and from Harrisburg, a town where living expenses are not high, and anything I say about Alvin Fuller is with the fullest realization that he is one of America's finest citizens and that we are proud indeed to have him as a citizen of Perry county, but when he compared his salary with that of a truck driver, I wonder if he realized that the truck driver's truck would be rolling over the iron bridge at Millerstown, ten miles away from his home, between six and seven o'clock in the morning and he would return over that same route perhaps as late as seven o'clock that night. Alvin Fuller is in a little different situation. He has a nice garden, he has the privilege of raising many of the things that they use in their kitchen and on their table; he has long evenings and he has a license to sell insurance and he has a reputation in his community so that the people are willing to buy from him and are glad to buy from him; he also participates in the Community Drive and in Red Cross Drives and in many other things, and not only that, but he has three and a half full months away from his chosen profession in the summer, when he can do many of these other things we are talking about. Which profession would you choose—one is as honorable as the other, but Alvin Fuller has many opportunities to earn additional dollars that the truck driver does not have.

Mr. President, let me conclude my short statebent on this bill by saying again that I think that we members of the Senate, and because of my visits with members on both sides of the Senate I know that many of the Democratic members had the same privilege of joining this group in their volunteer efforts to find a real solution to this problem, and I for one, and I feel my colleagues share this, am deeply indebted to Senator Homsher, to Senator Wagner, to Senator Berger, to Senator Hare, for the fine solution that they have brought before this Senate and on which we are privileged to vote this afternoon.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President and members of the Senate, I want to congratulate the young man on the non-political speech he made.

However, in order that he does not leave any false impressions in the minds of the visitors here this afternoon—I know he is not leaving any in the minds of the members of the Senate—I am sure they know I did not deliberately skip naming any states or cities in my remarks because I did not have the names but only because in the presentation of my discussion I did not think it would necessarily add any weight, to go through these long lists and these comparative schedules and graphs that I have to substantiate my remarks. However, let me read from the inventory of public school expenditures:

From Unfinished Business in Education by J. K. Norton and Eugene Lawler, 1946.

"Pennsylvania ranks 45th among the states in the amount of money spent per school pupil—$51 per pupil
"Pennsylvania ranks 32nd in number of children of school age not in school
"Pennsylvania ranks 32nd in quality of her education

"Pennsylvania effort as compared with her ability to pay is below the national average which is $1600 per classroom unit.

"Pennsylvania ranks second in wealth (New York first)
"Pennsylvania ranks second in population

"Pennsylvania ranks second in school children in schools
"Only 2% of Pennsylvania's wealth goes to education, Russia spends approximately 8% on education."

I hate to make odious comparisons but Russia spends eight per cent on education.

Mr. President, at this point I want to say that for many generations absolute rulers of men in countries where absolute monarchies and absolute dictatorships existed, regardless of the type of government that rules that land, have felt that to keep the average peoples in a state of ignorance and illiteracy was conducive to the health and welfare of that particular state or nation. You all know the history of Russia in the field of education and how the Czars, in their absolute control of the Russian people, kept that nation at the lowest level of any civilized nation in the world as far as literacy was concerned. It is estimated and many substantial and reliable sources of information claim that Russia had before the Revolution eighty-six per cent illiteracy. I understand from figures recently released that Russia now has less than fourteen per cent illiteracy and I predict, Mr. President, that as the educational standards in that nation rise, the fortunes of Communism will fall. I believe that an educated people will not stand for the subjugation of the individual to the absolute will of a state and that only through education can people be free.

Mr. President, the percentage of teachers paid less than $2,000 a year is as folows in the various states:

Percentage of Teachers Paid less than $2000 per year
State	1945-46	1946-47
Illinois	49.6	46.7
New York	22	21
Pennsylvania	70	50
New Jersey	31.8	26
Maryland	24.8	28.4
Indiana	55	50
Mississippi	40	35

Mr. President, I submit this information to be included in the Legislative Journal. If there is any further doubt in the mind of the gentleman who preceded me that I have the record, I will read the school schedules outside of Pennsylvania in the various cities of the nation. However, if he is satisfied, I will just submit it for the record for inclusion in the Legislative Journal.

Could it be true

Pennsylvania is trying to save face with the illusion of promotional increments?

Mr. TARR. Mr. President, I listened with a great deal of amazement to the illustration used by the gentleman from Cumberland, and that all school teachers should now become insurance agents in the Commonwealth. It is, too, with a great deal of amazement that I learn that the other side of this Senate is satisfied to rest its case on school teachers' salaries by suggesting that those teachers get outside employment. I was surprised at my good friend telling us about the truck driver who went out at six o'clock in the morning and did not return until seven o'clock at night. If that man were out that long he would make twice as much money as any school teacher in the Commonwealth and believe me, Mr. President, the school teacher does not begin his day at eight o'clock in the morning and stop at four in the afternoon. The average teacher in this Commonwealth teaches some five or six classes of twenty-five or thirty persons per day, and that in itself entails four to five hours of work every day.

I was surprised, too, that the gentleman from Cumberland stated that the school teacher had three and a half months in which he could hunt outside employment, and yet at the same time one of the reasons given for the differentiation in the salary schedule in House Bill 417 is so that there might be more incentive for teachers to spend their summer vacations in obtaining more education and becoming higher certificated. The teacher does have many opportunities in his home community but not opportunities with pay. Lo and behold, I do not know what would happen to the insurance business of this Commonwealth if we were to turn sixty thousand more persons out as life insurance agents; I do not know what could be more horrible than having every school teacher in my school district contracting me about three times a week, trying to sell me some more insurance.

Mr. President, we are on House Bill 417 and I am going to vote for the bill. I am going to vote for House Bill 417 because I believe that one-tenth of a loaf is better than no loaf at all.

However, Mr. President, we have not received $800 increase per teacher. I said last night on the floor of this Senate, and my statement was substantiated by figures, that no one will receive over $600 and the vast number would receive no increase in wages. In the third class districts the average increase will be $150 per school year—$150 for nine months, or, $150 for one hundred eighty days, is not a very substantial increase in salary.

No, Mr. President, let us correct the impression that the Senate of Pennsylvania is saying now to the teachers of the Commonwealth we are paying you enough, go out and get a job tending bar, selling insurance or digging a ditch—one hundred and eighty days a year, but remember, Mr. President, that the school teachers of this Commonwealth must live three hundred sixty-five days a year and, believe me, I know from experience that it is mighty hard to pick up a job of any importance and any dignity for three months during the summer. Oh yes, I went home the other night and on the Pennsylvania Turnpike I found a school teacher at the first Esso station on the Turnpike. His school term had ended the week before and he was working there for the summer but he was lucky that he has that job because there are not sixty thousand jobs by which teachers can supplement their income.

Again, Mr. President, what I believe to be a most important point, we are saying that the teacher must continue in school and that he must receive further preparation for his profession in the summertime, and yet how in the name of sense, can you go to college and dig onions at the same time?

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, It is my privilege today to present the position of the majority party relative to the teachers' salary and school subsidy bill now before this body.

Before I discuss the major provisions of H. B. 417, upon which we are to act today, permit me to point out that school subsidies and teachers' salaries are but two of the items in the Republican school package.

In order that all of us may get at least a fleeting glimpse of the Republican party's school program, I ask leave to disgress for a moment to call your attention to some of the other items in our school package.

My party has sponsored, and the General Assembly has given favorable consideration to a bill (1) which, if enacted into law, will provide for every child of school age the services of a qualified nurse. You who were members of this Senate in 1945 realize that the school nurse program represents but a highly desirable extension of the Health Act of 1945, which provided for thorough physical and dental examinations of all school children at the expense of the Commonwealth.

In addition, there is before the General Assembly a bill (2) which contemplates the establishment of an authority designed to facilitate the financing of new school buildings. The senators from rural Pennsylvania need not be told that the establishment of such an authority fills an urgent and acutely-felt need in many townships of this great Commonwealth.

Gentlemen, the above is but a sketchy and incomplete summary of some of the school measures before the General Assembly. It is against this background of school measures that I propose to discuss the salary and subsidy provisions of H. B. 417, the bill before us for final action.

Before I cite specific dollar amounts, I would like to point out that the mandated minimum salary schedules contained in H. B. 417 as amended by the Senate Education Committee are based upon an entirely new principle. In the past, we, as legislators reflecting the views of the folks back home, proceeded on the assumption that the services of a high school teacher were worth more than the services of an elementary teacher, and mandated minimum salaries for high school teachers were higher than those mandated for elementary teachers. Gentlemen, I submit that changes in educational practice and a fuller understanding on the part of the citizens of the important role of the grade school teacher make it mandatory upon us to wipe out once and for all the inequitable salary differentials which obtained in the past. H. B. 417 bases differences in mandated minimum salaries upon differences in the educational background of the teacher. Under the terms of the bill, a teacher who has improved or will improve his educational background is entitled to a higher mandated minimum salary. If you will be good enough to examine the pertinent provisions of the bill, you will find that the entry salaries of teachers who have completed four years of college are higher than the entry salaries of teachers who have but a normal school education. The entry salary of a teacher who holds a Master's Degree is $200 more than the entry salary of a teacher who has but a four-year college education. In addition, teachers who are holders of college certificates or Master's Degrees are entitled to eight annual increments, whereas teachers with but a normal school background are eligible for but five annual increments. I know most of you concur with me when I say that the new approach to mandated minimum salaries will encourage teachers to broaden their knowledge. Men and women with broadened, up-to-date knowledge will make better teachers for your and my children.

To avoid misunderstanding regarding the position of the Republican party, I would like to make it abundantly clear that formal education alone does not necessarily make for superior teachers. A minimum salary schedule such as is contained in H. B. 417 is based on the assumption that, on the average, the better the educational background of a teacher the more effective the teacher. There are exceptions to all rules. To take care of some of the exceptional cases, H. B. 417 provides that the State Council of Education shall establish equivalents for the formal Master's Degree. This means that any teacher who can show that he has accomplishments to his credit which are the equivalent of a Master's Degree must be paid in accordance with the schedule established for holders of such degree. Personally, I should like to see us take another step. I should like to see another provision in the bill which would permit the State Council of Education to establish equivalents for the Bachelor's Degree or college certificate. Such authority on the part of the Council would greatly benefit our teachers of vocational subjects. The teachers of vocational subjects have the important task of introducing our youngsters to the practical arts. Training in the practical arts must be encouraged and extended if the industrial position of this Commonwealth is to be made secure. If and when this bill goes to a Senate and House Committee of Conference, serious and sympathetic consideration should be given to an amendment which would give all teachers, regardless of formal educational background, the same chance to improve their mandated salary schedule. (3)

With a brief outline of the structure of the proposed salary schedule before us, let us examine the minimum salaries which H. B. 417 would mandate if it was enacted into law.

There is no generally accepted standard on the basis of which salary schedules can be appraised. As is so often the case, when we have to make crucial decisions, we must rely upon our judgment.

For your judgment, I submit the following facts: Under the provisions of this bill, a teacher employed by a second, third or fourth class district—these districts combined employ approximately 49,000 of Pennsylvania's 59,000 professional employees—will have to be paid minimum salaries, for a school year averaging approximately 180 days, ranging from $1,950 to $3,400. If a teacher has but a standard certificate he must be raised from $1,950 by means of five annual increments of $150 to $2,700. If a teacher has a college certificate, his mandated minimum entry salary is $2,000. The bill provides that the teacher with a college certificate must be raised $150 a year for eight years. In other words, the teacher in question is assured that he will eventually receive an annual salary of at least $3,200. The entry—and terminal—salary of a teacher who holds a Master's Degree is $200 higher.

Gentlemen, I would like you to compare our proposed minimum salaries with those recently established by the legislatures of two other great industrial states—Indiana and New York. I am advised that the legislature of Indiana recently established mandated minimum salaries for holders of Master's Degrees from $2,400 to $3,600. However, Indiana law fixes the mandated annual minimum increment at an average of only $50. In other words, it will take a teacher employed by an Indiana school district twenty-four years to reach the mandated top salary. All sentiment aside, if I had to choose between a teaching job in Indiana and a teaching job in Pennsylvania, I would take the Pennsylvania proposition. My choice would be made on the simple reasoning that eight annual increments of $150 in pocket are better than a long string of annual increments of $50 each, payable in the uncertain future. If I thought carefully about my choice, I would attempt to compare the employment conditions of a teacher in Indiana with those of a teacher in Pennsylvania. Making this comparison on the basis of a recently issued handbook of the National Education Association, I would discover that Pennsylvania has a law which guarantees teachers continuous tenure during good behavior, and a retirement system which calls for state and local contributions. Indiana, so I would discover by reference to my handbook, has no state-wide tenure law and no state-wide retirement system.

Let us look for a moment at the mandated salary schedule recently established by the General Assembly of the state of New York. As you know, the recently established New York schedules have been advertised by some as models for the nation.

When we examine the New York schedules, let us always remember that the per capita income of Pennsylvanians is only 75% of the per capita income of New Yorkers. I deplore this fact, but I am aware that it is not readily and easily changed by simple legislative mandate. Yet, in spite of our relative economic disadvantage as reflected by the per capita incomes of the two states, the mandated minimum schedules provided for by H. B. 417 are decidedly more attractive than the comparable New York salaries. For example, the 42,000 teachers employed by Pennsylvania's third and fourth class districts have top mandated salaries which are consistently higher than those of New York teachers employed by districts of comparable size. A teacher with four years of college preparation employed by a New York district with a population of less than 100,000 has a top mandated salary of $2,900. In Pennsylvania, under the provisions of H. B. 417, such a teacher would have to be taken to $3,200.

Within the short time at my disposal, it is impossible to make a city-by-city or district-by-district comparison. In view of the fact that we in this Senate have heard often the sometimes vehemently from teachers employed by our city districts, let me compare the salary position of teachers employed by some of these cities under H. B. 417 with the salaries which they would receive if they were employed by New York cities of comparable size. If employed in New York state by cities of comparable size, the teachers of Scranton, Erie and Reading would have to be taken up to $3,190, provided they had at least four years of college. Under the provisions of H. B. 417, Scranton, Erie and Reading teachers with a college certificate will have to be taken to $3,200. If a teacher employed by Scranton, Erie or Reading has but a standard certificate, he will have to be taken up to $2,700. Assuming that a teacher with but a standard certificate was employed by a New York city district of the size of Scranton, Erie or Reading, he would have to be taken to but $2,000. To fully appraise the significance of this difference, let me point out that only 65.2% of the teachers employed by Erie have college certificates. The comparable percentages for Reading and Scranton are 69.2% and 45.3% respectively.

Again, the New York statute provides that teachers with college certificates employed by cities having more than one million population must be taken to $3,628. The only Pennsylvania city with a population of over one million is Philadelphia. Under the schedule provided for by H. B. 417, a teacher with a college certificate employed by the school district of Philadelphia must be taken to at least $3,800. Again, in the city of Pittsburgh teachers with college certificates must be raised to $3,800. If a Pittsburgh teacher was employed by a New York city district of comparable size, his top mandated salary would be $3,190.

Gentlemen, I believe the above comparisons demonstrate that under forward-looking Republican leadership the public school teachers of Pennsylvania will be among the best provided for over the nation as far as mandated minimum salaries are concerned.

It seems to me that if we want our teachers to receive salaries in excess of the minimum salaries provided by this bill—the bill states explicitly that local boards, either on a temporary or permanent basis, may go beyond the mandated salaries—two courses of action are open to us. In the first place, when we return to our homes we can prevail upon our local school directors to voluntarily increase the salaries of men and women who teach in our public schools. I cheerfully and unhesitatingly admit that I have the pleasure of knowing many outstanding teachers who, in my judgment, are worth more than the mandated salaries for which H. B. 417 provides. Anyone who knows such teachers in his home town has ample means to see to it that they receive the salary they deserve. If his endeavors are successful, he, too, will have the privilege, as a taxpayer, to help pay for the salaries which he considers equitable. If we are going to stand here on the floor of the Senate and bleed and die for school teachers, then let us go out into the highways and byways and back home and take a similar position right in front of the folks who have to pay the bill.

If the above approach seems inexpedient, the only other course possible is an increase in mandated minimum salaries over and above the mandated minimum salaries now provided by H. B. 417. As regards this possibility, I want to say most emphatically that my Republican associates, as well as I personally, are unconditionally opposed to such a move unless further increases in mandated minimum salaries are fully covered by comparable increases in state school subsidies.

In connection with the feasibility and desirability of further increases in state subsidies to local school districts let me give you a few figures and permit me to remind you of one crucially important fact.

In 1945 the General Assembly established a new and better school subsidy system. To float the new system, which on the basis of a recent survey of educational leaders of national repute ranks first among the forty-eight states from point of view of the "attainment of desirable school finance goals," we increased school district appropriations made available on the basis of other than temporary statutes by approximately $50,000,000 for the fiscal biennium 1945-47. The bill before us, if favorably acted upon, will necessitate net additional state appropriations over and above the appropriations of 1945 of approximately $48,000,000 for the biennium 1947-49. Furthermore, those who will be members of this body in 1949 and 1951 will be called upon to vote for substantial increases in school appropriations if the subsidy provisions now contained in H. B. 417 are to be carried into effect, increases of at least $20,000,000 for each biennium.

Gentlemen, to make it possible for us to sit here and contemplate the spending of an additional $48,000,000 for our public schools, the Republican administration had to develop and sponsor a tax program estimated to produce $140,000,000 during the coming biennium. In other words, we are assigning to the public schools more than one-third of the anticipated yield of our new taxes, which we introduced in spite of the opposition of some of those who now propose further increases in school subsidies. Let him who is sincere about further increases in state subsidies at this time stand up and name the taxes which he is willing to support and which will produce the funds needed.

During the debate on H. B. 417, it has been alleged by members of the minority party that the very system under which we make school subsidy payments is inequitable. I wish to take this opportunity to challenge and refute the claims of the minority.

I might just repeat what I said a while ago: on the basis of a national survey made by educational leaders of national reputation, Pennsylvania ranks first among the forty-eight states as regards the adequacy and equity of its school subsidy system. However, I am not going to ask the members of this body to take such an important statement on faith. With your permission, I shall explain the essential features of the system.

Under the new subsidy system, the Commonwealth pays to every school district the difference between a legislatively stipulated amount—$1,800 under the law of 1945—and the yield of a five-mill tax upon the assessed valuation per teaching unit. (A teaching unit is 30 elementary school or 22 high school pupils in average daily membership). However, no school district may receive less than $600 per teaching unit. In other words, under the law as it now stands, a school district which has $100,000 of assessed valuation per teaching unit can raise $500 per teaching unit and therefore must receive $1,300 per teaching unit from the state. A school district which has only $50,000 per teaching unit can raise only $250 per unit by means of the imposition of a five-mill tax, and therefore the district must receive $1,550 per teaching unit from the state. You can readily see that this system makes equalization of basic educational opportunities throughout the Commonwealth an established fact.

Last night we were told that the minimum subsidy of $600 was not adequate. I do not wish to debate this contention, but I do wish to read two paragraphs into the record.

Only 78 of Pennsylvania's 2,543 school districts receive the minimum subsidy, which under present law is $600. Among these districts are Pittsburgh and Philadelphia. Pittsburgh has an assessed valuation of $344,400 per teaching unit. Philadelphia has an assessed valuation of $304,090 per teaching unit. The typical district in the state has an assessed valuation of approximately $60,000 per teaching unit. If it were not for the proviso in the law which guarantees to every district at least $600 per teaching unit, Pittsburgh would be entitled to only $78 per teaching unit. Philadelphia would be entitled to only $280 per teaching unit. Inasmuch as Pittsburgh has 2,659 teaching units and Philadelphia 8,161, Pittsburgh is "overpaid" to the extent of $1,492,396 per year, and Philadelphia is "overpaid" to the extent of $2,611,520 per year. Inasmuch as both Pittsburgh and Philadelphia have more than five times as much taxable real estate per teaching unit as the typical district, why in the name of heaven should there not be a substantial difference between the subsidies given by the state to the cities of Pittsburgh and Philadelphia and to the typical district?

Again, it has been contended on the floor of this Senate that the system does not work equitably because real estate assessments are not uniform throughout the Commonwealth. I am the first one to admit that our assessments lack desirable uniformity. The lack of uniformity was called to the attention of the General Assembly by the School Commission in its 1945, as well as its 1947, reports. However, I submit that the admitted inadequacy of our real estate assessment constitutes no indictment of our reimbursement system. The fact that greedy men counterfeit the coin of the realm and that ignorant men accept counterfeit coin is not an indictment of our currency system. But here again the Republican party has assumed leadership. As you know, there is before the General Assembly a bill (4) which provides for the establishment of a Tax Equalization Board, among other things, to determine the market value of taxable real estate for school reimbursement purposes.

H. B. 417 liberalizes the reimbursement provisions of Act 403, Session of 1945, to which it is an amendment. Under the terms of H. B. 417, school subsidies payable during 1947-48 for the school year 1946-47 will be recomputed on the basis of a maximum subsidy of $2,200 instead of $1,800, and a minimum subsidy of $700 instead of $600. The recomputation will be made on the basis of a local effort rate of six mill instead of five mill. All this means that in 1947-48, school districts will receive larger state appropriations than they had anticipated. The increase in state appropriation per teaching unit will range from $100 to close to $400. The poorer the district in terms of taxable real estate, the larger the increase in state appropriation per teaching unit.

This arrangement carries out the pledge in the Republican platform which stated emphatically, "We favor equality of basic educational opportunity for every child in Pennsylvania."

Mr. President and gentlemen of the Senate, I have asked the School Commission to prepare for me certain materials which I believe will prove helpful to you. My mention of the School Commission makes me pause and say, parenthetically, that I have no comment on the fact that the School Commission is going out of business. I do not propose to comment on the fact that criticism has been leveled at the School Commission for what they did or did not do. However, I want to say that educators can be everlastingly thankful that there was a School Commission in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and politicians can be equally thankful, because the School Commission has developed plans, statistics and formulas which, if realistically used, will help us to solve school problems in a constructive and realistic manner as they confront us.

As I was going to say before, the School Commission has prepared for me a two page summation of what H. B. 417 will do. You will want this summation for your files, you will want it for your discussions back home, and you will want to give copies of it to your local newspapers. I think the people, regardless of political affiliation, will want to know what the General Assembly of 1947 has done for our public schools.

When all is said and done, the people back home will judge the program which we sponsored.

PRINCIPAL FEATURES OF H. B. 417, PRINTER'S No. 970

I. Mandated Minimum Salaries and Increments

A. Mandated Minimum Salary Schedule for Second, Third and Fourth Class Districts which Employ Approximately 49,000 Teachers

Type of Certificate or Degree	Entry Salary	Size of Annual Increment	No. of Annual Increments	Entry Salary Plus Increments
Standard*	$1,950	$150	5	$2,700

College or equivalent ...	2,000	150	8	3,200
Master's or equivalent ...	2,200	150	8	3,400

B. Mandated Minimum Salary Schedule for First Class Districts which Employ Approximately 10,000 Teachers

Type of Certificate or Degree	Entry Salary	Size of Annual Increment	No. of Annual Increments	Entry Salary Plus Increments
Standard* ...	$2,175	$200	5	$3,175
College or equivalent ...	2,200	200	8	3,800
Master's or equivalent ...	2,400	200	8	4,000

* The practice of issuing standard certificates for classroom teachers was discontinued in 1932.

It is not mandatory upon a school board to pay increments to a teacher serving her probationary period of two years.

C. Transfer of Teachers from Present Schedule to Schedule Provided by H. B. 417 as Amended

1. Teachers now in service receiving compensation equal to or in excess of the new entry salaries provided for by H. B. 417 must be raised to the next highest step on the applicable schedule, unless such increase shall be less than one full increment, in which case the recipient shall be raised to the next high step on the applicable schedule.

2. Holders of standard certificates receiving less than the entry salaries provided for by H. B. 417 must be raised to the new entry salary, but in no case shall the increase in compensation be less than one full increment.

3. Holders of college certificates receiving less than the new entry salaries provided for by H. B. 417 must be raised to the new entry salaries plus one full increment.

For example, the holder of a standard certificate employed by a second, third, or fourth class district and now receiving $2,175 must be raised to $2,400 for the school year 1947-48. Similarly, the holder of a college certificate employed by a second, third or fourth class district and now receiving $2,175 must be raised to $2,450 for the school year 1947-48. The holder of a standard certificate employed by a second, third or fourth class district and now receiving $1,500 must be raised to $1,950. The holder of a standard certificate now receiving $1,900 must be raised to $2,050. The holder of a college certificate now receiving $1,900 must be raised to $2,150.

II. State School Subsidies

Under H. B. 417, as amended, subsidies payable in 1947-48 for the school year 1946-47 will be re-computed on the basis of $2,200 per teaching unit and a local effort rate of six mills, but no school district will receive less than $700 per teaching unit. This means that during the coming school year all school districts will receive larger State appropriations than would have been payable under present law. The largest increases in appropriations will go to the poorer districts. For example, a district with $10,000 of assessed valuation per teaching unit will receive an increase of $390 per teaching unit; a district with $200,000 of assessed valuation per teaching unit will receive an increase of $200 per unit; and the typical district which has $60,000 of assessed valuation per unit, will receive an increase of $340 per unit.

The increases in State appropriation per teaching unit payable in 1947-48 can be readily calculated by subtracting the yield of a one-mill tax upon the district's assessed valuation per teaching unit from $400. For example, a district with $60,000 of assessed valuation per teaching unit could raise $60 by the imposition of a one-mill tax; $60 subtracted from $400 equals $340; therefore, the district's increase in State appropriation per teaching unit payable in 1947-48 equals $340.

The detailed subsidy schedule for the current and subsequent years is as follows:

School Year	Maximum Subsidy per Teaching Unit*	Minimum Subsidy per Teaching Unit
1946-47	$2,200	$700
1947-48	$2,300	700
1948-49	2,400	800
1949-50	2,500	800
1950-51 and thereafter	2,600	800

*All subsidies to be computed on the basis of a local effort rate of six mills, except subsidies for vocational school districts, for which the local effort rate of three mills, established in 1945, is retained.

In addition to subsidies on account of instruction, pupil transportation, high school tuition, adult extension education, education of home-bound children and vocational education, which have been made available heretofore, H. B. 417, as amended, provides for Commonwealth reimbursement on account of elementary tuition. Also, under the bill, small high schools which meet certain conditions receive special reimbursement consideration.

Furthermore, the bill provides for extension of the so-called "freezing clause" for the school year 1947-48. Under the terms of the extended "freezing clause," Commonwealth payments to any one district during 1947-48 on account of the instruction of pupils may not be less than the payments made to the district during 1945-46 on account of the salaries of full-time members of the teaching and supervisory staff of the district.

III. Increases in Commonwealth Cost

For the biennium 1947-49, the provisions of H. B. 417, as amended, will increase Commonwealth costs on account of school subsidies $48,000,000 over and above the appropriations made by the General Assembly in 1945. It is estimated that H. B. 417, as amended, will call for net additional Commonwealth appropriations on account of subsidies of at least $20,000,000 for the biennium 1947-51 and at least $22,000,000 for the biennium 1951-53 over and above the appropriations for 1949-51.

In addition to the above increases in Commonwealth appropriations on account of school subsidies, Commonwealth appropriations on account of school employees' retiremen will have to be increased in proportion to increases in salaries.

1. Bill referred to is H. B. 1090, which passed both houses and was approved by the Governor.

2. Bill referred to is S. B. 581, which passed both houses and was approved by the Governor.

3. The Senate and House Committee of Conference amended H. B. 417 in accordance with Senator Wagner's suggestion. Subsequently both the Senate and the House of Representatives accepted the amendment of the Committee.

4. Bill referred to is S. B. 770, which passed both houses and was approved by the Governor.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I listened with a lot of interest to the remarks of the gentleman from Cumberland, Mr. Wade, in which he spoke about the comparison between when he came to the House in 1931, and what was given to the schools in 1931 and what is given to the schools today. We all know that in 1931 we were in the depths of the Republican depression. Mr. President, I do not think the gentleman from Cumberland, Senator Wade, would like to go back to his earnings of 1931 and neither would any other member of the Senate.

The gentleman from Schuylkill, Senator Wagner, spoke about other taxes, and that is according to the general routine of the Senate in the two terms I have served when, at the last minute of the session, they lament the fact that they do not have the proper legislation on the books to raise the money to give to the teachers. In every session of the Senate in which I have served I have presented during the first week of the session a bill for a graded income tax, about which Senator Wagner spoke. Such a bill was presented this session again by me and that bill for some reason or another, although many tears are spent over it the last days of the session, the only tears that I know that affect it were the tears of the pickling bin that the Republican party has left it lay in for the entire session, and yet if a graded income tax bill had been passed we could have raised a proper amount of money so as to give to the teachers a proper salary.

Much has been said about mandated salaries. I am more interested in what salaries teachers actually receive today and will receive in the next biennium. After all, it is easy for us to mandate salaries and then go back to the local communities and say "You raise the money"; in other words, that the Board of Education of Pittsburgh or of Philadelphia must raise the taxes to pay the teachers. You say that the teachers in one school district shall be paid by the teachers of the other school district, so in reality we tax the teachers to pay for their own raises and that is exactly what we are going to do.

The gentleman from Schuylkill, Senator Wagner again—and this is getting to be very tiresome, when again, we hear in the last days of the session that we have not corrected a great evil in Pennsylvania, the incorrect assessments, the dishonest assessments, and he compares the wealth of a teacher unit in Pittsburgh and Philadelphia with the average wealth of a teacher unit in the state. That is a very bad and improper and dishonest comparison because when he compares that he compares it with a dishonest assessment. yes of ten per cent in some cases and fifteen per cent of true value. Pittsburgh and Philadelphia have full value assessments and therefore you are going to, as usual, punish us who are honest in our assessments and give to the dishonest districts more money than they are entitled to get.

Speaking about how schools should be taxed, I am going to read to you from an article entitled, "Financing Education for a New World"—and I want you gentlemen on the other side of the chamber to listen attentively because it comes from a source that you as a rule follow, the Chamber of Commerce. Mr. President, this address was given—and I am not going to read the entire address but only excerpts from it, by Dr. Thomas C. Bushall, President, the Bank of Virginia, Richmond, and chairman of the Committee on Education in the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. He says here, speaking as the Chamber of Commerce:

"The alert and advanced business man of today is discovering the educational process as his greatest hope of expansion; his greatest bulwark against any declining support of the American way of life; his greatest weapon with which to defeat the march of Socialism or Communism around the world.

"Business has taken off its colored glasses through which it saw education with a tint of red around the edges or in the middle.

"We are all seeing now that as the mass of people throughout the land rise in their capacity to develop technical skills, we can introduce more machinery on the farm, in the forest, in the mine, at sea, in the factory, and on the road, where mobile equipment can be used. We see that this machinery can be more complex and automatic when operated by an intelligent, understanding individual who education has opened his mind to greater perception and abler execution.

"Again we see that such people, so educated, are making a greater contribution to the production of goods and services by using their better polished brains over their heretofore limited use of straining brawn. Finally, the business man is seeing that no matter the able technical capacity to contribute to production and to earn greater income, unless the individual is likewise being taught cultural concepts that develop intense appetites for better clothes and homes, better food and recreation, better surroundings, and wider opportunity for travel, then the technical skills will only be used to earn just enough to keep body and soul together. But given a parallel step-up in cultural wants, the trained technical operator will exert himself to earn the money with which to satisfy the cultural desires.

"It isn't a long jump for the business man's imagination to get out in front and himself plump for the proposition that better education of our whole people means an abler group of producers, earning more money with which to buy a greater variety and quantity of better goods and services."

Now we come to the place wherein he speaks about how education should be financed in this new world of ours.

"We must come back then to the greatest beneficiary of the educational process—business itself. We can properly suggest that the increasing beneficiary pay the increased cost, just as the gasoline tax was put on to pay only for the roads and for no other cause in most of the soundly financed states.

"The third point then is how to apply such a tax on an equitable basis. What considerations should govern in determining an equitable distribution of this cost? How can we allocate to each business venture its proper pro rata part?

"We find the precedent already set in the gasoline tax. There the automobile operator pays a 6c tax on every gallon that he proposes to use.

"If an employer has but one employee, he can only benefit to that degree. If an employer has 10 or 100 or 1000 times more.

"In my state of Virginia, as an example, I am advised that $18 million is required for currently needed additional equipment and salaries to put education on a proper modern basis. We have 900,000 employed persons in Virginia. This 900,000 (the number of workers) divided into 18 million (the number of dollars) comes out $20 per employee. Hence the employer of one person could pay $20 per annum educational use tax and the employer of 100 people would pay $2000.

"No doubt the costs would vary in each state, and likewise the number of employed persons. The educational use tax on employers might then range for 5 to 10, 30 or $40, as the case in each state might require.

"In such a method we find an equitable distribution of the cost to be borne by the greatest beneficiaries of the results obtained from the added educational expenditures."

In other words, gentlemen, education must be the same in every part of Pennsylvania because, after all, we know those men who are educated in rural districts come into our factories and mills in our large cities and if they do not have the same type of education they can not take their places in this complex age and compete with men better educated. As a man is better educated he is a better worker and as he is a better worker he produces more and as he produces more he makes more profit and the beneficiary of that profit is the employer.

Therefore, since we are educating workers to work and to produce and make more profits in this capitalistic system, therefore I say the employers of Pennsylvania should pay pro rata to the number of workers the cost of teaching in Pennsylvania. You say that this would be very costly. It would not be very costly because if education is properly given, if education is afforded every man, woman and child in Pennsylvania, their cultural wants will be greater and they will buy more things, their taste for things will be better, and all along the line the manufacturers of Pennsylvania shall gain, regardless of whether they are workers or buyers, and I say to you on the other side that this type of financing and those who advocate this type of financing teachers' salaries, I say to you that we on this side of the Senate who do not have any debt to pay back to the Manufacturers' Association of Pennsylvania, are in a position to carry this plan through to actual acts on the statute books.

The gentleman from Cumberland, Senator Wade, has talked about the truck driver who, he stated, was working fourteen hours a day. If that is true and the state of Pennsylvania is working truck drivers fourteen hours a day, I shall see tomorrow that the Department of Labor of Pennsylvania investigates and finds out whether or not that truck driver is being paid proper wages for his fourteen hours of work, or seventy hours a week. I might add that I know that is not true, when he makes that statement, because the truck drivers of Pennsylvania, working for the state or a community, are paid on an eight-hour basis, and it might be called portal-to-portal pay, because they are paid from the time they get on the truck until they bring it back in at night.

Here is an example, getting away from truck drivers, and I believe the gentleman from Schuylkill, Senator Wagner, objected to comparing teachers with manual workers, and I believe one of the reasons why he does not want to compare teachers to manual workers is that the teachers may awaken to the fact that manual workers in Pennsylvania, even without proper legislation through their collective bargaining methods, are securing more money than the teachers of Pennsylvania.

I want to read to you from an editorial published by the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette under date of June 12, which is entitled, "The Value of Education", in which it is stated

"Two notices received yesterday from the Pittsburgh Civil Service Commission will be of interest to the June graduate as a significant commentary on the value of higher learning.

"The notices told of competitive examinations to be conducted late this month for two jobs open with the city.

"One of the positions to be filled is that of operator of a street sweeping machine. The educational requirement is completion of the eighth grade, or equivalent. Salary: $3,177 per annum.

"The other position open is that of park naturalist in the Parks and Recreation Department. The lucky candidate must be a college graduate in natural science, or equivalent. Salary: $2,329.

"In these official bulletins we detect further evidence of a trend which threatens to bankrupt the nation's unorganized professional and white collar workers."

And I wish the gentleman from Delaware, Senator Heyburn, who has in this session introduced bills to destroy collective bargaining in Pennsylvania would listen to this part of it:

"The city has to pay the street sweeper $3,177 a year because it can't get him for less. And when he gets tired of that, he can demand more. But the expensively educated park naturalist, setting up programs for nature education and recreation, will, we suppose, go dreamily on communing with nature in professional freedom and genteel poverty," because he believes he is above joining a union for collective bargaining to better his wages.

For the advice of the Senate, a teacher to secure $3,127 must work fifteen years before he can receive the enormous sum of $3,177 which a sweeper gets the first year he starts to work.

And I say to you that regardless of how you dress up House Bill 417—and I want to warn the teachers that House Bill 417, like other bills introduced in this Senate, like bill No. 403 was—the first time it was a fine bill for the teachers and then other bills were introduced that were not as good as the original bill and then all the teachers of Pennsylvania arose to oppose this bill and that bill but they were in favor of House Bill 417 but, as always occurs, the other bills go back to committee and the bad things in those other bills are put in the bill of the popular number which has appealed to those teachers—in this case House Bill 417.

Let me tell you teachers you are not getting in House Bill 417 what you think you are getting. You are getting, as usual, just promises, another licking and a lot of tears about what they would like to do but can not do.

So I ask my side of the Senate to vote against House Bill 417 and let us have a show down now and I also say to the other side of the Senate, since they are crying about not being able to put in a graded income tax, I have permission of the minority side to say to you we shall stay in session just as long as it takes to take the first step on a graded income tax in Pennsylvania, so that in the years to come we can come back here and pay the teacher by the state and not under the guise of propaganda now being spread by the manufacturers, who are trying to get out from under paying taxes.

Home rule means only one thing, going back to the community and adding more taxes on the poor man who owns a home. You may think you are getting this and getting that but let me say to you now, and I use the same expression you used in the last election—I think we have had enough.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I am going to be very brief because I think the gentleman from Westmoreland, Senator Dent, as our floor leader, summed up this school teacher problem and House Bill 417 in just about the fashion that suits me.

Mr. President, this bill reminds me a great deal of the Hartley-Taft Bill which has been sent over to President Truman to sign, and which I hope and pray in the interests of this country he will not sign.

They used the old system used in every Republican Legislature, they put a few good features in a bill and then they run in all the bad stuff and say here it is, take it or leave it, and try to embarrass those who will not vote for the bad features that are in the bill.

I just want to take a moment in behalf of the citizens of the city of Pittsburgh who I happen to represent, which is entirely a first-class school district. I for one repeat, as I said last evening, I do not care to have gentlemen who represent rural counties sit here and very quickly vote to put a per capita tax, and a personal property tax and a mercantile tax on the people in Pittsburgh so that they can benefit in their counties.

I do know the Constitution calls for education to be a statewide proposition. I do know we in Pittsburgh like to pay our share to the poorer districts in the state, but let me tell you, Mr. President, it is not the poorer districts that are helped under House Bill 417. The cities receiving the larger subsidies are cities like Williamsport, Norristown, York and some of the other rich communities, and not the ordinary rural districts of this state.

As I said last evening, there is $48,000,000 involved in this bill, but I do not want the teachers to think that $48,000,000 is being given to them by this session of the Legislature because there is only $27,000,000 being given to them by this session of the Legislature, because $21,000,000 of this money was put through by Act 403 which was passed two years ago.

Am I not correct on that, Senator Wagner?

Mr. WAGNER. New appropriations.

Mr. BARR. I know but that was an act of the Legislature two years ago, so consequently this session of the Legislature has only given them $27,000,000 additional and the other was an obligation from this act that was passed two years ago, which, in my opinion and which I have often said, was the worst act ever passed by this General Assembly.

Mr. President, I attended a dinner for the members of the Board of Education in the city of Pittsburgh and immediately after dinner they called on the various members of the House and Senate from our county for some comment on school legislation this year and I said I thought the education formula under Act 403 was a most incorrect thing and that the first-class districts were the ones that suffered most. I was immediately accused by the member of the School Commission who Senator

Wagner upheld, who said that I was talking nothing but in a political tone so consequently I withdrew and said, all right, I will have no more to say. But now I am saying to you that under this bill, which has in it approximately $48,000,000 of appropriation, the first-class school district which I represent, which pays one-sixth of the taxes to this state, will receive back in the next biennium a total of $755,000.

Mr. President, I remember the Republican campaign slogan last year, when they went around saying "Have you had enough?" I say to the people of Pittsburgh and to the teachers of Pennsylvania—have you had enough?

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I find myself between Scylla and Charybdis. This bill, when it left the House, was like a white dove; tonight we find it like a black raven. As a Philadelphian I fully realize the school teachers receive nothing in Philadelphia, but as a Pennsylvanian, I realize some districts will benefit from it and for that reason, much as I dislike to do so, I will have to vote in the affirmative.

Mr. DI SILVESTRO. I believe, Mr. President, I will save my remarks on House Bill 417 for the proper time, in the proper place; I wish it could be a Roman Forum so that I could speak to thousands of voters. I am going to vote for House Bill 417 because all the teachers in my district have asked me to vote for House Bill 417.

It has been said, Mr. President, that the teachers do not know that House Bill 417 has been amended. Well, I do not know whether they do or not but I am trying to satisfy the wishes of my constituents. I will make up a schedule and I will send to you, Republicans and Democrats—I will not take up your time now—but you are all welcome to a schedule of the different places I shall go and speak on House Bill 417.

Mr. CARR. Mr. President and gentlemen of the Senate, I turn to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, Article 10, Section 1, where I find, under "Education"—

"The General Assembly shall provide for the maintenance and support of a thorough and efficient system of public schools, wherein all the children of the Commonwealth above the age of six years may be educated, and shall appropriate at least one million dollars each year for that purpose."

That is what the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania says about the Commonwealth providing for and supporting education in the state. That does not mean, in my opinion that the Commonwealth as such is masdated the supreme duty of providing through the state treasury for the maintenance of our system of education.

The Commonwealth is masdated the duty to provide government for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and provides it through the various forms of county, city and local government. We would not be willing, any of us, to interpret that mandate as providing there should be no local participation in government and I say similarly that in so far as education is concerned, the mandate of the Constitution is being abided by, when we make the provision that we do as a state for subsidizing a large portion of the cost of that education, and then making reasonable provisions whereby our local communities may provide the additional funds necessary to guarantee to every child in this state above the age of six years a good education.

Mr. President, there has been a great deal of talk here tonight, much of it, in my opinion, largely on the political side. It seems to me rather unfortunate that an issue such as this should become a political football, should become something to be kicked about in the hope that thereby some of us may gain just a little better political preference or in the hope that the outs within a couple of years may become ins. I say to you, Mr. President, I think this thing should be kept on a much higher plane of argument than it has been here this evening.

We would be taught to believe by some of the opposition—that the Commonwealth should assume the duty of raising the taxes and then handing them out to the local communities. I say to you the philosophy of government in which I believe has this as its fundamental basis, that the further you take taxation away from the individual who is taxed the worse that system of taxation becomes, for when a man knows it is going to cost him one dollar to provide something in the line of government he is going to think long and hard before he determines on the necessity of that thing which otherwise he might think was a great thing to have.

We have been told here tonight a great deal about the suffering in our two great cities, and I admire those cities for what they are, for what they have been and for what contributions they have made to our national life and to the life of this world, they are great centers of industry, beehives of activity, and yet I point to the fact that without the farmers, without the little communities throughout this state, they could not exist for a year at a time. The life blood of those cities comes from all over the state and to attempt to divide this state and say this is Pittsburgh, this is Philadelphia and this is the outland is, to my way of thinking, not based upon the great ideal of Americanism, that is, one for each and each for all, and I say to you, my friends, if it were not for the fortunate situation in which those cities find themselves geographically, they might even today be hamlets such as even today exist elsewhere in the world. When you talk about the cities of Pittsburgh and Philadelphia paying eighty per cent assessment, who knows that that is an eighty per cent assessment, who can tell us it is a just assessment, who can tell us they are suffering because their assessment is what it is? I say to you my friends, that Pittsburgh and Philadelphia alone do not make up Pennsylvania and throughout the rest of the state there are some communities, past which I drive on many occasions, whose resources are gone forever, little communities still struggling to maintain their existence today because the very life blood upon which they were founded and upon which they live has been drawn into the factories and mills of the cities of Pittsburgh and Philadelphia and they are living like skeletons of life now, they must have help, and I say to you, my friends, that they are entitled to help, and if the state of Pennsylvania did not realize that, did not make it possible that they continue their existence, we would not be living up to the high tradition that we as Pennsylvanians have been taught to believe is the meaning of American citizenship in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen of the Senate, there has been some talk about how little we are doing for the school teachers in this bill. I point you back to 1939, when the gentlemen who are yelling so loudly here this evening were in full control and the mandated salary at the time was the magnificent sum of $800, and making all the allowances you can for the difference in the value of the dollar at the present time in comparison with what it was then, I say to you that we in this present House Bill 417 are being far more liberal than they were at that time.

I say this, Mr. President, that we do not think House Bill 417 is the ultimate aim—we have an aim far beyond that and we are going to reach that aim some time, but everything can not be done in a single day or a single hour.

I want to congratulate the school teachers of Pennsylvania for the magnificent work they have been doing. I want to say that I am just as sincere a friend of every school teacher in this state of Pennsylvania as any other gentleman that sits in a seat in this Senate and I want to say I have done everything I possibly could under the circumstances to help them to get that to which they are rightfully and justly entitled. I want to say, in addition to that, if it were possible for me, by anything that I might do, to give them still more than that which they are to receive from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in the next two years, I would be glad to do that very thing, and I am sure that I speak the sentiments of every man on the right side of this Chamber when I say that we are just as anxious, we are just as desirous as the men on the other side are to do the thing that ought to be done for those who have been our teachers.

I have said to some individuals in private, and I am not ashamed to say it upon the floor of this Senate, that any school teacher who could be deceived by what has been said here tonight by those who are not in a position to do the things they claim they would do, is not fit to be one of those who are given the opportunity to educate the children of our state and our nation.

So, Mr. President, I conclude my remarks by saying I am not ashamed to go back home and face the teachers in my community, I am not ashamed to tell them we have done what we believe to be the fair thing for them. I have not been afraid to tell them in the past that I represent not only the school teachers of my community but that I represent every citizen in that community and that the primary objective of what I am doing, and what I expect to do as long as I am a member of this body, is to make possible for the children of this state the best possible education that they can have, and if that means higher salaries for the teachers, I am for higher salaries for the teachers, but above all there are to be considered in this matter, not only the school teachers, God bless them, but the citizenry of this state as well, and above both teacher and citizenry, the future citizenry of this state, the boys and the girls who are going to take your place and mine upon the field of battle when in the years that are not too far distant we shall have folded our tents and gone to that place from which no traveler ever returns.

Mr. WOODRING. Mr. President and members of the Senate, after that indictment by the gentleman from Butler of the men on the minority side I hang my head with shame and refrain from making further remarks.

It seems to me that we certainly get far afield when a member of this Senate has the temerity to suggest that only those who sit across the aisle have it in their power to do for the people of Pennsylvania. There are fifty senators provided for under the Constitution of Pennsylvania and those Senators represent the ten million people that make up the great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and it is not in the power of any one group to say it is the power in the Legislature of Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, there are a lot of things about this school bill I would like to talk about but I am going to keep in mind the lateness of the hour and the fact that there has been a great deal of talk gone over the bar.

Mr. President, may I have order?

The PRESIDENT. The Senate will be in order; the Senator is entitled to be heard.

Mr. WOODRING. Thank you, Mr. President.

Mr. President, there has been some talk about political speeches in the discussion on House Bill 417. I think that is true. I think our floor leader got very slightly on the political side, and I know that the gentleman from Cumberland, Senator Wade, certainly got away over on the political side, but I think perhaps that is necessary. I think that when a member of the majority side gets up and reminds us that back in 1939, when Mr. James was Governor of Pennsylvania, that salaries were $800 in fourth-class districts, I think it is time for the people of Pennsylvania to think politically and I think all the teachers here and all over the state got that message, that it was the Republican party that had control of this Commonwealth, and I mean control, for fifty years or so before, which led up to that period and era when school teachers were receiving the munificent sum of $800 a year, so that it is necessary to think politically on this question. It is necessary, when we think of the school teachers' problem, to think politically, when we realize there were bills in this session of the Legislature to trim off and cut down on the security of the teachers today under tenure as provided by our laws and to make them once more political footballs to be kicked around at the whim and will of each newly-elected board. It is good to think politically sometimes when it affects the problem at hand.

There is one other political feature in this that ought to be brought out, and this is in answer to the remark made by one of the majority members that this Legislature, in addition to House Bill 417, did adopt a school authority bill which would assist in the building of school houses. That is true, but if this Legislature had seen fit to continue the General State Authority we would have $89,000,000 available for school purposes, in addition to the $48,000,000 in the Governor's budget because we have taken from our budget $89,000,000 for mental health hospital construction. I think we ought to think politically on all these things. I do not want to go overboard on that but I want to offer a few constructive ideas before retiring because this might, and I hope will be, my last appearance on this Senate floor—one of my colleagues said that two years ago in speaking on Bill No. 403 and it came to pass and maybe it is a good omen and I thought I might as well take advantage of it.

Mr. President, I think the difficulty of our whole problem here, and I mean this very seriously, is that we start off in our approach to this on the wrong foot. We start out, first of all—if my good friend from Butler, Senator Carr, was correct in his statement that it is only that side of the Senate that has the power to do things for the people of Pennsylvania—that is the wrong premise in the first place—there should have been cooperation of the keenest and most intellectually honest kind in the approach to this problem which is of so much importance not only to the present generation but for generations yet unborn in Pennsylvania, there should have been cooperation all the way down the line on this problem, and I think the public has the right to know, and it ought to be written into the record, that no time was the minority side ever considered in any discussions on conferences on this very important problem and that despite the fact that the same minority side presented in complete form and stands recorded on a complete educational program of its own, which was not considered.

Then too, there is a big mistake in the approach to a problem as large and as serious as this one, when we apply the principle of Lazarus getting crumbs from the rich man's table.

The Governor and I find no fault with him personally, I have the greatest admiration and respect for him, but the Governor followed the pattern set by former Republican governors and he took so much out of the bag, in this case he said $48,000,000, and he threw it on the table and he said scramble for it, there it is, divide it any way you want. There is no intelligent planning for a problem as important as our educational system, there is no important planning for a problem as acute as our teacher shortage problem is acute and important and we should not fall into those errors again.

My private thought on the whole question is that we have accomplished something by House Bill 417 and I am going to vote for it. I know the teachers statewide are not satisfied. It is not the best we could have done because had we used the state authority we could have done much more, we could have accomplished and fulfilled our purposes and ambitions. I hope that in the manner of planning, when this same question recurs in 1949, that we will avoid the pitfalls that we fell into this time.

Mr. HARE. Mr. President, Article 2, Section 33 of the Constitution declares that when a Senator has a personal private interest in legislation pending before the House he shall make that interest known to the House and request that he not be voted thereon. Mr. President, I so request.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Somerset will be so recorded.

Mr. DONLAN. Mr. President, Article 2, Section 33 of the Constitution declares that when a Senator has a personal private interest in legislation pending before the House he shall make that interest known to the House and request that he not be voted thereon. Mr. President, I so request.

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, I want to make a brief statement, just as brief as possible.

Last night we mentioned a breakdown of the provisions of House Bill 417 being prepared and that breakdown is now completed and copies have been placed on the member's desks this evening. Since then there has been an amendment made to the bill, so that on the first page under the item "Entry Salaries and Increments, for standard certificates—under item "b" on Page 1—the entrance salary in first-class districts for a teacher with a standard certificate is $2,175 and the size of the annual increment is $200 instead of $175; number of annual increments five; entrance salary plus increments $3,175."

I think that each of the Senators and some of the newspaper men have copies of this statement which is correct, in the present reading of House Bill 417, with that one schedule adjustment.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

BILL ON THIRD READING DEFEATED ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 798, entitled:

An Act to amend the act approved the first day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 1358) entitled "An act relating to chattel mortgages on any chattel or chattels of any kind or description including but not limited to livestock poultry farm machinery farm equipment and crops grown growing or to be govern designating the operation and effect of the lien of such mortgages providing for the filing indexing and docketing of such mortgages and related instruments in prothonotaries' offices and prescribing prothonotaries' fees providing for the filing in Pennsylvania of similar lien instruments originally filed or recorded in other states regulating the assignment release satisfaction and extension of the lien of such mortgages prescribing methods of foreclosure defining defaults and violations and fixing penalties" providing that chattel mortgages need not be acknowledged nor witnessed

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WILSON: Mr. President, I merely want to take enough time to register my opposition and vote against this bill. I am opposed to amending the act so that it is not necessary to have a chattel mortgage under seal—that is House Bill 798—and that is all there is to it—it makes it too easy for people to come up to the country and fix papers that are not correct, and I have lived in the country for over half a century and I have had enough of that kind of business to take care of.

I am going to vote against this bill.

Mr. WOODRING. Mr. President, the gentleman from Jefferson has convinced me and I ask my colleagues to vote "no."

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

HOUSE MESSAGE

SENATE BILL NO. 94 RETURNED WITH AMENDMENTS

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, returned to the Senate, Senate Bill No. 94, entitled:

An Act to fix the salaries and compensation of the judges of the Supreme Court, the judges of the Superior Court, the judges of the courts of common pleas, the judges of the orphans' courts, the judges of the Municipal Court of Philadelphia, and the judges of the County Court of Allegheny County; and repealing certain acts inconsistent herewith.

with the information that the House has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

The PRESIDENT. The bill as amended, will appear on tomorrow's Calendar.

BILL ON THIRD READING AMENDED

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 800, entitled:

An Act empowering cities of the second class cities of the second class A cities of the third class boroughs towns school districts of the second class school districts of the third class and school districts of the fourth class to levy assess and collect or to provide for the levying assessment and collection of certain additional taxes for general revenue purposes authorizing the establishment of bureaus and the appointment and compensation of officers and employees to assess and collect such taxes and permitting penalties to be imposed and enforced providing an appeal from the ordinance or resolution levying such taxes to the court of quarter sessions and to the supreme court and superior court.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend page 1, line 6 of the title by inserting after the word "taxes" and before the word "for" the following: "subject to maximum limitations;" Amend page 2, line 5, by inserting after the word "resolution" and before the word "for" the following: "to raise an amount not in excess of the maximum which could be raised on real estate by any such political subdivision by the application of the maximum millage allowed it by law applied to the then assessed value of its taxable real estate".

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading, as amended?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer additional amendments.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Section 1, page 2, line 9, by inserting after the word "subdivision" the following: "except the natural resources;" Amend Section 1, page 3, line 11, by inserting after the word "subdivision" the following: "except the natural resources".

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, the purpose of this set of amendments is to make sure that the local tax bodies will not place a severance tax on natural resources. We, I believe, are committed to a program, over a long period of time, against any severance taxes upon coal in this Commonwealth. It has been tried on numerous occasions and has always been found to be a condition that can not be tolerated in a competitive market. If any community can tax coal as it comes from the ground you will find Pennsylvania coal operations at a distinct disadvantage in the competitive field. There is no limit whatsoever. And even applying the formula that will be allowed under the present bill, with the amendments that have been accepted by the Senate, you will find that any tax placed upon coal will give to Pennsylvania industry a very decided disadvantage.

I therefore request, Mr. President, that a vote be taken on the amendments.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I ask for a roll call.

(During the calling of the roll the following occurred:)

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, these being very important amendments and not having heard several members answer to their names when the roll was called, I shall ask that the roll be verified.

Mr. BECKER. Mr. President, may the Senate be at ease?

(The Senate was at ease.)

The PRESIDENT. The Clerk will verify the roll.

(During the verification of the roll the following occurred.)

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, having voted under a misapprehension, I desire to change my vote from "aye" to "no."

The PRESIDENT. The vote of the gentleman from Crawford will be so recorded.

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, for the same reason I would like to change my vote from "aye" to "no."

The PRESIDENT. The vote of the gentleman from Schuylkill will be so recorded.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I rise on a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Cambria will state his point of order.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, what is the order or business now?

The PRESIDENT. The order of business is the roll call and the Clerk will verify the roll if the Senator will just wait a moment.

The PRESIDENT. Request has been made to have the roll verified.

The Clerk will call the name of those recorded as having voted in the affirmative.

Barr,	Hare,	Letzler,	Stiefel,
Carr,	Holland	Mallery,	Tarr,
Crowe,	Jaspan	Margie,	Walker,
Dent,	Klein,	Rahausen,	Wilson,
DiSilvestro,	Lane,	Rosenfeld,	Wood, T. N.,
Haluska	Leader,		Woodring,

The PRESIDENT. Are there any corrections? The Chair hears none. The affirmative roll will stand as verified.

The Clerk will call the names of those recorded as having voted in the negative.

Becker.	Farrell,	Mahany.	Wade,
Berger.	Frazier,	Scarlett,	Wagner,

Blass, Chapman, Doehla, Donlan,

Geltz
Heyburn Kephart,
Lord,

Snowden, Stevenson.
Tallman,
Taylor,

Watson,
Wolfe,
Wood, L. H.,

The PRESIDENT. Are there any corrections? The Chair hears none. The negative roll will stand as verified.

The PRESIDENT. The vote on the amendments: ayes 23, nays 22, and the amendments fail of passage.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. WOODRING. Mr. President, what was the ruling of the Chair as to passage of the amendments?

The PRESIDENT. The amendments fail of passage.

Mr. WOODRING. Mr. President, I rise on a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Northampton will state his point of order.

Mr. WOODRING. Mr. President, I believe on a vote on amendments a simple majority is sufficient to carry the vote?

The PRESIDENT. That is correct.

Mr. WOODRING. Mr. President, the affirmative vote was 23 and the negative vote 22.

The PRESIDENT. The Clerk will announce the vote again.

(The Clerk announced that the "ayes" were 23 and the "nays" were 22.)

Mr. WOODRING. Mr. President, and the amendments do what?

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. WOODRING. Mr. President, I rise on a point of inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Northampton will state his inquiry.

Mr. WOODRING. Mr. President, I understand the roll has been verified?

The PRESIDENT. That is correct.

Mr. WOODRING. What is the ruling of the Chair with regard to the adoption or rejection of the amendments?

The PRESIDENT. The ruling of the Chair is that the Clerk will audit the count; the Clerk has a right to verify the count.

(The Senate was at ease)

Mr. WOODRING. Mr. President, in view of the apparent confusion temporarily I will ask that the Senate recess for five minutes.

The PRESIDENT. The Senate will be at ease, if the gentleman does not mind.

MOTION THAT SENATE RECESS

Mr. WOODRING. Mr. President, I move that we have a recess for five minutes for a minority caucus.

The PRESIDENT. The Senators will take their seats; all persons not entitled to the floor will kindly withdraw. The Senate will be in order. Will the Senators please take their seats.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Northampton, Senator Woodring.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, as it is the desire of the Chair that we do not recess in order that we may caucus on the matter, we withdraw the motion.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator withdraws his motion. The Senate will be at ease.
(The Senate was at ease.)

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Cambria, Senator Haluska, who desires to make a short statement.

Mr. HALUSKA.. Mr. President, first I wish to state my position; when I asked for a verification of the roll call it was not with the intention of putting anybody on the spot—that has been my practice in all sessions on close votes, with no malice in my mind—and now, because of the importance of the amendment and because of the confusion, I now ask, Mr. President, that the Senate dispense with the old roll call and have a new roll call taken on this matter.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The Clerk will call the roll.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. HALUSKA and Mr. BARR and were as follows, viz:

Barr,	Hare,	Mahany,	Wagner,
Carr,	Holland,	Mallery,	Walker,
Crowe,	Jaspan,	Margie,	Wilson,
Dent,	Kephart,	Rahauser,	Wolfe,
DiSilvestro,	Klein,	Rosenfeld,	Wood, T. N.,
Donlan,	Lane,	Stiefel,	Woodring,

Blass,	Frazier,	Scarlett,	Wade,
Chapman,	Geltz,	Snowden,	Watson,
Crider,	Heyburn,	Stevenson,	Wood, L. H.,

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading, as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended, lie over for printing on final passage.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill o. 814, as follows:

An Act to amend section two of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P L. 806) entitled "An act limiting the number of licenses for the retail sale of liquor malt or brewed beverages or malt and brewed beverages to be issued by the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board defining hotels and prescribing the accommodations required of hotels in certain municipalities" by removing certain restrictions for a limited period of time as to the licensing of veterans' organizations

Section 1 Section two of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 806) entitled "An act limiting the number of licenses for the retail sale of liquor malt or brewed beverages or malt and brewed beverages to be issued by the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board defining hotels and prescribing the accommodations required of hotels in certain municipalities" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 2 licenses shall hereafter be granted by the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board for the retail sale of malt or brewed beverages or the retail sale of liquor and malt or brewed beverages in excess of one of such licenses of any class for each one thousand inhabitants or fraction thereof in any municipality exclusive of licenses granted to hotels as defined in this act and clubs but at least one such license may be granted in each municipality except in municipalities where the electors have voted against the granting of any retail licenses Nothing contained in this section shall be construed as denying the right to the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board to renew or to transfer existing retail licenses of any class notwithstanding that the number of such licensed places in a municipality shall exceed the limitation hereinbefore prescribed but where such number exceeds the limitation prescribed by this act no new license except for hotels as defined in this act and veterans' clubs as hereinafter provided shall be granted so long as said limitation is exceeded Any branch post camp or chapter of a veterans' organization Nationally chartered by the United States congress or any subsidiary thereof chartered as such by the National Organization whose active and voting membership is the same as such branch post camp or charter which files a proper application together with the required fees and bond within eighteen months after the effective date of this act may be licensed any time after its incorporation whether or not it shall have been in existence and operation for a period of one year.

Section 2 All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL ON THIRD READING DEFEATED ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1217, entitled:

An Act prohibiting sales of cigarettes below cost and to protect and stabilize tax collections defining and prohibiting unfair sales of cigarettes conferring powers and imposing duties on the Department of Revenue and persons as herein defined engaged in the sale of cigarettes at retail or wholesale providing remedies for violations thereof and imposing penalties

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I am not going to take too much time of the Senate on this bill but it involves one of the principles that were before the people last year in the national and the state elections. This is a price-fixing measure, to set and fix prices to be charged for cigarettes at a certain minimum.

Mr. President, I do not believe the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has the prerogative of setting any prices, whether the item be cigarettes or any other item, since it has always been the contention of the majority party, in so far as I understood it, that it would be interference with free enterprise. The nation had its share of price-fixing during the war, for purposes that we thought were justified, in order to distribute at a reasonable figure the quantities of commodities that were available at the time.

However, Mr. President, at this time this is neither an essential commodity nor is there any scarcity of this item, and there is no emergency at hand. Mr. President, there can be nothing behind this bill except to insure to certain distributors and agencies that sell cigarettes a profit and a guarantee that cigarettes will be sold to the public over and above the price necessary to guarantee a profit. If you do it with cigarettes then I can assume you also will do it with pop or any other item sold today.

I therefore say, Mr. President, this is a strange departure for the Republican majority to be taking, in passing legislation that is contrary to all the campaign slogans that they had last year, notably and chiefly among them being that one of "Have you had enough?"

I am wondering whether or not the Republican majority in Washington has been notified that the Republican majority in Harrisburg is doing what they took so much credit for undoing, that is, taking away from the OPA its price-fixing privileges.

Therefore, Mr. President, I am going to ask that this particular bill be defeated.

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, I have some misgiving about the sincerity of the remarks of the gentleman from Westmoreland, as to his attitude and the attitude of his colleagues with regard to price fixing because, if I recollect accurately, the gentleman from Westmoreland just within the last few days voted in favor of the so-called auto-gyp bill, which in part contained within it principles which are similar to the ones involved in this bill.

Mr. President, I want also to direct to the attention of the gentleman from Westmoreland that in 1941 this legislature passed a general bill of this very nature, which was approved on August 11, 1941. I want to suggest and point out, Mr. President, that that bill was a bill of a general nature, covering all unfair sales, and that the reason for the passage of that bill, and its enactment finally, was, in the interest of the merchants of Pennsylvania so that they could not be harmed by what are commonly referred to as loss leaders carried in the way of merchandise.

One of the reasons for the advancement of this bill, primarily, was that you could not practically and well write amendments to the existing law to cover this situation of cigarettes. And I want to say, Mr. President, that regardless of what may be said as to the policy involved in the bill, there certainly is nothing wrong with the idea that those people in Pennsylvania who are engaged in the business of selling cigarettes, merchandising them, are entitled to every bit of the protection that they can receive from invasion of their business rights by people from without the state of Pennsylvania who are going to come in here and produce cigarettes and put them into the market in order to make a loss leader situation develop in Pennsylvania.

I say for those reasons, Mr. President, this bill should be supported.

Mr. DENT. I just want to assure the members of the Senate that I will let the Senate be the judge of my sincerity.

I answer the assertion of the gentleman from Lehigh, that I voted for the auto-gyp bill—and he certainly can not compare the sale of cigarettes and the circumstances surrounding the sale of cigarettes in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania with the sale of automobiles today in this Commonwealth. That auto-gyp bill was put in to protect buyers in a strained market, this emergency, if you want to call it that, because of the inability to produce and build as many cars as the public is demanding, and that has made it a natural for those persons in the automobile game who deliberately take a brand-new automobile and drive it across a lot and call it a used car and thereby increase the price anywhere from $500 to $1,500 per car. The auto-gyp bill had within it no price fixing features other than the prices set by the manufacturer upon his particular item. There is nothing in the auto-gyp bill which does anything except exactly what the title and the name implies—it tries to protect against gypers in the automobile field.

The question of legislation in 1941 is very true. At that time there was a great demand on the part of the people of this Commonwealth because, just as the gentleman explained, certain chain outfits were able to buy great quantities of goods and throw them out for sale as loss leader items and therefore, in order to try to eradicate that evil and protect the neighborhood grocer, we suggested legislation that would help the independent grocer. However, the party that is now passing this piece of legislation was at that time the chief opponent of that legislation.

Mr. President, getting down to the truth of the whole matter, exactly the condition has arisen that we called your attention to when the cigarette tax was put on during this session. I said that tax was completely out of line because by so taxing that item it might destroy, and it is destroying in this situation, the very market you hoped to derive your market from, because our tax now upon a pack of cigarettes is four cents over beyond and above anything reasonable in the manner or method of taxing, and that is the whole purpose behind this bill. We know we weakened the structure of the market which sells cigarettes and we are trying to bolster that with false props; we are trying to say that we will guarantee a profit, just so that people in Pennsylvania do not buy cigarettes somewhere else.

Mr. President, there is no justification for this kind of legislation.

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, I have only one brief remark to make, and it has to do with this bill as well as prior remarks made on this subject during the course of this session.

It is rather amazing, it seems to me, that this afternoon we hear from the other side of this Chamber, at great length, talk about inequity to the school teachers and their disagreement with what was done, and now, when we are asking support for a measure which will help to raise the revenue that we anticipate, will be needed, the gentlemen on the other side seem to be against that legislation, without which this Commonwealth can not get the revenue which it needs for those things which ought to be done.

Mr. ROSENFELD. Mr. President, just one observation: as I look through this bill I note that the word "cigarettes" was removed and "any other produce" substituted, so that it will cover any subject you desire, so that we could have an unfair fish act next, perhaps, or anything you might decide to pass, to cover this situation.

I am not going to discuss the question of the effect it may have on the tax situation because I do not think that is important as far as this bill is concerned. I think the important thing here is the principle involved and I can envision, four years from now, we may decide to pass a similar act, except probably it will be an unfair liquor sales act, and then I wonder what our Liquor Control Board will do if it decides to use leaders to get rid of old stock on hand.

I think in principle this is wrong, and for that reason should be voted down.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

(j) Upon the surrender or revocation for cause of the license of any user or upon the expiration of temporary emergency licenses the department shall return surety bonds for cancellation or deposits made in accordance with the provisions of this section only after it is satisfied that all fuel taxes penalties interest fees and fines due the Commonwealth under the terms of the bond and the provisions of this act have been paid

Section 4 Imposition of Tax Exemptions An excise tax at the rate of four cents (4c) a gallon is hereby imposed on all users of fuel upon the use as herein defined of such fuel by any person within this Commonwealth when such fuel is used in whole or in part in an internal combustion engine for the generation of power to propel motor vehicles of any kind or character on the public highways to be computed in the manner hereinafter set forth in this act The tax herein imposed shall not apply on fuels not within the taxing power of this Commonwealth under the Commerce Clause of the Constitution of the United States Provided That the tax herein imposed and assessed shall be paid to the Commonwealth but once in respect to any fuels provided further however That no tax is hereby imposed upon (1) any fuel that is used by the United States Government or (2) upon any fuel brought into this State in the fuel supply tank of the motor vehicle directly connected to the motor or (3) upon any fuel used in farm machinery or equipment engaged in the production or harvesting of farm or agricultural products involving the use of the public highways within a ten (10) mile radius of the domicile of the owner of the machinery or the equipment

The tax shall be payable upon fuels used by the Commonwealth and the political subdivision thereof

Section 5 By Whom Tax is Payable Every user of fuels upon which a tax is imposed by this act shall pay the tax into the State Treasury through the department in the manner and within the time specified in this act It shall be the duty of each user to furnish to the department such information concerning such use as the department may require

Section 6 Licensed Users' Reports and Payments of Tax Discount Allowed Interest and Penalties For the purpose of ascertaining the amount of tax payable under this act it shall be the duty of every user on or before the last day of each month to file with to the department upon forms prescribed prepared and furnished by the department a report under oath or affirmation of the fuels used by him within this Commonwealth during the preceding month This report shall include all such information as the department may require and prescribe A user having more than one place of business within this Commonwealth shall combine in each report the use of fuels at all such separate places of business

Every user at the time of making every report required by this section shall compute and pay to the department the tax due to the Commonwealth on fuels used by him during the preceding month Fuels not accounted for to the satisfaction of the department shall be deemed to have been used for taxable purposes and taxes imposed thereon and collected by the department

If the report required herein is filed and tax paid on time a discount of two per centum (2%) of the gross amount of tax shall be allowed the licensed user

The amount of all taxes imposed under the provisions of this act for each month shall be due and payable on the last day of the next succeeding month and shall bear interest at the rate of one per centum (1%) per month or fractional part of a month from the date they are due and payable until paid

If any user shall fail neglect or refuse to make any report or payment as herein required an additional ten per centum (10%) of the gross amount of tax shall be added by the department and collected as hereinafter provided and in addition thereto the license and facsimiles thereof of such user may forthwith be suspended or revoked by the department and required to be surrendered to the department

Section 7 Determination and Redetermination of Tax Penalties and Interest Due (a) If any user shall fail neglect or refuse to secure a license as provided in this act the department shall estimate the tax due by such user and determine the amount due by him for taxes penalties and interest as prescribed herein from which determination there shall be no right of review or appeal

(b) In the event a licensed user shall fail neglect or refuse to file a report and pay the tax imposed by this act or if the department is not satisfied with the report and payment of tax made by any licensed user under the provisions of this act it is hereby authorized and empowered to make a determination of the tax due by such licensed user based upon any information within its possession or that shall come into its possession.

(c) Promptly after the date of any such determination the department shall send by registered mail a copy thereof to such licensed user. Within thirty (30) days after the date of any such determination such licensed user may file with the department a petition for redetermination of such tax. Every petition for redetermination shall state specifically the reasons which the petitioner believes entitle him to such redetermination and shall be supported by affidavit that it is not made for the purpose of delay and that the facts therein set forth are true. It shall be the duty of the department within ninety (90) days after the date of any petition to dispose of any petition for redetermination. Notice of the action taken upon any petition for redetermination shall be given to the petitioner promptly after the date of action on petition by the department.

(d) Within thirty (30) days after notice by the department of the action taken on any petition for redetermination filed with it the licensed user against whom such determination was made may by petition request the Board of Finance and Revenue to review such action. Every petition for review filed hereunder shall state specifically the reasons upon which the petitioner relies and shall be in such form as the Board of Finance and Revenue may prescribe. The petition shall be supported by affidavit that it is not made for the purpose of delay and that the facts therein set forth are true. The Board of Finance and Revenue shall dispose of such petitions filed with it within ninety (90) days after they have been received and in the event of the failure of said board to dispose of any such petition within ninety (90) days the action taken by the department upon the petition for redetermination shall be deemed sustained. The Board of Finance and Revenue may sustain the action taken on the petition for redetermination or it may redetermine the tax due upon such basis as it shall deem according to law and equity. Notice of the action of the Board of Finance and Revenue shall be given by mail or otherwise to the department and to the petitioner.

(e) The department or any person aggrieved by the decision of the Board of Finance and Revenue or by the board's failure to act upon his petition for review within ninety (90) days may within sixty (60) days appeal to the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County from the decision of the Board of Finance and Revenue or from the decision of the department as the case may be in the manner now or hereafter provided by law for appeals in the case of tax settlement.

(f) The department is hereby empowered to redetermine taxes and to authorize adjustments on current fuels use tax reports of licensed users of overpayments within ninety (90) days of due date and payment providing information in the department's possession warrants such adjustment.

Section 8 Examination of Records and Equipment. The department or any employee appointed in writing by it or any officer of the Pennsylvania State Police is hereby authorized to examine the books and records of account storage tanks motor vehicles and any other equipment of any user dealer wholesaler carrier or any other person pertaining to the use sale or delivery of fuels taxable under this act to determine the use or for the purpose of ascertaining whether or not the tax imposed by this act has been paid or to verify the accuracy of any report or payment made under the provisions of this act or to determine the financial responsibility of any user or the accuracy of any financial statement required to be submitted to the department under the provisions of this act or regulations of the department.

The secretary or his deputy is hereby authorized and shall have the power in the enforcement of provisions of this act to hold hearings to administer oaths to witnesses and to take the sworn testimony of any person and cause it to be transcribed into writing.

The secretary or his deputy is hereby authorized to issue subpoenas and subpoenas duces tecum and compel the attendance of witnesses and shall have the power to conduct such investigations as he may deem necessary. Provided however That if any person shall refuse access to such books and records of account or other documents or any equipment or if any person shall fail or refuse to obey such subpoenas or subpoenas duces tecum or shall fail or refuse to testify before the secretary or his deputy then the secretary or his deputy shall certify the names and facts to the court of common pleas of any county and the said court shall enter such order against such person in the premises as the enforcement of this act and justice shall require.

Section 9 Regulations Registration of Dealers and Wholesalers Retention of Records by Users Dealers Wholesalers and Carriers Reports Required of Dealers and Wholesalers (a) The secretary shall have the authority to prescribe all forms upon which reports shall be made to the department and any other forms required for the proper administration of this act and shall prescribe and cause to be published all needful rules and regulations for the enforcement of this act.

(b) Dealers and wholesalers selling or intending to engage in the sale of fuels taxable under this act shall register with the department on forms prescribed and furnished by the department upon request whereupon the department shall issue a certificate or certificates to the dealer or wholesaler which are to be conspicuously displayed at the dealer's or wholesalers' places of business. These certificates shall not be assignable or transferable and shall be surrendered to the department upon discontinuance or transfer of business.

Penalty Any dealer or wholesaler failing neglecting or refusing to register with the department or any person assigning or attempting to assign or transfer a registration certificate or who shall fail to display his registration certificate or certificates as required by this act shall upon summary conviction before a magistrate be sentenced to pay a fine of one hundred dollars ($100) for each offense together with costs of prosecution and at the discretion of the court be sentenced to undergo imprisonment for not more than thirty (30) days for each offense.

(c) Every user and dealer shall maintain and keep for a period of two (2) years complete records of fuels received used sold or delivered within this Commonwealth by such user or dealer including suitable books and records of accounts and duplicate copies of material requisitions sales tickets delivery tickets purchase orders invoices and bills which shall show the use or the date and name business and address of the person to whom sale or delivery was made together with bills of lading purchase invoices inventory records and such other pertinent papers as may be required by regulation. Every wholesaler and carrier shall keep similar records with respect to sales and deliveries of products capable of being used as fuels.

Penalty Any person violating any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall upon conviction thereof be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than one hundred dollars ($100) nor more than one thousand dollars ($1000) and costs of prosecution or to undergo imprisonment for not more than one (1) year or both at the discretion of the court.

(d) The department may require dealers other than distributors holding permits under the Liquid Fuels Tax Act to prepare and transmit to it not later than the last day of each month on forms prescribed and furnished by the department reports of sales and deliveries to users of fuels taxable under this act as it deems necessary for the enforcement of this act. Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1337, as follows:

An Act to further amend section one and three and to add section four to the act approved the seventh day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-seven P. L. 859) entitled "A supplement to the act approved the twentieth day of June one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (P. L. 521) entitled 'An act providing for the imposition and collection of certain taxes upon the transfer of property passing from a decedent who was a resident of this Commonwealth at the time of his death and of property within this Commonwealth of a decedent who was a nonresident of the Commonwealth at the time of his death and making it unlawful for any corporation of this Commonwealth or national banking association located therein to transfer the stock of such corporation or banking association standing in the name of any such decedent until the tax on the transfer thereof has been paid and providing penalties and citing certain acts for repeal' imposing additional taxes equal to Federal credits" further providing for determination of the estates subject to the Pennsylvania Estate Tax the computation thereof and the collection of interest upon tax not paid when due and providing for crediting any taxes paid on account of the Pennsylvania Estate Tax to any additional transfer inheritance tax assessed against an estate

Section 1 Sections one and three of the act approved the seventh day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-seven (P. L. 859) entitled "A supplement to the act approved the twentieth day of June one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (P. L. 521) entitled 'An act providing for the imposition and collection of certain taxes upon the transfer of property passing from a decedent who was a resident of this Commonwealth at the time of his death and of property within this Commonwealth of a decedent who was a non-resident of the Commonwealth at the time of his death and making it unlawful for any corporation of this Commonwealth or national banking association located therein to transfer the stock of such corporation or banking association standing in the name of any such decedent until the tax on the transfer thereof has been paid and providing penalties and citing certain acts for repeal' imposing additional taxes equal to Federal credits" as last amended by the act approved the fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-three (P. L. 864) are hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 1 Be it enacted etc That in order that the Commonwealth may receive the full benefit of section three hundred and one (b) of the Federal Revenue Act of one thousand nine hundred and twenty-six or any other legislation of a similar kind or enacted for a like purpose which grants a credit on the Federal estate tax for estate succession and transfer inheritance taxes paid to the State government an estate tax to be known as the Pennsylvania Estate Tax is hereby imposed upon the estate of every person who at the time of his death is a resident of the Commonwealth and on every estate the situs of which is in Pennsylvania of any person who at the time of his death is a resident of a foreign country provided such estate is in the class of estates which under the laws of the United States is subject to a Federal estate tax Such estate tax shall be in addition to any tax imposed as a result of the death of such [resident] person under the provisions of the transfer inheritance tax law of this Commonwealth approved the twentieth day of June one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (P. L. 521) to which this act is a supplement The said Pennsylvania Estate Tax upon the estate of every decedent as aforesaid shall be computed as follows The aggregate transfer inheritance taxes due under the act to which this act is a supplement shall first be ascertained Provided That the amount of such aggregate taxes due shall be reduced by the amount of any discount allowed under the act to which this is a supplement To such amount there shall be added the amount of any estate inheritance legacy or succession taxes actually paid to any other State or territory or the District of Columbia or any possession of the United States in respect to any property owned by such decedent subject to such taxes as a part of or in connection with his estate The sum resulting from such addition shall then be deducted from an amount equal to the amount of the maximum credit allowable to the estate of the decedent by the Federal Estate Tax Law or laws for estate inheritance legacy or succession taxes paid to any State or territory or the District of Columbia or any possession of the United States The remainder if any shall constitute and be the Pennsylvania Estate Tax upon the estate of the decedent The tax imposed by this act shall be collected in accordance with the provisions of the act to which this act is a supplement

Every executor administrator or person in actual or constructive possession of the property of an estate subject to the tax imposed by this act shall within thirty days after the filing of his her or its return with the Federal Government for Federal estate tax purposes file a copy of such Federal return with the register of wills of the proper county and shall within thirty days after the receipt by him her or it of any communication from the Federal Government making any final change in the said return or confirming increasing or diminishing the tax thereby shown to be due file a copy of such communication with the register of wills of the proper county The Commonwealth shall have authority in any estate taxable under this act to act to make a provisional estimate for the payment of taxes to the Commonwealth on account and to make an appraisal of the taxes due by any estate under this act when the amount of the Federal tax has been finally determined

Section 3 Any tax imposed under the provisions of this act shall become due and payable at the expiration of eighteen months from the date of death of the decedent If the tax is not paid when due interest at the rate of six per centum per annum shall be charged and collected from the time the same became payable except that if the basic Federal estate tax has been or is increased by the Collector of Internal Revenue or by any other agency or court of the United States and if as a result the Pennsylvania Estate Tax imposed by section one hereof is increased interest shall be computed on the additional tax from thirty days after the proper parties have received final notice of the increase in the Federal Estate Tax until paid Where real or personal estate withheld by reason of litigation or other unavoidable cause of delay from the parties entitled thereto subject to such additional estate tax has not been productive to the extent of six per centum per annum the proper parties shall not pay a greater amount as interest to the Commonwealth than they have realized or shall realize from such estate during the time the same has been or shall be withheld as aforesaid Provided That proof thereof is furnished the Department of Revenue and is satisfactory to the department

Section 2 Said act is hereby amended by adding at the end thereof a new section to read as follows

Section 4 If after the payment of the Pennsylvania Estate Tax imposed by the act to which this is an amendment there shall be assessed an additional transfer inheritance tax not taken into account in determining the amount of the Pennsylvania Estate Tax previously determined and paid so much of the Pennsylvania Estate Tax as had been previously determined and paid as may be necessary shall be credited against any such additional transfer inheritance tax so assessed

Section 3 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

Section 6 Assessment on failure to pay tax procedure for assessment review (a) If any person shall fail to pay any tax imposed by this act for which he is liable the department is hereby authorized and empowered to make an assessment of additional tax due by each person based upon any information within its possession or that shall come into its possession

(b) Promptly after the date of such assessment the department shall send by registered mail a copy thereof to the person against whom it was made. Within ninety (90) days after the date upon which the copy of any such assessment was mailed such person may file with the department a petition for reassessment of such taxes. Every petition for reassessment shall state specifically the reasons which the petitioner believes entitle him to such reassessment and it shall be supported by affidavit that it is not made for the purpose of delay and that the facts set forth therein are true It shall be the duty of the department within six (6) months after the date of any assessment to dispose of any petition for reassessment Notice of the action taken upon any petition for reassessment shall be given to the petitioner promptly after the date of reassessment by the department

(c) Within sixty (60) days after the date of mailing of notice by the department of the action taken on any petition for reassessment filed with it the person against whom such assessment was made may by petition request the Board of Finance and Revenue to review such action Every petition for review filed hereunder shall state specifically the reason upon which the petitioner relies or shall incorporate by reference the petition for reassessment in which such reasons shall have been stated The petition shall be supported by affidavit that it is not made for the purpose of delay and that the facts therein set forth are true If the petitioner be a corporation joint-stock association or limited partnership the affidavit must be made by one of the principal officers thereof A petition for review may be amended by the petitioner at any time prior to hearing thereon as hereinafter provided The Board of Finance and Revenue shall act finally in disposition of such petitions filed with it within six (6) months after they have been received and in the event of the failure of said board to dispose of any such petition within six (6) months the action taken by the department upon the petition for reassessment shall be deemed sustained The Board of Finance and Revenue may sustain the action taken on the petition for reassessment or it may reassess the tax due upon such bases as it shall deem according to law and equity Notice of the action of the Board of Finance and Revenue shall be given by mail or otherwise to the department and to the petitioner

(d) Any person or the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania aggrieved by the decision of the Board of Finance and Revenue or by the Board's failure to act upon his petition for review within six (6) months may within sixty (60) days appeal to the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County from the decision of the Board of Finance and Revenue or from the decision of the department as the case may be in the manner now or hereafter provided by law for appeals in the case of tax settlement

(e) In all cases of petitions for reassessment review or appeal the burden of proof shall be upon the petitioner or appellant as the case may be

(f) Whenever any assessment of additional tax is not paid within ninety (90) days after the date thereof if no petition for reassessment has been filed or within sixty (60) days from the date of reassessment if no petition for review has been filed or within sixty (60) days from the date of the decision of the Board of Finance and Revenue upon a petition for review or the expiration of the Board's time for acting upon such petition if no appeal has been made and in all cases of judicial sales receiverships assignments or bankruptcies the department may call upon the Department of Justice to collect such assessment In such event in a proceeding for the collection of such taxes the person against whom they were assessed shall not be permitted to set up any ground of defense that might have been determined by the department the Board of Finance and Revenue or the courts as aforesaid The department may also provide adopt promulgate and enforce such rules and regulations as may be appropriate to prevent further shipment or transportation of syrup or bottled soft drinks into this Commonwealth by any person against whom such unpaid assessment shall have been made

Section 7 Sale stamps or crowns agents commissions discounts advances

The department shall prescribe prepare and furnish stamps or crowns of such denominations and quantities as may be necessary for the payment of the tax imposed and assessed by this act The department shall make provision for the sale of such stamps or crowns in such places and at such times as it may deem necessary

The department may appoint persons within or without the Commonwealth as agents for the sale of stamps or crowns to be used in paying the tax herein imposed upon syrup or bottled soft drinks and whenever the department shall sell consign or deliver to any such agent any such stamps or crowns for sale or use such agent shall be entitled to receive as compensation for his services and expenses as such agent and to retain out of the moneys to be paid by him for such stamps a commission of one-half of one per centum on the face value thereof The department is hereby authorized and required to allow such commission or compensation in the settlement of the accounts of such agent upon payment by him into the State Treasury through the department of any moneys which may be or become due to the Commonwealth by reason of the sale delivery or consignment to such agent of such stamps or crowns

The department is hereby authorized and required to allow to each purchaser of tax stamps or tax crowns a discount of eight (8) percentum of the purchase price of the tax value of stamps or crowns purchased upon the payment by him into the State Treasury through the department of any moneys due to the Commonwealth by reason of the sale delivery or consignment to such purchaser of such stamps or crowns

The said discount shall be allowed by the department in lieu of any claim for refund by reason of (1) the breakage or destruction of containers stamped or crowned as provided in this act in possession of the purchaser or (2) the loss or destruction of tax stamps or tax crowns

The department is hereby authorized and required in proper cases and upon application to advance to manufacturers and bottlers of syrup or bottled soft drinks tax crown or tax stamps for a period not exceeding thirty (30) days in such amount or of such tax value as shall be determined by the department upon consideration and determination of the following (1) the applicant's satisfactory credit rating (2) the applicant's average monthly rate of use of stamps or crowns and (3) the applicant's average monthly credit extension on accounts receivable for syrups or bottled soft drinks sold The department shall further require the applicant to file a bond in the form prescribed by the department in twice the amount of the tax value of the stamps or crowns to be advanced

Section 8 Manner of affixing stamps

And said bill having been read at length the third time,
On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I just want to let the Democratic Senators at least know what this bill is. This is an old friend come back after having had a hair cut, but that does not change the picture except to make it look a little different. This is the same bill that was before us a few weeks ago, putting a tax on soda pop and simple syrups—someone has suggested to me in an undertone it is a simple tax.

Mr. President, the only thing I have to say in this matter is that this bill represents a bad piece of legislation and no matter how it is amended or changed it will still represent and unthoughtful, uncalled for, punitive and discriminatory tax.

I say to the members of the Senate that then the Democratic minority called attention to the fact that the original bill was faulty and badly drafted and contained within its structure certain features that would cause the courts to suspicion, and suspect that it would not be declared constitutional, and therefore, Mr. President, this bill is now before us again, doing exactly what the Democratic minority tried to do—we called to your attention that no matter how partisan you may be, you must still recognize that the courts of the land will always review our work. This is still a bad bill and still ought to be voted down.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

HOUSE BILL No. 26 CALLED FROM THIRD READING POSTPONED CALENDAR

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I call from the Third Reading Postponed Calendar, House Bill No. 26, for consideration at this time.

Mr. President, I would like to say, in explanation to the members of the Senate, that this bill has been held on the postponed calendar because the same phraseology is in the Penal Code, which passed the Senate and was sent over to the House and in case the Penal Code does not get to the Governor's desk I would like to have the opportunity of having the Senate pass on this legislation.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 26, as follows:

An Act to further amend the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE
ON HOUSE BILL No. 826

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I submit the report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 826, entitled:

An Act relating to strikes by public employes, providing that such employes by striking terminate their employment; providing for reinstatement under certain condition and prohibiting strikes by public employes.

The PRESIDENT. The report will lie over for printing under the rules.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, this report has been signed only by the majority members, and not by the minority members.

RECESS

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess for thirty minutes.

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. President, I second the motion. The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed the Senate will be in order.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. HALUSKA asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Lehigh.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Lehigh permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TALLMAN. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. HALUSKA. I would like to ask the gentleman from Lehigh whether or not he can inform the members of the Senate as to when we can expect to adjourn this session?

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, an adjournment resolution was presented last week and is now over in the House for concurrence and I certainly am not able to say what the House will do with regard to the adjournment resolution.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I do not intend to be smart and I certainly am sincere. I, like many of my colleagues, have my work at home but I realize we have certain obligations here—that applies to the gentleman from Lehigh as well as anyone else—but I am raising the question now, if Mr. Tallman does know we can not adjourn tomorrow night, to leave us know in due time so that we may go back home and come back on Sunday or Monday, when we might be able to accomplish something, but it is unfair to have to hang around here in the wee hours of the morning when we are not in proper condition to work. Somebody really ought to know whether we are going to adjourn tomorrow night or whether we must come back after tomorrow night. To me it makes no difference as long as I know.

Mr. TALLMAN, to the best of your knowledge do you think we may come back here Monday for another day?

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, I think the gentleman from Cambria has been in the Legislature long enough to realize what the situation is at this time.

I want to say, Mr. President, that I am only hopeful that the session may be adjourned, but that can only be determined tomorrow when we will have further opportunity to consult with the gentlemen in the House.

I assure the gentleman from Cambria as soon as I have any definite word as to the situation he, as well as every other member of this Senate, will be apprised of it. I also want to say to the gentleman there is nobody on this side that likes the uncertainty of the situation any more than he does and we are just as anxious to get out of here as he is, just as soon as we possibly can.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. CHAPMAN, from the Committee on Appropriations, re-reported as amended, House Bill No. 1343, entitled:

An Act to provide for the ordinary expenses of the Executive, Legislative and Judicial Departments of the Commonwealth, interest on the public debt, and the support of the public schools for two years beginning June first, one thousand nine hundred and forty-seven, and for the payment of bills incurred and remaining unpaid at the close of the fiscal year ending May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred and forty-seven.

BILLS RECOMMITTED

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, I move that House Bill No. 1170, on second reading, entitled:

An Act relating to alcoholic liquors alcohol and malt and brewed beverages amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto regulating and restricting the manufacture purchase sale possession consumption importation transportation furnishing holding in bond holding in storage traffic in and use of alcoholic liquors alcohol and malt and brewed beverages and the persons engaged or employed therein defining the powers and duties of the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board providing for the establishment and operation of State liquor stores for the payment of certain license fees to the respective municipalities and townships for the abatement of certain nuisances and in certain cases for search and seizure without warrant prescribing penalties and forfeitures and repealing existing laws be recommitted to the Committee on Law and Order.

Mr. LETZLER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, before the vote is taken I just want to comment that there was one injustice that

I personally know of in the method of liquor control in this Commonwealth that I thought perhaps this bill would correct and in looking the bill over I find it would have corrected it—that is the matter of the size of the bottles or packages.

Mr. President, there has been a new development in the bottling of beer since the original liquor control bill was passed, and we have in Pennsylvania at least one very fine brewery nestling in the foothills of the Alleghenies, known as the Old Liberty, which makes a very fine product called Rolling Rock and this beer is put up in a small bottle, in a seven-ounce bottle, and under the law as it is today, Mr. President, this brewery has to operate under a terrible handicap because they are not permitted to sell their beer by case lots—they have to sell their beer in two-case lots on account of the restrictions in the number of ounces allowed under the law.

There may be, and probably are, some bad features in any piece of legislation that covers so great a field as liquor control or malt beverages, and therefore, although there may be some specific reasons, I still can not understand how this bill can be so bad that any group would be in a position to have this bill sent back to be killed. Mr. President, one or two bad features in the bill could have been amended out. I think if the Legislature wanted to correct some of the bad features, such as appeals to courts and other items in the law that perhaps ought to be corrected, that ought to be done.

I was very much surprised to find, Mr. President, that the Pittsburgh Press tonight gives this particular bill that is now being sent back to committee a half-page editorial, calling attention to the fact that this bill would attempt to clear up the confusion as to whether clubs should be considered on a straight club quota basis.

There are many features in this bill I think are worthwhile. However, the majority thinks this is not the time for the passage of this bill. I want to say, Mr. President, it is a sad thing that always in the last hours of a legislative session some of the most important legislation to be dealt with in the entire session comes before us.

I am not going to insist on a roll call because I understand this is caucus action and therefore it would only be wasting the time of the Senate.

I object to this discrimination against this brewery in Pennsylvania, and others like it, which will have to continue at least for the next two years to fight against odds competitively in the market.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, I move that House Bill No. 1200, on second reading, entitled:

An Act to provide for preparation for a State frequency-modulation radio network to be licensed by the Federal Communications Commission for non-commercial educational service exclusively authorizing the survey of broadcasting sites for the construction of a master station and subsidiary stations as may be needed for state-wide coverage creating within the Department of Public Instruction a Division of Radio and Audio-Visual Education establishing within such division a lending library of recording scripts films and slides conferring powers and imposing duties upon the superintendent and

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. VAUGHAN. Mr. Speaker, this being a consolidated, amended revised bill of the Penal Code, I understand there have been many changes made in the laws doubling the fines and the penalties. I believe that the Members of this House should have been given a list of all the changes in this Code so we would know what we are voting on, in my opinion. If this Code passes, the next session of the Legislature will be back here appropriating more money to build jails and penitentiaries, instead of mental institutions, as we are doing now.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. VAUGHAN. Mr. Speaker, I move that Senate Bill No. 306, Printer's No. 571, be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Vaughan, be satisfied to have this bill passed over temporarily and withdraw his motion.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT WITHDRAWN

Mr. VAUGHAN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

BILL PASSED OVER

The SPEAKER pro tempore. If there is no objection this bill will be passed over temporarily. The Chair hears no objection.

Agreeably to order.

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 378, entitled:

An Act to further amend sections one thousand one hundred twenty-one and one thousand one hundred thirty of the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred eleven (P. shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" eliminating certain obsolete provisions and providing for the salaries of assistant superintendents and certain supervisors working under the supervision of the county superintendent.

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. REAGAN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know, "Providing for the salaries of assistant superintendents and certain supervisors working under the supervision of the county superintendent," if anybody can inform us, perhaps our good friend, Mr. Sollenberger, who is an expert on education and knows everything connected with it, and even more, could do so. I would just like to have explained what this bill does.

Mr. SOLLENBERGER. We will have to pass it over temporarily, Mr. Speaker. I will have to get the bill.

Mr. REAGAN. Mr. Speaker, do I understand that this bill is to go over.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair did not so state.

Mr. REAGAN. Mr. Speaker, Mr. Sollenberger claims he will have to find the bill. Strangely enough with all his information on the subject of education, he doesn't know what the bill is about and neither do I.

BILL PASSED OVER

The SPEAKER pro tempore. If there be no objection the bill will be passed over temporarily. The Chair hears none.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 463, entitled:

An Act to amend section two hundred two of the act approved the twenty-eighth day of April one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. RAY L. RILEY offered the following amendments:

Amend sec. 1 (sec. 401), page 3, line 4, by inserting after the word "thereof" the following: "or with the State Government or any agency thereof or with private business or industry".

Amend sec. 1 (sec. 401), page 3, line 4, by inserting after the word "veterans" the following: "out-of-school youth and adults."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. KRISE. Mr. Speaker, would it be possible for me to get the full import of those amendments, I would like to ask the gentleman from Lycoming, Mr. Riley, to explain the purpose of the amendments.

Mr. RAY L. RILEY. Mr. Speaker, these amendments were inserted to cover the situation which would preclude vocational schools from entering into contracts with private concerns or with State agencies for the training of veterans. As this bill now stands only Federal agencies have this right.

Mr. Speaker, I have agreed to have this bill passed over in order, temporarily only.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1023 as follows:

An Act to further amend section five hundred and sixty-three of the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (P. L. 309) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" providing for the budgetary control of all expenditures and designating the funds that may legally be expended during the fiscal year

Section 1 Section five hundred and sixty-three of the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (P. L. 309) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" as last amended by section three of the act approved the thirteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 605) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 563 (A) The board of school directors of each school district of the second third or fourth class shall annually at least thirty days prior to the adoption of the annual budget prepare a proposed budget of the amount of funds that will be required by the school district in its several departments for the following fiscal year Such proposed budget shall be prepared on a uniform form prepared and furnished as hereinafter provided and shall be apportioned to the several classes of expenditures of the district as the board of school directors thereof may determine Final action shall not be taken on any proposed budget in which the estimated expenditures exceed two thousand dollars ($2000) until after ten days' public notice Provided however That nothing in this act shall be construed to prevent any school district whose total estimated expenditures do not exceed two thousand dollars ($2000) from holding a public hearing The proposed budget shall be printed or otherwise made available for public inspection to all persons who may interest themselves at least twenty days prior to the date set for the adoption of the budget The board of school directors (after making such revisions and changes therein as appear advisable) may revise or change items in the budget tending to reduce the tax rate proposed but shall not make any substantial new or increased appropriation in the proposed budget after it has been made available for public inspection unless such proposed change in the budget has been made available for public inspection for an additional period of ten days The tax levied by the board of school directors shall be fixed at such figure within the limit allowed by law as with all other sources of revenue including all cash balances available from the prior fiscal year will meet and cover the appropriations in the budget The board of school directors shall adopt the budget and the necessary appropriation measures required to put it into effect Within fifteen days after the adoption of the budget the board of school directors shall file a copy of the same in the office of the Department of Public Instruction In all school districts under the direction of a county superintendent the county board of school directors shall inspect the annual budget and shall render such advice and assistance regarding the same as may seem proper before the said budget shall be signed and forwarded to the department by the county superintendent

(B) The board of school directors may during any fiscal year make additional appropriations or increase existing appropriations to meet emergencies such as epidemics floods fire or other catastrophies the funds therefor to be provided from unexpended balances in existing appropriations from unappropriated revenue if any or from temporary loans Such temporary loans when made shall be approved by a two-thirds vote of the board of school directors

(C) The board of school directors shall have power to authorize the transfer [within the same fund] of any unencumbered balance or any portion thereof from one [spending agency to another] class of expenditures to another except where such class of expenditures is set up for debt service but such action shall be taken only during the last nine months of the fiscal year and except as hereinbefore otherwise provided no moneys apportioned to any class of expenditures shall be used for purposes other than designated for said class in said budget The total amount of such budget shall not exceed the amount of funds including the proposed annual tax levy and State appropriation available for school purposes in that district

(D) The uniform budget forms required by this act shall be prepared by the Department of Public Instruction which shall issue said forms and distribute them annually as needed to the school district

(E) Taxpayers whose property valuation as assessed for taxable purposes within the school district shall amount to five per centum or over of the total valuation as assessed for taxable purposes within the school district may within ten days after the board of school directors have completed the formation of the budget and determined the amount of the tax levy for the school district petition the Court of Common Pleas of the county in which such school district is located to examine into the reasonableness of the various items in the budget of the school district and to reduce the proposed tax levy Each such petition shall be accompanied by the affidavit of one of the petitioners that the proceedings have not been instituted for the purpose of delay and that the facts set forth in the petition are true and correct to the best of their knowledge and belief The petitioner shall also file bond in the amount of five hundred dollars ($500) with good and sufficient surety to be approved by the court conditioned upon the payment of the costs if the court shall assess the costs upon the petitioners

Immediately upon the filing of such petition the petitioners shall serve a copy of the petition and the specifications of objections upon the President or Secretary of the School Board

Upon the filing of such petition the court shall fix a day for a hearing not less than ten (10) nor more than twenty (20) days after such petition has been filed Notice of such hearing shall be given to all interested parties in such manner as the court shall direct On such hearing it shall be the duty of the court to examine into the reasonableness of the various items of the budget and the amount of the proposed levy The court shall thereupon make an order approving the budget and levy or reducing or eliminating any one or more of the items of the budget and reducing the levy

If no appeal shall be taken from such order as herein provided the budget and levy shall remain as constituted by the court

The board of school directors of said school district or any freeholders who shall have signed the petition may appeal to the Supreme Court within thirty (30) days after the entry of the order by the Court of Common Pleas Such appeal shall be taken and prosecuted in the same manner and form and with the same effect as is provided in other cases of appeal to the Supreme Court The record which shall be certified to the Supreme Court shall contain all that was before the Court of Common Pleas

Neither the filing of any such petition nor the taking of such appeal shall act as a supersedeas

However any contract agreement or undertaking which relates to or is dependent upon an item of the budget which has been attacked in the petition and which shall be entered into by the school district during the pendency of such proceedings shall be subject to such reduction or cancellation as shall become necessary as the result of the order of the Court of Common Pleas or the Supreme Court

Each levy of taxes which shall be made during the pendency of such proceeding shall likewise be subject to revision in accordance with such order

(F) The budget and tax levy as approved or revised by the Court of Common Pleas or if an appeal shall have been taken by the Supreme Court shall be the budget and tax levy for such school district Any contract agreement or undertaking which relates to an item of the budget which has been attacked in the petition and which shall be entered into during the pendency of such proceedings shall be cancelled or made to conform to such budget

If such final order reduces the levy the board of school directors shall revise the tax duplicates in conformity with such order

Section 2 It is hereby declared as the legislative purpose and intent that this act is to provide a method whereby The total of all actual expenditures shall at all times be kept within the limits of the total estimated expenditures except in cases of emergency as authorized by subsection (b) of section five hundred sixty-three of the act to which this is an amendment

Section 3 All other acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

NOT VOTING—1

Trout,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House of Representatives has passed the same without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 56, as follows:

An Act to further amend section one thousand one hundred twenty-six of the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred eleven (P. L. 309) entitled 'An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent herewith' by further providing for the appointment of assistant county superintendents

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. HALL. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

Every county superintendent having more than one hundred (100) teachers an dnot more than one hundred and thirty-five (135) teachers under his supervision shall have one assistant county superintendent, provided the county had one assistant county superintendent as of the first day of July one thousand nine hundred forty-six.

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1126), page 3, lines 4 and 5, by striking out "[and thirty-five (135)] (100)" and inserting in lieu thereof "and thirty-five (135)."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

BILL PASSED OVER

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House of Representatives has passed the same without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 312, entitled:

An Act to amend sections seven hundred nineteen and seven hundred twenty of the act approved the third day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 1225) entitled "An act concerning game and other wild birds and wild animals and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto" fixing the period covered by petitions for hunting foxes with dogs and extending period of field trials.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. GOODLING. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows:

Amend title, page 1, last line of title, by inserting after the word "dogs" "for training dogs."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of the amendment at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 358, as follows:

An Act providing for and regulating the authority of school districts to purchase supplies and to perform or contract for construction reconstruction repairs and work of any nature

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enact as follows

Section 1 School Districts shall not be required to award and purchase supplies after public notice by advertisement once a week for three weeks unless such award and purchase shall in the case of school districts of the first class cost one thousand dollars ($1000) or more and in the case of school districts of the second class shall cost five hundred dollars ($500) or more

The board of school directors may purchase supplies

costing less than one thousand dollars ($1000) in school districts of the first class less than five hundred dollars ($500) in school districts of the second class and less than three hundred dollars ($300) in school districts of the third and fourth classes from the lowest responsible bidder after soliciting sealed quotations from two or more firms manufacturing or dealers in such supplies

In any school districts of the first or second classes the board of school directors may authorize the secretary or any other official to purchase supplies costing less than three hundred dollars ($300) without soliciting bids and without public notice

Section 2 All construction reconstruction repairs or work of any nature including the introduction of heating ventilating or lighting systems in any school building or on any school property made by any school district of the first or second classes shall be done under contract or contracts to be entered into by the school district with the lowest responsible bidder upon proper terms after due public notice has been given asking for competitive bids where the entire cost value or amount of such construction reconstruction repairs or work including labor and material is one thousand dollars ($1000) or more

The board of school directors in any school district of the first or second classes either may perform any construction reconstruction repairs or work of any nature where the entire cost or value including labor and material is less than one thousand dollars ($1000) by its own maintenance personnel or may have any such construction reconstruction repairs or work performed by contract after soliciting bids from at least three responsible bidders Provided That the board of school directors in any school district of the first and second classes may authorize the secretary of the board or other executive to award contracts for construction reconstruction repairs or work of any nature where the entire cost or value including labor and material is three hundred dollars ($300) or less without soliciting competitive bids

Section 3 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment and shall remain in force until June thirtieth one thousand nine hundred forty-nine

Section 4 All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act are suspended as long as this act shall remain in force

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I would ask whether the gentleman from Venango is being subjected to undue coercion.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, raises the question whether the gentleman from Venango is being subjected to undue pressure. According to the smile on the gentleman's face the Chair would say that he can "take it."

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection,

Senate Bill No. 361, Printer's No. 589

was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 363, as follows:

An Act to amend further the act approved the ninth day of April one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 343) entitled "An act relating to the finances of the State government providing for the settlement assessment collection and lien of taxes bonus and all other accounts due the Commonwealth the collection and recovery of fees and other money or property due or belonging to the Commonwealth or any agency thereof including escheated property and the proceeds of its sale the custody and disbursement or other disposition of funds and securities belonging to or in the possession of the Commonwealth and the settlement of claims against the Commonwealth the resettlement of accounts and appeals to the courts refunds of moneys erroneously paid to the Commonwealth auditing the accounts of the Commonwealth and all agencies thereof of all public officers collecting moneys payable to the Commonwealth or any agency thereof and all receipts of appropriations from the Commonwealth and imposing penalties affecting every department board commission and officer of the State government every political subdivision of the State and certain officers of such subdivisions every person association and corporation required to pay assess or collect taxes or to make returns or reports under the laws imposing taxes for State purposes or to pay license fees or other moneys to the Commonwealth or any agency thereof every State depository and every debtor or creditor of the Commonwealth" as amended by changing the method of accounting for advances out of appropriations at the end of a biennium

Section 1 That section 1504 of the act approved the ninth day of April one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 343) entitled "An act relating to the finances of the State government providing for the settlement assessment collection and lien of taxes bonus and all other accounts due the Commonwealth the collection and recovery of fees and other money or property due or belonging to the Commonwealth or any agency thereof including escheated property and the proceeds of its sale the custody and disbursement or other disposition of funds and securities belonging to or in the possession of the Commonwealth and the settlement of claims against the Commonwealth the resettlement of accounts and appeals to the courts refunds of moneys erroneously paid to the Commonwealth auditing the accounts of the Commonwealth and all agencies thereof of all public officers collecting moneys payable to the Commonwealth or any agency thereof and all receipts of appropriations from the Commonwealth and imposing penalties affecting every department board commission and officer of the State government every political subdivision of the State and certain officers of such subdivisions every person association and corporation required to pay assess or collect taxes or to make returns or reports under the laws imposing taxes for State purposes or to pay license fees or other moneys to the Commonwealth or any agency thereof every State depository and every debtor or creditor of the Commonwealth" as last amended by the act approved the sixth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 261) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 1504 Advances Out of Appropriations Whenever an appropriation shall have been made to any department board or commission of the State government or to the board of trustees or other agency in charge of any semi-State institution which is intended for expenses of such a nature as to make it impracticable for such department board commission board of trustees or agency to file with the Department of the Auditor General itemized receipts or vouchers prior to the payment of such expenses upon requisition and warrant in the usual way such department board commission board of trustees or other agency may make requisition upon the Auditor General from time to time for such sum or sums of the appropriation as may be necessary to meet such expenses and the Auditor General shall draw his warrant upon the State Treasurer for such sum or sums to be paid out of the appropriation The total amount of requisitions for advancements from any appropriation less the total amount of properly itemized receipts or vouchers filed with the Auditor General accounting for such advancements shall never exceed an amount approved by the Governor nor shall it in any case exceed the amount of the bond of the officer or individual having control of the disbursements from the funds advanced

Requisitions for advances hereunder to any departmental administrative board or commission must be approved by the department with which such board or commission is connected prior to the presentation thereof to the Auditor General

Any department board commission board of trustees or agency having received an advance hereunder shall

(1) Whenever required by the Auditor General file specifically itemized vouchers in such form as may be prescribed by him accounting for all money expended out of such advance

(2) At the end of the appropriation period return to the State Treasury all unexpended balances of such advance before any advance shall be made out of any succeeding appropriation or requisition the Auditor General to credit the expiring appropriation and charge the new appropriation with the exact amount of cash on hand at end of the period Provided That advances to local county boards of assistance under the Public Assistance Law for reasonable emergency funds may be made before unexpended balances of advancements out of any previous appropriation are actually returned by such boards to the State Treasury

(3) Deposit all moneys advanced in the name of the Commonwealth in a State depository and certify the name thereof to the State Treasurer

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

Trout,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House of Representatives has passed the same without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 471, as follows:

An Act requiring operators political subdivisions and the Commonwealth to seal abandoned coal mines so as to protect streams from acid mine drainage conferring powers and imposing duties on the Department of Mines prescribing penalties and making an appropriation

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 This act shall be known and may be cited as "The Coal Mine Sealing Act of 1947"

Section 2 The following words and phrases unless the context clearly indicates otherwise shall have the meanings ascribed to them in this section

(1) The term "abandoned coal mine" shall mean any coal mine or in which mining operations have ceased because of the complete exhaustion of coal or the exhaustion of coal which it is practical to mine within the foreseeable future or where exemption from taxation has been allowed because of the absence of mineable coal

(2) The term "mine sealing" shall mean the closing of openings into a mine in such a manner as to permit the outflow of water that may accumulate therein while at the same time preventing the flow of appreciable quantities of aid into the mine The purpose of such sealing is to minimize or stop the formation of acid in the water as it flows through the mine

(3) The term "operator" shall mean any lessee person political subdivision or the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

(4) The term "department" shall mean the "Department of Mines" as now organized and operating in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

(5) The term "Openings" shall mean all shafts slopes drifts and tunnels

Section 3 (a) All operators engaged in the mining of coal in this Commonwealth shall upon the abandonment of a mine seal any and all openings leading from such mine to the surface through which water may flow into any of the steams of this Commonwealth and though which appreciable quantities of air may enter the mine Such sealing shall be started within sixty (60) days of abandonment and shall be diligently carried on to completion in all cases sealing shall be completed within six (6) months following abandonment

(b) The operator last engaged in the operation of mines abandoned prior to the effective date of this act not heretofore sealed shall within six (6) months after the effective date of this act seal any and all openings leading from such mine to the surface through which water may flow into any of the streams of this Commonwealth and through which appreciable quantities of air may enter the mine provided that the mine is in the possession of the said operator

(c) The location and nature of any such seals which may be erected shall be in accordance with the requirements of or with plans furnished by the department provided that the sealing of such mine shall not interfere with any other mine or endanger life or property in any community

Section 4 In cases where the operator is not in possession of the abandoned coal mine upon the effective date of this act the work of sealing the openings and the cost of such work shall be assumed by the Commonwealth and shall be paid out of any appropriation made to the department for this purpose

Section 5 After a mine has been sealed to the satisfaction of the department the maintenance of such seals shall be the duty of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania acting through the department

Section 6 The department or its representatives is hereby authorized to enter upon any lands where openings to abandoned mines are located for the purpose of sealing such openings for inspecting and maintaining such seals and for putting into effect the provisions of this act Such entry shall not be construed as an act of condemnation of property or of trespass thereon

Section 7 The sum of one million ninety thousand dollars ($1,090,000) or as much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated to the Department of Mines for the use of the department in carrying out the provisions of this act

Section 8 Any person who removes or destroys and seal erected for the purposes described in this act or who penetrates by means of shaft slope drift tunnel or otherwise any sealed mine without first having received the approval of the department shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall upon conviction thereof be sentenced to pay a fine not less than one hundred dollars ($100) nor more than one thousand dollars ($1000) or in the case of individuals or the responsible officers and agents of corporations and associations to undergo imprisonment for a period of not more than one (1) year or both

Section 9 On and after the passage of this act any operator who refuses or neglects to properly seal mine openings in accordance with plans submitted by the Department of Mines shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall upon conviction thereof be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than one hundred dollars ($100) nor more than one thousand dollars ($1000) or in the case of individuals or the responsible officers and agents of corporations and associations to undergo imprisonment for a period of not more than one (1) year or both

Section 10 All acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House of Representatives has passed the same without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 588, as follows:

An Act to further amend section one thousand four hundred eighteen of the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred eleven (P. L. 309) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" requiring the furnishing of free transportation or board and lodging in certain cases

Section 1 Section one thousand four hundred eighteen of the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred eleven (P. L. 309) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" as last amended by the acts approved the thirteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 605) the first day of July one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 2583) and the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 787) is hereby further amend to read as follows

Section 1418 (a) In case there is no public school in session within two miles by the nearest public highway of the residence of any child such child shall be exempt from the provisions of this act relating to compulsory attendance unless proper free transportation be furnished to such child to and from school If proper free transportation is furnished to any such child of compulsory school age to and from school the Commonwealth shall reimburse any school district of the fourth class or any school district of the third class which is located wholly within the boundary lines of a township furnishing such transportation in the same manner and amounts as provided for in this act for transportation of pupils from closed schools In all school districts under the direction of a county superintendent all transportation routes to be used after the first day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirty-eight shall be established with the advice and assistance of the county board of school directors In any case where after such date two or more such districts jointly use the same transportation facilities the cost of such transportation shall subject to the approval of the State Council of Education be apportioned among such districts by the county board of school directors

(b) After the first day of July one thousand nine hundred forty-nine in case there is no public school with the proper grades in session within two miles by the shortest public highway of the residence of any child in a school district of the fourth class or in a township which is a school district of the third class such child shall be furnished proper transportation at the expense of the school district to and from a school with the proper grades

(c) When it is not feasible to provide such transportation the board of school directors may in lieu thereof with the approval of the Department of Public Instruction pay for suitable board and lodging for any such child Provided That in no case shall the State's share of the cost exceed one dollar ($1) per day per pupil for the actual number of days such pupil is in attendance at school not exceeding five days in any one week

(d) It shall be unlawful for any driver or owner of a vehicle transporting pupils under a contract with a school district or for any member of or board of school directors to demand request or accept any compensation for transporting pupils other than the compensation stipulated in the contract filed with and approved by the Department of Public Instruction forms for such records together with such instructions as may be required to secure the complete detailed registration of all children received by such boarding house or released therefrom. One copy of each record shall be retained by the licensee. The other shall be forwarded to the department within a period of thirty days after each child is received in or discharged from the boarding house for children.

Section 8 Department to Adopt Rules and Regulations The department is hereby authorized and empowered to adopt rules and regulations not inconsistent with the provisions of this act for the issuance and renewal of such licenses and the proper maintenance operation and conduct of such licensed boarding houses for children and for the effective enforcement thereof. Such rules and regulations shall be designed to insure normal lives for all children maintained in boarding houses for children.

Section 9 Right to Enter and Inspect the Premises Any employe or authorized agent of the department the health authorities in cities of the first and second class shall have the right to enter visit and inspect all boarding houses for children licensed or requiring a license under this act for the purpose of determining the suitability of the applicants or licensees and the premises for a license or to determine whether they are properly conducted and that the children therein are being properly treated cared for and maintained.

Section 10 Suspension of License Whenever the department finds that any boarding house for children licensed under this act is not properly maintained operated and conducted or that the children therein have been subjected to mistreatment or abuse it shall suspend the license of such boarding house and shall not such suspension upon the face of the record thereof and shall give written notice of such suspension to the licensee or licensees by delivering the notice to him or them in person or by registered mail or by leaving it with an adult person residing on the licensed premises. Whenever any license is suspended by the department the written notice of suspension shall specify the reason for such suspension and shall direct the licensee to correct or remedy the causes of the suspension within a period of time to be specified in the notice.

Section 11 Revocation of License If at the end of the period of suspension or such further time as the department in its discretion may grant the cause or causes have not been remedied or corrected the department shall petition the juvenile court or court having similar jurisdiction of the county wherein such boarding house for children is located to revoke the license and to direct the disposition of the children maintained therein. If after hearing at least ten days' notice of which shall be given to the licensee the court is satisfied that the licensed place is not properly conducted or that the children therein are not properly treated cared for or maintained it shall enter a decree revoking the license granted by the department and directing the disposition of the children maintained therein.

Section 12 Discretion of Courts and Existing Child Placement Agencies Nothing contained in this act shall be construed to interfere with the discretion of the several courts of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or of any of the existing child placement agencies of this Commonwealth to place any child in any institution, boarding house for children foster home or other place for the care of children.

Section 13 Offenses Penalty Any person who operates a boarding house for children without having obtained a license within thirty days after being notified by the department so to do or who operates a boarding house for children after his license has been revoked shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding two hundred dollars ($200) or undergo imprisonment not exceeding six months or both in the discretion of the court.

Section 14 Effective Date This act shall become effective

the first day of January one thousand nine hundred forty-eight.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

(b) The members of the board shall be appointed by the Governor for terms of four (4) years each or until their successors shall be duly appointed and shall have qualified Any vacancy occurring shall be filled by appointment of the Governor for the unexpired term Each member of the board shall devote his entire time to the duties of his office A member of the board may after notice and an opportunity to be heard be removed for cause by the Governor

(c) The chairman of the board shall receive an annual salary of ten thousand five hundred dollars ($10,500) and each other member thereof shall receive an annual salary of ten thousand dollars ($10,000)

Section 3 Chairman Authority and Duties The Governor shall designate one of the members as chairman The chairman shall be in charge of the administration of the board and the transaction of its routine business and shall execute the orders and policies of the board In the absence of the chairman the member designated by him shall perform his duties and while so doing shall have the authority of chairman

Section 4 Quorum Two (2) members of the board shall constitute a quorum A quorum voting unanimously shall be sufficient to exercise all the rights and perform all the duties of the board

Section 5 Individual Powers of Members of the Board Any investigation inquiry or hearing which the board has power to undertake or hold may be undertaken or held by or before any one or more of the members of the board All investigations inquiries or hearings before or by any such member or members shall be deemed to be the investigations inquiries and hearings of the board Any determination ruling or order of a member or members upon any such investigation inquiry or hearing undertaken or held by him or them shall not become and be effective until approved and confirmed by at least a quorum of the board and ordered to be filed in its office Upon such confirmation and order such determination ruling or order shall be the determination ruling or order of the board In any investigation inquiry or hearing which may hereafter be instituted the board is hereby authorized to employ special agents or examiners who shall have the power to administer oaths and examine witnesses and receive evidence in any locality which the board may designate The testimony and evidence so taken or received shall have the same force and effect as if taken or received by the board or any one or more of its members as above provided

Section 6 Personnel The board shall have the power to employ such employees assistants and experts as may be necessary to carry out any clerical administrative investigatory or technical tasks connected with its work and to fix the compensation of such employees subject to the provisions of the Administrative Code of 1929

Section 7 General Powers and Duties of the Board The board shall have the power and its duty shall be

(1) To determine the market value of taxable real property in each of the school districts and to conduct investigations require information and have access to whatever public records are necessary in making each such determination

(2) To require the county commissioners of each county to furnish to it monthly a list of all conveyances or other transfers of real estate or any interest therein recorded within such county during the preceding month stating the value of the Federal tax stamps affixed to the deed for each such conveyance and the assessed valuations for county tax purposes of such real estate

(3) To certify to the Superintendent of Public Instruction not later than the first day of July of each year a list of all school districts showing the market value of taxable real property and the assessed valuation for county tax purposes and to furnish to the Board of School Directors of each school district as much of such information as pertains to such school district. The first lists shall be furnished not later than the first day of July one thousand nine hundred forty-nine

(4) To hear and decide appeals of parties who may feel aggrieved by any finding or conclusion of the board

(5) To investigate the finances and any other general circumstances of any school district requesting special aid from the Superintendent of Public Instruction and to advise the Superintendent of Public Instruction in making grants of special aid

(6) To make surveys and investigations of the finances of school districts in the interest of a more equitable distribution of school support

(7) To subpoena State and local officials and to require from them such information as may be necessary for the proper discharge of its duties

(8) To have and exercise all of the powers and perform all the duties imposed upon independent administrative boards by the Administrative Code of 1929 and its amendments

Section 8 Compilation of Data Showing Market Value of Real Property Immediately after its organization the board shall accumulate and compile data showing the prices at which real property in each school district has been sold and all other available relevant matter in any way having a bearing on the market value of real property in the several school districts. After such data has been compiled the board shall add thereto from time to time such additional data concerning new sales and improvements and other data to the end that the records of the board shall at all times show the then present market value of real property in each school district as nearly as the same can be determined. In compiling all such data the board shall have authority to examine all local tax assessment records both in the hands of local assessors and in the hands of county and city assessors and boards commissions or departments charged with the duty of revising assessments. The board shall also have power to examine all other public records wheresoever located

Section 9 Monthly Reports by Counties Commonwealth Payments (a) It shall be the duty of the county commissioners of each county on the fifteenth day of each month to prepare and deliver to the board for its use and in such form and manner as the board may prescribe a list of all conveyances or other transfers of real estate or any interest therein recorded within the county during the preceding month stating the value of the Federal tax stamps affixed to the deed for each such conveyance or transfer as set forth within such instrument and the assessed valuation for county tax purposes of such real estate. Pursuant to the requirements of this section the recorder of deeds of each county shall prepare and deliver to the county commissioners at the end of each month a list of all the real estate so conveyed or transferred within such county during such month stating the value of Federal tax stamps affixed to the instrument so conveying or transferring such real estate or any interest therein

(b) The board shall pay to the county commissioners of each county the sum of ten cents (10c) for each such conveyance or transfer of real estate on each list so prepared certified and delivered to the board for its use

Section 10 Annual Reports of Local Assessing Officials On or before the first day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-eight and on or before the first day of June of every year thereafter the board of revision of taxes of counties of the first class the board of property assessment appeals and review of counties of the second class the board for the assessment and revision of taxes of counties of the third class and the county commissioners of all other counties shall file a certificate with the board in such form as it may prescribe and on blanks to be furnished by it showing the assessed valuation of all real property in each school district in the county on which the taxes for the then current year are levied. In the year one thousand nine hundred forty-eight such certificates shall be filed both with the Superintendent of Public Instruction as now required by law and with the board as required hereby. But thereafter no certificate shall be required to be filed with the Superintendent of Public Instruction

Section 11 Market Value and Percentage thereof of Value Assessed for Tax Purposes From the data so compiled the board shall as soon as possible after the first day of July one thousand nine hundred forty-eight determine the market value of real property in each school district and the percentage of the market value as so determined of the assessed valuation for county tax purposes

Section 12 Certification to Superintendent of Public Instruction and School Districts As soon as the market value of the real property in each school district throughout the Commonwealth has been determined and the percentage of such value of the assessed valuation for county tax purposes has been established the board shall certify the same to the Superintendent of Public Instruction and as to each school district to the board of school directors thereof

Section 13 Objections by School Districts Hearings Basis for Future Valuations Any school district aggrieved by any finding or conclusion of the board affecting the amount of any Commonwealth subsidy payable to it may in writing state its objection thereto and shall thereupon be granted a hearing by the board at which the district shall have the right to submit evidence for the purpose of showing that the findings of the board are incorrect and to present arguments to substantiate its contentions. After carefully considering all evidence submitted and the arguments of the district the board shall make such modifications and adjustments of its findings and computations as to it shall appear proper or it may dismiss the objections. In either event the decision of the board shall be final. The valuations so adjusted shall form the basis upon which valuations for the purpose of determining the amounts of Commonwealth subsidies shall be determined as hereinafter provided

Section 14 Annual Adjustments of Valuations On or before the first day of July one thousand nine hundred forty-nine and on or before the first day of July of each year thereafter the board shall adjust the market value of real property in each school district to conform with such new data as may have been accumulated since the market values for the last preceding year were determined and shall determine the percentage of such market value of the assessed valuation of all real property in the district on which county taxes for the then current year are levied. Such market values percentages and adjustments shall be certified to the Superintendent of Public Instruction and the several school districts as hereinbefore provided with the same rights to school districts to hearings and determinations by the board

Section 15 Determination and Apportionment of Commonwealth Subsidies As soon as possible each year after the final adjustment of values by the board the board shall certify to the Superintendent of Public Instruction the market value of all real property in each school district in the Commonwealth. Beginning with payment to be made during the school year one thousand nine hundred forty-nine one thousand nine hundred fifty each school district's assessed valuation to be used for purposes of computing its standard reimbursement fraction shall be the market value of the taxable real property in the school district as finally adjusted and determined upon by the board and not the assessed valuation for county tax purposes as now provided by law Beginning with the year one thousand nine hundred forty-nine and every two (2) years thereafter in place of the valuations now required by law to be used for such purposes the market value of the real property in each school district as finally adjusted and determined upon by the board shall be used by the Superintendent of Public Instruction in ascertaining and determined the amount of funds required to meet payments to school districts and vocational school districts which become due and payable by law within the two fiscal years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred forty-nine and ending May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred fifty-one and each biennium thereafter and to apportion and allot the same to and among the respective school districts

Section 16 Special Aid to School Districts Before granting any special aid to any school district the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall submit the request therefor to the board The board shall make its recommendations with respect thereto in so far as the same is affected by the district's ability to raise funds by taxation Before making any such recommendation the board shall carefully investigate and study the financial circumstances of the district and whether or not it has exhausted its available taxing power not only on real property but also on all other available property and subjects of taxation and that collection of such taxes is being effectively made and enforced Such recommendations shall be for the advice of the Superintendent of Public Instruction in passing on such requests

Section 17 Saving Clause Nothing contained in this act shall be construed to change or affect the validity of the assessed valuation of any real property for the purpose of levying taxes by any political subdivision

Section 18 Appropriations The sum of five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000) or as much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated to the board for the payment of salaries of the members of the board and its employees for payments to county commissioners under the provisions of section nine of this act and for the payment of the costs of supplies equipment and all other necessary expenses incurred in the carrying out of its work during the fiscal biennium beginning the first day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-seven

Section 19 Repeal All acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

Section 20 Effective Date The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House of Representatives has passed the same without amendment.

Agreeably to order,
The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 774, as follows:

An Act to amend the Act approved the 5th day of December 1933 (P. L. 38 1933-34) entitled "An act imposing State taxes payable by those herein defined as manufacturers and importers on the privilege of manufacturing selling or using in this Commonwealth alcohol usable for beverage purposes and certain spirituous and vinous liquors providing for the collection of the taxes and the manner of making payment thereof conferring powers and imposing duties on certain State officers and departments and upon manufacturers importers and upon those using or engaging in the sale of such alcohol and such spirituous and vinous liquors authorizing refunds or exemptions in certain cases and making an appropriation therefor and providing penalties" by further regulating the procedure for filing petitions for redetermination petitions for review and appeals to Court

Section 1 Section 5 of the Act approved the 5th day of December 1933 (P. L. 38 1933-34) entitled "An act imposing State taxes payable by those herein defined as manufacturers and importers on the privilege of manufacturing selling or using in this Commonwealth alcohol usable for beverage purposes and certain spirituous and vinous liquors providing for the collection of the taxes and the manner of making payment thereof conferring powers and imposing duties on certain State officers and departments and upon manufacturers importers and upon those using or engaging in the sale of such alcohol and such spirituous and vinous liquors authorizing refunds or exemptions in certain cases and making an appropriation therefor and providing penalties" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 5 Determination and Redetermination of Taxes Penalty and Interest Due by Manufacturers

(a) If the department is not satisfied with the report and payment of taxes made by any manufacturer under the provisions of this act it is hereby authorized and empowered to make a determination of the taxes due by such manufacturer based upon the facts contained in the reports or upon any information within its possession or that shall come into its possession

(b) Promptly after the date of any such determination the department shall send by registered mail a copy thereof to such manufacturer Within [thirty (30)] ninety (90) days after the date upon which the copy of any such determination was mailed such manufacturer may file with the department of petition for redetermination of such tax Every petition for redetermination shall state specifically the reasons which the petitioner believes entitle him to such redetermination and shall be supported by affidavit that it is not made for the purpose of delay and that the facts therein set forth are true It shall be the duty of the department within [ninety (90) days] six (6) months after the date of any determination to dispose of any petition for redetermination Notice of the action taken upon any petition for redetermination shall be given to the petitioner promptly after the date of redetermination by the department

(c) Within [thirty (30)] sixty (60) days after the date of mailing of notice by the department of the act taken on any petition for redetermination filed with it the manufacturer against whom such determination was made may by petition request the Board of Finance and Revenue to review such action Every petition for review filed hereunder shall state specifically the reasons upon which the petitioner relies [and shall be in such form as the Board of Finance and Revenue shall prescribe] or shall incorporate by reference the petition for redetermination in which such reasons shall have been stated The petition shall be supported by affidavit that it is not made for the purpose of delay and that the facts therein set forth are true If the petitioner be a corporation joint-stock association or limited partnership the affidavit must be made by one of the principal officers thereof A petition for review may be amended by the petitioner at any time prior to the hearing thereon as hereinafter provided The Board of Finance and Revenue shall [dispose] act finally in disposition of such petitions filed with it within [ninety (90) days] six (6) months after they have been received and in the event of the failure of said board to dispose of any such petition within [ninety (90) days] six (6) months the action taken by the department upon the petition for redetermination shall be deemed sustained The Board of Finance and Revenue may sustain the action taken on the petition for redetermination or it may redetermine the taxes due upon such basis as it shall deem according to law and equity Notice of the action of the Board of Finance and Revenue shall be given by mail or otherwise to the department and to the petitioner

(d) The [department] Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or any person aggrieved by the decision of the Board of Finance and Revenue or by the board's failure to act upon his petition for review within [ninety (90) days] six (6) months within sixty (60) days appeal to the court of common pleas of Dauphin County from the decision of the Board of Finance and Revenue or from the decision of the department as the case may be in the manner now or hereafter provided by law for appeals in the case of tax settlement

(e) If any manufacturer shall neglect or refuse to make any report and payment of taxes required by this act the department shall estimate the tax due by such manufacturer and determine the amount due by him for taxes penalties and interest thereon as prescribed herein from which determination there shall be no right of review or appeal

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House of Representatives has passed the same without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 781, as follows:

An Act to further amend section 4 of the act approved the 5th day of May 1933 (P. L. 284) entitled as amended "An act imposing a state tax payable by those herein defined as manufacturers and by others on malt or brewed beverages used sold transported or delivered within the Commonwealth prescribing the method and manner of evidencing the payment and collection of such tax conferring powers and imposing duties on the Department of Revenue and those using or engaged in the sale at retail or wholesale or in the transportation of malt or brewed beverages taxable hereunder and providing penalties" by further regulating the procedure for filing petitions for reassessment petitions for review and appeals to court and collection of delinquent taxes

Section 1 Section 4 of the act approved the 5th day of May 1933 (P. L. 284) entitled as amended "An act imposing a state tax payable by those herein defined as manufacturers and by others on malt or brewed beverages used sold transported or delivered within the Commonwealth prescribing the method and manner of evidencing the payment and collection of such tax conferring powers and imposing duties on the Department of Revenue and those using or engaged in the sale at retail or wholesale or in the transportation of malt or brewed beverages taxable hereunder and providing penalties" as last amended by the act approved the 29th day of April 1937 (P. L. 527) is hereby further amended to read as follows

(a) The payment of the taxes herein provided shall be evidenced by the affixing of malt beverage tax stamps or crowns to the original containers in which all malt or brewed beverages are placed received stored shipped or handled Such stamps or crowns shall be affixed to each individual container of malt or brewed beverages by manufacturers of this Commonwealth within twenty-four (24) hours after such malt or brewed beverages are placed therein and by manufacturers and other persons who import or bring any malt or brewed beverages into this Commonwealth before the same are transported within this Commonwealth for sale delivery or storage therein. Nothing herein contained shall require stamps or crowns to be attached to containers of malt or brewed beverages which are transported through this Commonwealth and which are not sold delivered or stored therein if transported in accordance with such rules and regulations as may be adopted by the Department of Revenue and the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board.

Persons licensed as "Public Service Licensees" under the provisions of any law of this Commonwealth relating to the sale of liquor and malt or brewed beverages shall not be required on reaching the borders of this Commonwealth to evidence the payment of the tax herein provided for by affixing malt beverage tax stamps or crowns as provided for in this section on any malt or brewed beverage on which the Pennsylvania malt beverage tax has not been paid but instead shall keep such records of the sales of such malt or brewed beverages in this Commonwealth as the Department of Revenue shall prescribe. The department shall submit monthly reports of such sales to the Department of Revenue upon a form prescribed therefore by said department and shall pay the tax due by the provisions of this act at the time such reports are filed.

(b) It is the intent and purpose of this section to require all manufacturers and other persons with the exception of public service licensees to affix the stamps or crowns provided for in this act to all original containers in which malt liquors are normally placed prepared for market received sold or handled before such beverages are transported within the Commonwealth.

(c) Any manufacturer or person other than a public service licensee who shall sell malt or brewed beverages distributors retail dealers or consumers without affixing to the containers the stamps or crowns required by this act and any person who shall purchase receive transport store or sell any malt or brewed beverages to which the stamps or crowns required by this act are not affixed except as herein provided in the case of public service licensees shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced for the first offense to pay a fine of not less than one hundred ($100) dollars or more than five hundred ($500) or to suffer imprisonment for a term not exceeding six (6) months or both in the discretion of the court and in the case of a conviction of a second or subsequent offense hereunder shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than two hundred ($200) dollars or more than one thousand ($1000) dollars and to suffer imprisonment for a term of not less than six (6) months or more than three (3) years.

(d) If any person shall fail to pay any tax imposed by this act for which he is liable the department is hereby authorized and empowered to make an assessment of additional tax due by such person based upon any information within its possession or that shall come into its possession.

(e) Promptly after the date of such assessment the department shall send by registered mail a copy thereof to the person against whom it was made within [thirty (30)] ninety (90) days after the date upon which the copy of any such assessment was mailed such person may file with the department a petition for reassessment of such taxes. Every petition for reassessment shall state specifically the reasons which the petitioner believes entitle him to such reassessment and it shall be supported by affidavit that it is not made for the purpose of delay and that the facts set forth therein are true. It shall be the duty of the department within [ninety (90) days] six (6) months after the date of any assessment to dispose of any petition for reassessment. Notice of the action taken upon any petition for reassessment shall be given to the petitioner promptly after the date of reassessment by the department.

(f) Within [thirty (30)] sixty (60) days after the date of mailing of notice by the department of the act taken on any petition for reassessment filed with it the person against whom such assessment was made may by petition request the Board of Finance and Revenue to review such action. Every petition for review filed hereunder shall state specifically the reason upon which the petitioner relies [and shall be in such form as the Board of Finance and Revenue shall prescribe] or shall incorporate by reference the petition for reassessment in which such reasons shall have been stated. The petition shall be supported by affidavit that it is not made for the purpose of delay and that the facts therein set forth are true. If the petitioner be a corporation joint-stock association or limited partnership the affidavit must be made by one of the principal officers thereof. A petition for review may be amended by the petitioner at any time prior to the hearing thereon as hereinafter provided. The Board of Finance and Revenue shall [dispose] act finally in disposition of such petitions filed with it within [ninety (90) days] six (6) months after they have been received and in the event of the failure of said board to dispose of any such petition within [ninety (90) days] six (6) months the action taken by the department upon the petition for reassessment shall be deemed sustained. The Board of Finance and Revenue may sustain the action taken on the petition for reassessment or it may reassess the tax due upon such basis as it shall deem according to law and equity. Notice of the action of the Board of Finance and Revenue shall be given by mail or otherwise to the department and to the petitioner.

(g) The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or any person aggrieved by the decision of the Board of Finance and Revenue or by the Board's failure to act upon his petition for review within [ninety (90) days] six (6) months may within sixty (60) days appeal to the court of common pleas of Dauphin County from the decision of the Board of Finance and Revenue or from the decision of the department as the case may be in the manner now or hereafter provided by law for appeals in the case of tax settlement.

(h) In all cases of petitions for reassessment review or appeal the burden of proof shall be upon the petitioner or appellant as the case may be.

(i) Whenever any assessment of additional tax is not paid within [thirty (30)] ninety (90) days after the date thereof if no petition for reassessment has been filed or within sixty (60) days from the date of reassessment if no petition for review has been filed or within [ninety (90)] sixty (60) days from the date of the decision of the Board of Finance and Revenue upon a petition from review or the expiration of the board's time for acting upon such petition if no appeal has been made and in all cases of judicial sales receiverships assignments or bankruptcies the department may call upon the Department of Justice to collect such assessment. In such event in a proceeding for the collection of such taxes the person against whom they were assessed shall not be permitted to set up any ground of defense that might have been determined by the department the Board of Finance and Revenue or the Courts as aforesaid. The department may also certify to the Liquor Control Board for such action as the Board may deem proper the fact that any person has failed to pay or duly appeal from such assessment of additional tax. The department may also provide adopt promulgate and enforce such rules and regulations as may be appropriate to prevent further shipment or transportation of malt or brewed beverages into this Commonwealth by any person against whom such unpaid assessment shall have been made.

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment.

And said bill having been read at length the third time considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Section 7 of the act approved the 21st day of May 1931 (P. L. 149) entitled "An act imposing a State tax payable by those herein defined as distributors on liquid fuels used or sold and delivered within the Commonwealth which are ordinarily practically and commercially usable in internal combustion engines for the generation of power providing for the collection and lien of the tax and the distribution and use of the proceeds thereof requiring such distributors to secure permits to file corporate surety bonds and reports and to retain certain records imposing duties on retail dealers common carriers county commissioners and such distributors providing for rewards imposing certain costs on counties conferring powers and imposing duties on certain State officers and departments providing for refunds imposing penalties and making an appropriation" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 7 Determination and Redetermination of Tax Penalties and Interest Due

(a) If the department is not satisfied with the report and payment of tax made by any distributor under the provisions of this act it is hereby authorized and empowered to make a determination of the tax due by such distributor based upon the facts contained in the report or upon any information within its possession or that shall come into its possession

(b) Promptly after the date of any such determination the department shall send by registered mail a copy thereof to such distributor Within [thirty (30)] ninety (90) days after the date upon which the copy of any such determination was mailed such distributor may file with the department a petition for redetermination of such fact. Every petition for redetermination shall state specifically the reasons which the petitioner believes entitles him to such redetermination and shall be supported by affidavit that it is not made for the purpose of delay and that the facts therein set forth are true It shall be the duty of the department within [ninety (90) days] six (6) months after the date of any determination to dispose of any petition for redetermination Notice of the action taken upon any petition for redetermination by the department

(c) Within [thirty (30)] sixty (60) days after the date of mailing of notice by the department of the action taken on any petition for redetermination filed with it the distributor against whom such determination was made may by petition request the Board of Finance and Revenue to review such action Every petition for review filed hereunder shall state specifically the reason upon which the petitioner relies [and shall be in such form as the Board of Finance and Revenue shall prescribe] or shall incorporate by reference the petition for redetermination in which such reasons shall have been stated The petition shall be supported by affidavit that it is not made for the purpose of delay and that the facts therein set forth are true If the petitioner be a corporation joint-stock association or limited partnership the affidavit must be made by one of the principal officers thereof A petition for review may be amended by the petitioner at any time prior to the hearing thereon as hereinafter provided The Board of Finance and Revenue shall [dispose] act finally in disposition of such petitions filed with it within [ninety (90) days] six (6) months after they have been received and in the event of the failure of said board

to dispose of any such petition within [ninety (90) days] six (6) months the action taken by the department upon the petition for redetermination shall be deemed sustained. The Board of Finance and Revenue may sustain the action taken on the petition for redetermination or it may redetermine the tax due upon such basis as it shall deem according to law and equity. Notice of the action of the Board of Finance and Revenue shall be given by mail or otherwise to the department and to the petitioner.

(d) The [department] Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or any person aggrieved by the decision of the Board of Finance and Revenue or by the board's failure to act upon his petition for review within [ninety (90) days] six (6) months may within sixty (60) days appeal to the court of common pleas of Dauphin County from the decision of the Board of Finance and Revenue or from the decision of the department as the case may be in the manner now or hereafter provided by law for appeals in the case of tax settlement.

(e) If any distributor shall neglect or refuse to make any report and payment of tax required by this act the department shall estimate the tax due by such distributor and determine the amount due by him for taxes penalties and interest thereon as prescribed herein from which determination there shall be no right of review or appeal. Upon any such neglect or refusal the liquid fuels permit or permits issued to such distributor may be suspended or revoked by the department and required to be surrendered to the department.

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment.

NOT VOTING—1

Frout.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 798, as follows:

An Act to further amend section two thousand nine of the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred eleven (P. L. 309) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" providing for refund of registration deposits paid by prospective students from advancement fund of the respective State Teachers' Colleges.

Section 1 Section two thousand nine of the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred eleven (P. L. 309) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" as last amended by the act approved the first day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. L. 1152) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 2009 The tuition of all students at the State Teachers' Colleges who are residents of Pennsylvania and who meet such requirements as the board of presidents of the State Teachers' Colleges may prescribe and who sign an agreement to teach in the public schools of this Commonwealth for not less than two years and who are pursuing therein regular courses for the preparation of teachers shall be paid by the Commonwealth and sufficient appropriations shall be made for this purpose. Provided however in addition to such appropriations the board of trustees may fix and charge such fees as may be necessary for the proper operation of the college and may refund from their respective advancement funds any advancement registration deposits paid by prospective students who are unable to enter college.

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection,

Senate Bill No. 801, Printer's No. 585 was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER pro tempore.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 823, as follows:

An Act to amend clause one of section three of the act approved the sixteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 1784) entitled "An act concerning newspapers creating uniformity in the publication of legal notices and advertisements defining the newspapers in which official and legal advertising shall be published prescribing methods for computing the charges therefor and providing that the expenses for publishing legal advertising or notice shall be taxable and collectible as court costs are now taxed and collected in all matters and proceedings" by providing that involuntarily suspension of publication shall not disqualify a newspaper to publish legal and official advertising

Section 1 Clause one of section three of the act approved the sixteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 1784) entitled "An act concerning newspapers creating uniformity in the publication of legal notices and advertisements defining the newspapers in which official and legal advertising shall be published prescribing methods for computing the charges therefor and providing that the expenses for publishing legal advertising or notices shall be taxable and collectible as court costs are now taxed and collected in all matters and proceedings" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 3 The following words wherever used in the acts of Assembly of this Commonwealth now in force or hereafter enacted shall have the following meanings

(1) "Newspaper" means a printed paper or publication bearing a title or name and conveying reading or pictorial intelligence of passing events local or general happenings printing regularly or irregularly editorial comment announcements miscellaneous reading matter commercial advertising classified advertising legal advertising and other notices and which has been issued in numbers of four or more pages at short intervals either daily twice or oftener each week or weekly continuously during a period of at least six months or as the successor of such a printed paper or publication issued during an immediate prior period of at least six months and which has been circulated and distributed from an established place of business to subscribers or readers without regard to number for a definite price or consideration either entered or entitled to be entered under the Postal Rules and Regulations as second class matter in the United States mails and subscribed for by readers at a fixed price for each copy or at a price fixed per annum Provided A newspaper may be either a daily newspaper weekly newspaper newspaper of general circulation official newspaper or a legal newspaper as defined by this act And provided further That continuous publication within the meaning of this section shall not be deemed interrupted by any involuntary suspension of publication resulting from loss destruction failure or unavailability of operating facilities equipment or personnel from whatever cause and any newspaper so affected shall not be disqualified to publish legal and official advertising in the event that publication is resumed within one week after it again becomes possible

Section 2 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

INTERROGATION

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair would desire to interrogate the Majority Whip, the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Brunner, the only man in authority apparently on the floor on the majority side. Will the gentleman take his place on the floor as the Chair desires to interrogate him? He did not summon him to the rostrum.

Will the gentleman turn to the calendar, page 52, Senate Bill 823, Printer's No. 492. Had the Chair been on the floor when this bill was before the House he would have asked someone to explain to which particular newspaper that bill applied. The Chair would desire some light on the question even after the event. If it is a special bill for a special case or purpose we would like to know what case it is.

Mr BRUNNER. Mr. Speaker, I assure you that I am in no position to answer your interrogation, but if you are serious in the matter I am perfectly willing to ask that the bill be passed over.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Unfortunately the bill has passed. We have a suspicion that perhaps it might have been a case that applied to the paper published by the gentleman from Wayne, Mr. Dix, but the gentleman denies the accusation.

Mr. STUART. I am willing to make an explanation of the bill if the gentleman so desires.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair would be glad to recognize the gentleman even after the event. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Stuart, under unanimous consent. The Chair hears no objection.

Mr. STUART. Mr. Speaker, the purpose of this bill is simply to correct an oversight in the Newspaper Advertising Act of 1929 as it now exists. Wartime and post-war shortages of newsprint and other materials and equipment, and even of repair parts needed in printing newspapers, have shown the constant danger of involuntary interrupted production. This is especially true in the case of small dailies and a great number of weekly newspapers in Pennsylvania.

As the law now exists, any interruption in publication, no matter how absolutely unavoidable it may be, would endanger the right of the paper to receive legal and official advertising under the provisions of the Newspaper Advertising Act. This Act says that a newspaper must have been published continuously for six months to be eligible to publish legal advertising. The sole purpose of the amendment proposed in Senate Bill No. 823 is to remove that threat in the case of any involuntary suspension of publication.

Not only will this bill afford protection to the publishers of small newspapers, but it will make impossible any upset of litigation in case legal advertising should be placed inadvertently in a newspaper that had been forced to suspend publication.

I might say that Mr. Dix who himself has published a small newspaper, and other small newspapers at this time are in a position to suspend for a week or two in order to give their employes a vacation because of their health.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair thanks the gentleman from Allegheny.

Mr. DIX. Mr. Speaker—

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair would say to the gentleman from Wayne, Mr. Dix, that he has been abundantly informed. What we wanted the explanation for was an opportunity to smoke our pipe.

Mr. DIX. Mr. Speaker, I just wanted to thank the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Stuart, for helping me out. In view of the fact that the Wayne County Citizen has been published for over one hundred years, I hope it will not cease publication for some time to come, but if it should I am sure that this legislation will be very beneficial.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair thanks the gentleman from Wayne, Mr. Dix.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 828, as follows:

An Act to authorize and empower the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission to combine the Turnpike the Eastern Extension and the Western Extension or any two thereof for financing purposes under the provisions of this Act authorizing the issuance of Turnpike Revenue bonds of the Commonwealth payable solely from tolls to pay the cost of the Eastern Extension and the Western Extension paying the cost of the Eastern Extension or the cost of the Western Extension or the cost of both and refunding any Turnpike revenue bonds or Turnpike refunding bonds which have heretofore been issued by the Commission under the provisions of any Act heretofore approved or under the provisions of this Act and which shall then be outstanding including the payment of any redemption premiums thereon refunding any revenue bonds or revenue refunding bonds heretofore issued under the provisions of this Act including the payment of and redemption premiums thereon authorizing the Commission to fix tolls from time to time for use of the projects so combined providing for the use of a facsimile of the signature of the Governor and of the Chairman of the Commission in lieu of their manual signatures and a facsimile of the official seal of the Commission upon any bonds issued under the provisions of this Act or any other Act authorizing the issuance of bonds for the payment of the construction of any Turnpike and giving certain definitions

Section 1 As used in this Act the following words and terms shall have the following meanings unless the context shall indicate another or different meaning or intent

NOT VOTING—1

Trout,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative and the amendments were concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

HOUSE BILL No. 714.

An Act to re-enact sections one to nine inclusive of the act approved the second day of July one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 2803 Act No 588) entitled "An act providing a method of annexation of townships of the first class and parts thereof to cities and boroughs and regulating the proceedings pertaining thereto" to make the same applicable to the annexation of parts of townships of the first class in counties of the second class not in excess of twenty per centum of the assessed value of any such township in counties of the second class to contiguous cities of the second class boroughs or other contiguous townships of the first class and repealing inconsistent laws excepting as to proceedings now pending

With the information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments. The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend the title, by striking out all of page 1, and line 1 of page 2 including the word "thereto," and inserting in lieu thereof the following: To re-enact sections one to nine inclusive of the act approved the second day of July one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 2803 Act No 588) entitled "An act providing a method of annexation of townships of the first class and parts thereof to cities and boroughs and regulating the proceedings pertaining thereto" to make the same applicable to the annexation of parts of townships of the first class in counties of the second class not in excess of twenty per centum of the assessed value of any such township in counties of the second class to contiguous cities of the second class boroughs or other contiguous townships of the first class and repealing inconsistent laws excepting as to proceedings now pending

Amend page 3, by inserting after the word "follows" the following:

Section 1 Sections one to nine inclusive of the act approved the second day of July one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 2803 Act No. 588) entitled "An act providing a method of annexation of townships of the first class and parts thereof to cities and boroughs and regulating the proceedings pertaining thereto" are hereby re-enacted to read as follows

Section 1 Be it enacted &c that whenever electors equal as to at least ten per centum of the highest vote cast for any office in any township of the first class contiguous to a city or borough at the last preceding general election or whenever ten per centum of the qualified electors residing within any part of a township of the first class contiguous to a city or borough shall petition the council of such city or borough for the annexation of the township of the first class or part thereof to the contiguous city or borough and for a referendum on the question of such annexation the council shall cause a question to be submitted at the primary election occurring at least sixty days thereafter by certifying a resolution duly adopted to the county commissioners of the county or counties in which any part of the city or borough or the township of the first class is located for submission of such question on the ballot or on voting machines at such election both in such township and in the city or borough to which annexation is desired in the manner provided by the election laws of this commonwealth

Such question shall be in the following form

Do you favor the annexation of the township of (or the part of the township briefly described) to the city (or borough) of	Yes	_____
	No	_____

If a majority of the persons voting on such question in the entire township and a majority of the persons voting on such question in the city or borough shall vote "Yes" then the township of the first class or part thereof as the case may be shall on the first Monday of January next following be and become a part of the city or borough

All petitions shall be accompanied by a plot or plots of the territory to be annexed showing all streets and highways municipal improvements and public buildings and all petitions for the annexation of a part of a township of the first class shall include a description of the part of the township sought to be annexed

Section 2 Until changed in the manner provided by law the township of the first class or part thereof if not divided into wards shall constitute a separate new ward of the enlarged city or of the enlarged borough if such borough is at the time divided into ward and if the township or part of a township at the time of the annexation was divided into wards then each ward of the township or part of a township shall constitute a separate new ward of the enlarged city or borough (if divided into wards) and shall be numbered by the council of the city or borough consecutively beginning with the next highest number after the existing highest numbered ward of the city or borough until changed in the manner provided by law all election districts in the township of the first class or part thereof shall remain as constituted at the time of the annexation and shall become election districts of the enlarged city or borough all election and other officers of such election districts in office at the time of the taking effect of the annexation shall continue in office until the expiration of their respective terms unless sooner removed as provided by law

Section 3 In the case of the annexation of an entire township of the first class all the indebtedness of the township as well as the indebtedness of the city or borough to which the same is annexed shall be paid by the city or borough as enlarged by such annexation and all territory included within the limits of the same shall be liable for the payment of the floating and bonded indebtedness and the interest thereon of all the territory included within such enlarged city or borough all taxes thereafter levied therefor shall be uniform throughout the territorial limits of the enlarged city or borough

All of the public property owned by any such township shall become and remain the public property of the city or borough to which it is annexed

Section 4 Where any part of any township of the first class is annexed to any city or borough the township officers of that part of the township not annexed and the city or borough council shall make a just and proper adjustment and apportionment of all public property owned by the township at the time of annexation both real and personal including funds as well as of indebtedness if any to and between the township and the city or borough in making such adjustment and apportionment of the property and indebtedness the township and the city or borough shall be entitled respectively to share in a division of the property and indebtedness in the proportion that the assessed valuation of the land remaining in the township bears to the assessed valuation of the land annexed the adjustment and apportionment as made shall be reduced to writing in proper form and duly executed and acknowledged by the proper officials and filed in the office of the clerk of the court of Quarter Sessions in the county in which said city is located

Section 5 In case the council of the city or borough and the township authorities cannot make such amicable apportionment and adjustment of their property and indebtedness in compliance with this act within six months after any such annexation then the council or any officer of the township may present a petition to the court of Quarter Sessions of the county in which the city or borough is located whereupon the court shall appoint three disinterested commissioners residents and taxpayers of the county not residing in the city or borough nor in the township who after hearing notice of which shall be given to the city or borough and township interested as the court shall direct shall make report to the court making an apportionment and adjustment of all the property as well as indebtedness if any to and between the city or borough and the township said report to state the amount if any that shall be due and payable from the city or borough to the township or from the township to the city or borough as well as the amount of indebtedness if any that shall be assumed by the city or borough or by the township or both of them

Section 6 The Commissioners shall give the city or borough and the township at least five days notice of the filing of their report and unless exceptions are filed thereto by the city or borough or by the township within thirty days after filing thereof the same shall be confirmed by the court absolutely and any sum awarded by said report to the city or borough or to the township shall be a legal and valid claim in its favor against the city or borough or township charged therewith and the amount of debt if any apportioned to any city or borough or township shall be a legal and valid claim against such city or borough or township charged therewith and any property real or personal given and adjudged to the city or borough or the township shall become and be the property of the city or borough or the township to whichever one the same is given and adjudged and upon such report being confirmed such claim or indebtedness charged against any city or borough or against any township may be collected in the same manner as a judgment is collected against any city or borough or township Such commissioners shall be allowed five dollars per day for each day actually spent by them in the performance of their duties together with their actual necessary expenses all costs and expenses of such proceedings shall be apportioned by the court to and between the city or borough and the township as it shall deem proper

In case exceptions are filed to the report of such commissioners the court shall dispose of the same taking testimony therein if deemed advisable and the decision of the court thereon shall be final and binding on the several cities boroughs and townships unless an appeal is taken within thirty days to the superior or supreme court as in other cases

Section 7 In cases in which such cities boroughs or townships of the first class are situated in two or more counties the court of quarter sessions of the county in which the city or borough is located shall have exclusive jurisdiction over the matter but the same shall be heard by a judge not a resident of either of the judicial districts affected who shall be called to preside specially in the matter and in such case the court shall appoint the commissioners hereinbefore provided for from both or all of such counties

Section 8 When an election is held on the question of annexation under the provisions of this act and the township of the first class proposed to be annexed or in which the territory proposed to be annexed is located votes against such annexation the question of such annexation shall not again be voted upon for a period of two years from the date of such election

Section 9 All proceedings for the annexation of a township of the first class or a part thereof to any city or borough under the provisions of any existing law that are pending and not finally disposed of on the effective date of this act shall be disposed of and determined under the provisions of the act under which they were brought and all proceedings for the annexation of any township of the first class or part thereof to any city or borough shall hereafter be had only under the provisions of this act

Amend Section 2, page 14, by striking out after the word "thereto" the words "is hereby repealed" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "and all other acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed excepting as to proceedings now pending."

Amend Section 3, page 14, by inserting after the word "enactment" the words "excepting as to proceedings now pending."

HOUSE BILL No. 952

Mr. DAVID P. REESE. Mr. Speaker, I present the report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 952.

The SPEAKER. The report will lie over for printing.

HOUSE BILL No. 952

The SPEAKER. The Chair lays before the House, the Minority Report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 952.

The report was read as follows:

The minority members on the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 952 oppose the report of the Committee for the following reasons:

A. Because by the amendments made on page 7 this bill now is immanently unfair in that it pays benefits in times of labor disputes to non-union members while denying same benefits to Union members not directly interested in the dispute.

B. Because by the nature of the bill itself the philosophy behind the payment of Unemployment Compensation is one that considers benefits to be paid as strike benefits rather than Unemployment Compensation benefits.

C. Because in the opinion of the minority members this bill will shift from industry the responsibility and costs for the relief of distressed families of unemployed strikers to the Department of Public Assistance, thereby putting the costs directly upon the shoulders of the taxpayers.

D. Because this bill is a deliberate attack upon the entire structure of the American Labor movement. It is part of a definite program to make impotent the force and bargaining power of the American labor movement.

JOHN H. DENT,
Member of the Senate.

A. V. CAPANO,
Member of the House of Representatives.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 306, entitled:

An Act to consolidate amend and revise the penal laws of the Commonwealth.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

PERMISSION TO INTRODUCE BILL

Mr. MIKULA asked and obtained unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, while I am functioning today in the position of my Minority Whip, I would like to ask whether it would be in order to make a motion that all Committees be discharged from consideration of all bills.

The SPEAKER. That is the gentleman's privilege.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 493, as follows:

An Act to further amend clause Sixth of section three section four and to amend section eight of the act approved the thirty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. Section 2 Section eight of said act is hereby amended as follows

Section 8 The Department of Agriculture is charged with the enforcement of the provisions of this act. Provided however that this provision shall not prevent any person or trade association from making complaints in the usual manner before any magistrate alderman or justice of the peace of any city borough incorporated town or township of this Commonwealth where the alleged violation took place for a violation of the provisions of this act

The Department is authorized to adopt and promulgate such rules and regulations as are necessary for the proper enforcement of the provisions of this act

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, Senate Bill No. 493 is the bill that I requested the other day or a week or so ago, that the sponsor of the bill please explain to the Members of this House what this particular bill did. Now, I understand my good friend, the Majority Whip, could make a statement with regard to this bill, and if he would like to make that statement prior to my statement, I would appreciate it if he would do it.

Mr. Speaker, I yield to the Majority Whip.

Mr. BRUNNER. Mr. Speaker, it was my understanding that another Member would make an explanation of this Act, but I think I can explain briefly the provisions of the present law and what the basic changes are under this bill. It is my understanding that under the present law if we have ice cream in an original container in a storage room, and a quarter of beef some fifty feet away from it, that ice cream under the present law is deemed to be adulterated. This bill would enable ice cream to be kept in freezing units or storage units in stores and elsewhere where there is more than one compartment, and would permit the ice cream to be contained in one or more compartments, and allow frozen foods to be in the other compartments without the ice cream being deemed adulterated.

There are exceptions in the bill in connection with these general principles, one exception being where a distributor or a manufacturer of a product leases or loans a freezing unit or a storage unit to an individual and then under those conditions the freezer shall not be used for products other than that of the distributor or the manufacturer. Of course, that can be waived by agreement, but generally speaking that cannot be done under this bill. This bill is sponsored by the Senator from Montgomery, Mr. Wood, and I have given you that information as it was explained to me by him.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, the explanation that my colleague on the other side gave of this bill reminds me of the story of the hamburger made out of rabbit and horse, fifty-fifty, one horse, one rabbit. He says one quart of ice cream and a quarter of beef.

During the last session of the Legislature we had practically the same bill, and if my memory serves me right we defeated that bill in Committee. My good friend, Mr. Huntley, who was a Member here for many years, assisted me in defeating that bill, because he felt that that bill was in the interest of the men who had these coolers and set them into the local stores. From my knowledge of this bill, it would prohibit putting in any product that was not the product of the concern that put in the refrigeration. In other words, if you bought a few popsicles, you couldn't put them in this container, providing they were made by some other small corporation or individual who was trying to make a living.

I also notice in this bill that policing under this bill would come under the Department of Agriculture. Now, this Department of Agriculture, if my memory serves me right, refused to have a bill passed here or was not in favor of having the bill passed here, that would raise the vitamins of our bread. Of course, in the raising of the vitamins of the bread, that would deal with the individual. If the Department should take care of anybody, to my mind, it is the individual in the state of Pennsylvania, but I understand that the Department has no objection to policing under this bill. I also notice in this bill that although the Department does agree to police and enforce the law under this bill, that we still give the individual owner of the container or freezer the right to enter suit before any magistrate or any court. I do not feel that we should as a State police or protect these people who have these freezers or containers. Under the present law, they can put a container into any store. They can stipulate when they put it into the store, that you cannot put anything into it other than their product. That is their stipulation. They can say to the merchant, "or we will take it out." I don't know why we should protect them. That is their business.

Back in some of our small communities we don't want the Department of Agriculture going into our local grocery stores and fining people under the Pure Foods Act or some other Act of the State of Pennsylvania in defense of this legislation. So, my friends, in the interest of small business and those who do not have the containers to set them into the stores, I urge that we defeat this bill and say to these people that own these containers, "You take care of your own containers, you stipulate when you set the refrigeration into the store, what the store shall put into it or keep in it." In that way you make him responsible for his own refrigeration and containers.

My friends, I ask you to vote down Senate Bill No. 493, Printer's No. 375, and I ask the Clerk to only record those answering to their names.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

Agreeably to order,
The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 609, as follows:

An Act to further amend the act approved the ninth day of June one thousand nine hundred eleven (P. L. 756) entitled "An act to provide for the health and safety of persons employed in and about bituminous coal mines of Pennsylvania and for the protection and preservation of property connected therewith" by further providing for the health and safety of persons employed in and about the bituminous coal mines of Pennsylvania

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Be it enacted &c that section one of article one of the act approved the ninth day of June one thousand nine hundred eleven (P. L. 756) entitled "An act to provide for the health and safety of persons employed in and about the bituminous coal mines of Pennsylvania and for the protection and preservation of property connected therewith" as amended by the act approved the first day of July one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 2486) is hereby further amended by inserting therein a new clause to read as follows

Section 1 Be it enacted &c that for the purpose of this act the terms and definitions contained therein shall be as follows

Return Air After a volume of air has passed through and has ventilated all of the working places in an air split of a mine it shall then be designated as return air

Section 2 Section four of article four of said act is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 4 In case of accident to a ventilating fan or its machinery whereby the ventilation of the mine would be seriously interrupted or where the fan has been stopped for a period of time not exceeding thirty minutes in a gaseous mine and sixty minutes in a non-gaseous mine the mine foreman shall order the men to withdraw immediately from the mine if the mine foreman shall deem it necessary he may withdraw the men from a gaseous mine in less than thirty minutes and from a non-gaseous mine in less than sixty minutes He shall not allow them to return to their work until the ventilation has been restored and the mine has been thoroughly examined by him or by an assistant mine foreman or fire boss and reported safe

Section 3 Section nine of article four of said act as last amended by section six of the act approved the first day of July one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 2486) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 9 The mine foreman shall direct that the coal is properly mined before it is blasted "Properly mined" shall mean that the coal shall be undercut centercut overcut or sheared by pick or machine and in any case the cutting shall be as deep as the holes are laid in mines generating explosive gas in quantities sufficient to be detected by an approved safety lamp when the coal seam is five feet six inches or more in thickness "properly mined" shall mean that in all entries less than ten feet wide wherein the coal is undercut or overcut it shall be sheared on one side as deep as the cutting before any holes are charged and fired or the coal shall be blasted in sections by placing the first hole near the center of the coal seam He shall direct that sprags be set as often as necessary but at a distance not exceeding seven feet apart under or upon the breast of undermined centermined or overmined coal The mine foreman shall direct at what hours blasting shall be done in the mine and a notice of the time shall be posted at a conspicuous place at the mine and a copy of the notice shall be kept on file at the mine office Provided however that in districts in which it has been the common practice to blast coal from the solid said practice or method may be continued notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein contained

In all [such] dry and dusty portions of a [dry and dusty] mine [where explosive gas is being generated in quantities sufficient to be detected by an approved safety lamp] the mine foreman shall direct and see that the rooms and entries are moistened by water or other efficient means as often as necessary to keep the dust in damp condition and he shall direct and see that the dust is loaded and taken out of the mine as often as necessary

In lieu of the above provisions rock dust may be substituted for or used in conjunction with water under the following conditions The rock dust to be used shall be pulverized so that one hundred per cent will pass through a sieve having twenty meshes per lineal inch and fifty per cent or more will pass through a sieve having two hundred meshes per lineal inch It shall not contain more than five per cent combustible matter nor more than twenty-five per cent of quarts or free silica particles and not be unduly absorbent of moisture Preference shall be given to the lighter colored rock dust

The rock dusting shall be done with such regularity and frequency that all surfaces required to be rock dusted shall be kept in such condition that the incombustible content of the adhering and lodging dust shall not be less than [fifty-five] sixty-five per cent

The rock dust shall be distributed on top bottom and sides of all haulageways travelingways airways developing entries and entries producing coal from rooms or pillars and their parallel entries

The superintendent shall see that a representative sample of dust is gathered at each sampling point from the roof sides and floor of all entries by a competent person once each two months and tested to determine if any part of the mine requires redusting and a record shall be kept in a book provided for that purpose through the Department of Mines in the same manner as is provided for the record books of the mine officials showing the location at which samples have been taken and the results of the analyses or tests The distance between sampling points on haulageways travelingways and airways shall not exceed two thousand feet but in developing entries and in entries producing coal from rooms or pillars and their parallel entries the distance between sampling points shall not exceed five hundred feet If in the judgment of the mine inspector of the district any mine or portion of a mine is of such a dry and dusty nature as to cause a hazard from coal dust he shall direct that the said mine or portion of a mine be rock dusted or watered as provided in this article However if in the judgment of the inspector of the district the coal in the coal bed is of such a dry and dusty nature that the various processes of releasing the coal from the coal bed and its subsequent loading and transporting throws into suspension in the atmosphere of a working place or places such amount of coal dust as to indicate danger therefrom he shall direct that all coal in such working place or places be watered to the extent that coal dust will not be thrown into suspension in the atmosphere of the working place or places in such quantity as to indicate danger from coal dust while the coal is being loaded and transported Should the operator superintendent or mine foreman of any mine be dissatisfied with the decision of the mine inspector in regard to watering or rock dusting it shall be the duty of the dissatisfied person to appeal from such decision to the Secretary of Mines who shall at once direct two or more of the other inspectors to accompany promptly the inspector of the district to make further examination into the matter in dispute If the said inspectors shall agree with the decision of the inspector of the district their decision shall be final and conclusive unless the dissatisfied person shall within seven days of the receipt of the decision of the committee of inspectors appeal therefrom to the court of quarter sessions of the county in which said mine is situated and thereafter the proceedings had shall be as prescribed by sections one and two of article ten of this act as amended

The mine foreman shall direct and see that as the miners advance in their excavation all dangerous and doubtful pieces of coal slate and rock overhead are taken down or at once carefully secured against falling on the workmen Any workman who neglects to carry out or disobeys the instructions of the mine foreman or his assistant in regard to securing his working place shall be suspended or discharged by the mine foreman and if such negligence or disobedience results in serious injury or loss of life to any person the mine foreman shall give the name of said workman to the inspector for prosecution in accordance with section two article twenty-six of this act

Section 4 Section one of article eight of said act as amended by section fifteen of the act approved the first day of July one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 2486) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 1 The operator or the superintendent shall provide and hereafter maintain in good condition from the top to the bottom of every shaft or slope where persons or material are lowered or hoisted a telephone or metal tube of proper diameter suitably adapted to the free passage of sound through which conversation may be held and understood between persons at the top and the bottom of said shaft or slope and he shall also provide means of signaling from the top to the bottom and from the bottom to the top of such shaft or slope The same provisions shall apply to inside planes whereon coal is lowered and persons have to travel [when required by the inspector] In all mines telephone connections shall be made from the surface to the main sections of the mine when required by the inspector All signaling apparatus and telephone connections shall be kept in good condition and shall be always available for service

The operator or the superintendent shall provide every cage used for lowering or hoisting persons with handrails at sides or overhead or additional suitable devices and with [chain] bar or gate at ends and with a sufficient covering overhead to protect persons thereon and shall also provide for each said cage efficient safety catches which shall be tested once every two month and a record of each test shall be sent to the inspector and to the superintendent and also recorded with ink in a book kept at the mine office for that purpose The ropes shall be securely attached to the sides of the drum of every machine that is used for lowering and hoisting persons or material into and out of the mine and the flanges shall have a clearance of not less than four inches when the whole of the rope is wound on the drum and adequate brakes shall be attached to the drum so that the speed thereof can be controlled when men are being lowered or hoisted An efficient indicator that shall show the position of the cages in the shaft shall be attached to the hoisting apparatus and an efficient safety device that will prevent overwinding shall be attached to every engine used for lowering and hoisting persons

All shafts shall be provided with safety gates controlled by the cage at the top and intermediate landings said gates to be approved by the inspector and suitable track safety blocks shall be provided to secure mine cars while men or material are entering or leaving the cage

Section 5 Paragraph five of section six of article nine of said act as amended by section seventeen of the act approved the first day of July one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 2486) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 6 Every ventilating fan at non-gaseous mines shall be kept in operation continuously day and night unless operations are definitely suspended except when written permission is given by the inspector to stop it The said permission or a copy thereof shall be posted by the mine foreman in a conspicuous place at the entrance or entrances to the mine and shall state the particular hours the fan may be stopped The inspector shall have the power to withdraw or modify such permission at any time and in any manner he may deem best In all cases in which permission has been given by the inspector to stop the ventilating fan the fan shall be started two hours before the time to begin work It shall be the duty of the mine foreman to see to it that all persons are out of the mine before the fan is stopped and that no person be permitted to enter the mine until the fan has been in operation for a period of two hours

No main or principal ventilating fan shall be placed inside of any mine No auxiliary fan unless driven by electricity or compressed air shall be placed in any mine If the fan be electrically driven the motor shall be placed in the intake airway

[Every ventilating furnace in a mine shall be properly attended to and operated by a competent person employed by the mine foreman for that purpose for two hours before the appointed time to begin work and constantly thereafter during working hours]

Section 6 Section nine of article ten of said act as amended by section twenty-one of the act approved the first day of July one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 2486) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 9 All approved lamps used for examining mines or for working therein shall be the property of the operator and shall be in care of the mine foreman assistant mine foreman fire boss or some other competent person or persons appointed by the mine foreman whose duty it shall be to clean fill trim examine light and deliver them locked and in a safe condition to the men when entering the mine and to receive the lamps from the men when returning from work [for which service a charge not exceeding the actual cost of labor and material may be made by the operator] At any mine wherein explosive gas was generated within one year before the passage of this act in sufficient quantities to be detected by an approved safety lamp a sufficient number of approved safety lamps not less than one-fourth of the number of approved safety lamps in use shall be kept in a convenient place in good condition for use in case of emergency It shall be the duty of every person who knows that his approved lamp is injured or defective to return it immediately and report such fact to the person authorized to receive and care for said lamp who shall report the matter to the mine foreman assistant mine foreman or fire boss as soon as practicable

Section 7 Subsection forty-one of section three and subsections seventy-one seventy-two and seventy-three of section five of article eleven of said act are hereby amended to read as follows

41 All branch trolley lines shall be fitted with an automatic trolley switch or section insulator and line switch or some other device that will allow the current to be shut off from such branch headings Switches or circuits breakers shall be provided on haulage roads to de-energize all trolley and feeder lines at intervals not to exceed two thousand feet

71 No man shall be placed in charge of [a] an electrically operated coalcutting loading or drilling machine in any gaseous portion of a mine who is not a competent person capable of determining the safety of the roof and sides of the working place and detecting the presence of explosive gas

72 In any gaseous portion of a mine no electrically operated [a] coalcutting loading or drilling machine shall be brought within the last break-through next the working face until the machine [man] operator shall have made an inspection for gas in the place where the machine is to work unless such examination is then made by some other competent person authorized or appointed for that purpose by the mine foreman If any explosive gas is found in the place the machine shall not be taken in

73 No electrically operated coalcutting loading or drilling machine shall be continued in operation in a gaseous portion of a mine for a longer period than half an hour without an examination as above described being made for gas and if gas is found the current shall at once be disconnected from the power supply

Section 8 Section eleven of article nineteen of the said act is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 11 Each inspector shall devote the whole of his time to the duties of his office It shall be his duty to thoroughly examine each mine in his district as often as possible (but at least once every four months) giving special attention to all mines generating explosive gas and to other mines where unusual dangers may be suspected to exist and to see that all provisions of this act are observed and strictly carried out especially those that demand that the air current be carried to the working faces He shall keep in his office a record of all examinations of mines showing the condition in which he finds them especially with reference to ventilation and drainage the number of persons employed inside of each mine the extent to which the law is obeyed and the progress made in the improvement of mines He shall keep a record of all serious accidents showing the nature and causes thereof and the number of deaths resulting therefrom

Section 9 Section one of article twenty-eight of said act as amended by section forty-six of the act approved the first day of July one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 2486) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 1 Should a mine or portion of a mine that has at any time generated explosive gas in quantities sufficient to be detected by an approved safety lamp after the passage of this act not to generate explosive gas during any one period of [two] four years then such mine or portion of a mine shall not be governed or controlled by the provisions of this act for mines or portions of mines generating explosive gas Should a mine that has been classified as a gaseous mine not so generate explosive gas during any one period of four years then such mine shall not be governed or controlled by the provisions of this act for mines generating explosive gas After two years such a mine for rating purposes only shall be reclassified by the Department of Mines as non-gaseous with the condition however that the mine shall continue to operate for two more years without removing any of the safety restrictions and equipment required in a gaseous mine and at the end of the four years such mine shall not be governed or controlled by the provisions of this act for mines generating explosive gases and the Department of Mines shall declare the mine as non-gaseous

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

L. four hundred fifty-two) its amendments and supplements and bonds] of any housing authority issued pursuant to the provisions of the laws of this Commonwealth relating to the creation or operation of [such] housing authorities.

Section 13 The said paragraph clause and section of said act is hereby amended by adding after subsection (15) as hereinbefore renumbered and amended the following new subsection known as subsection (16):

Subsection (16) Preferred Stock Such preferred stock of any corporation including gas water electric railroad and telephone corporations and other public utility corporations as well as industrial corporations and of any other corporation organized under the laws of the United States or of any State or Commonwealth hereof or of the District of Columbia which such fiduciary may purchase in the exercise of that degree of judgment and care under the circumstances then prevailing which men of prudence discretion and intelligence exercise in the management of their own affairs not in regard to speculation but in regard to the permanent disposition of their funds considering the probable income to be derived therefrom as well as the probable safety of their capital. Provided however that such preferred stock whether a new or an old issue shall comply with the following requirements: (a) It shall be listed (or if unlisted it shall be eligible for listing and application for listing shall have been made) on the New York Stock Exchange or other principal exchange approved by the Secretary of Banking (b) the corporation issuing such preferred stock shall have earned a net profit after all interest expenses and taxes but before preferred dividends in eight of the preceding ten years and shall not have suffered or committed a default in the payment of preferred dividends during such preceding ten years (c) any new preferred stock issued by a corporation subject to the supervision of a regulatory body either State Federal or both shall have received the approval of such body or bodies

In determining the qualifications of any investment under this subsection where a corporation shall have acquired its property or any substantial part thereof within the ten years immediately preceding the date of such investment by consolidation or by merger or by the purchase of all or a substantial portion of the property of any other corporation or corporations the net earnings and fixed charges of the predecessor or constituent corporations shall be consolidated and adjusted so as to ascertain whether the requirements of this subsection have been compiled with

Section 14 Subsection (19) of said paragraph clause and section of said act as last amended by the act approved the twenty-eighth day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 1037) is hereby renumbered and amended to read as follows

Subsection [(19)] (17) General Provisions

(a) Nothing contained in this section shall be construed to relieve any fiduciary from the duty of exercising due care and prudence in the performance of the duties of his office

(b) Nothing contained in this section shall be construed to authorize any fiduciary to make any investment contrary to the directions in regard to investments contained in the will deed or other instrument creating the trust in his care nor to limit or restrict the authority conferred upon any such fiduciary with respect to investments by any such instrument but the terms "legal investment" or "authorized investment" or words of similar import as used in such instrument shall be taken to mean any investment permitted under the terms of this section

(c) No fiduciary shall be liable for any loss incurred with respect to any investment not legal for the investment of trust funds as provided in this section when such nonlegal investment was received by such fiduciary pursuant to the terms of the will deed decree of court or other instrument or if such nonlegal investment was legal when received or when the investment was made by the fiduciary provided such fiduciary exercises due care and prudence in the disposition or retention of any such nonlegal investment

(d) Within the meaning of this section the term "fair value" of real estate shall be the value placed thereon in a written appraisal by two reputable persons familiar with real estate value in the vicinity of such real estate who shall actually have inspected the property before making the appraisal and shall so certify therein. Any such appraisal shall be filed and preserved among the records of the fiduciary

(e) The provisions of this section shall govern the investments of fiduciaries acting under wills agreements court orders and other instruments now existing as well as those which are made or come into legal effect hereafter

Section 15 All other acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed

Section 16 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WEISS. Mr. Speaker, this is one of the most important bills in this particular session. It has to do with the changing of the law that has been in existence for the past thirty years, since 1917. The Joint State Government Commission did a wonderful job in studying, or making changes in the Interstate Act, in the Wills Act and in other acts pertaining to the very same matter.

This is one matter that definitely should have been studied by the Joint State Government Commission because it affects the investment of money that ordinarily belongs to orphans and widows. This would open the dykes and permit investment in practically all kinds of bonds and stocks which is not now permitted under the Act. Up to the present time not one Orphans' court judge and not one widow or orphan has come asking for this particular bill; not even one small banker, but only the representatives of the big banks are asking for this at the present time.

This bill may have a lot of merit, Members of the House, but in the closing days of this session we should be very cautious about passing this type of legislation. If this had been considered by the Joint State Government Commission along with the Fiduciary Act which they expect to consider during the next two years, and give it a lot of thought, and then they would come to this House and say, "Yes, this bill should be reported out," then I would say we ought to vote on it, but until we study it more carefully and until we have had the advice and guidance of the Joint State Government Commission and other agencies I think we ought not to vote for this bill at the present time. There is no extreme need for it at the present time. We should not take any chance of depriving our orphans and widows of the proper protection that the law gives them at the present time.

Therefore, I would ask the Members to vote this particular bill down at the present session, and if it goes to the Joint State Government Commission for proper study and comes up at the next session of the Legislature, it will be all right to vote on it then.

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman indicates that the bill may have some merit, and I feel that perhaps a few words on its behalf might not be amiss in view of that statement.

It is true that a trustee under the broadened investment powers that might be granted or vested in him, if he were to be imprudent or unwise could do as he could in many other ways, but I should like to indicate just one instance that occurred to me where the estate of a decedent was bequeathed and devised to a trust through a trustee on behalf of charities exclusively. Under the present law there is difficulty in investing the funds with any degree of income whatever. If, however, they should be so restricted as not to be permitted to receive a substantial income, in much sooner time the principal of these estates will be depleted and the charities will be without funds to derive any income therefrom. I respectfully suggest that in view of the present economic circumstances and difficulty of investing funds that the powers of the trustee be broadened and that the Members vote for this particular measure.

Mr. WEISS. Mr. Speaker, I am glad that the Majority Leader got up to speak on the question. The only thing involved here now as far as the passage of this bill is concerned, is the yield. The Members have to decide which is the more important, possibly a little more yield or a greater degree of protection. The act as it is now is definitely protection for the widows and orphans. It is true that this might make a little more profit for the stock owners but there might possibly be losses in the long run.

If the gentleman will turn to page 11 and also to page 17 he will see how broadened it is from the present law as far as investments are concerned. You can invest in practically anything under this act, and I say to give the trustees or the bank or anybody that power to invest might prove very disastrous as far as investments are concerned.

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 69

Mr. KELLEY. Mr. Speaker, I call up at this time House Resolution No. 69 on page 55 of today's calendar.

The resolution was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, June 11, 1947.

Whereas The General Assembly in 1919 passed an act under which the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania dedicated to public use as an historical memorial certain lands and buildings in the borough of Ambridge fifteen miles west of Pittsburgh theretofore the property of the Harmony Society and

Whereas These lands and buildings were dedicated as a memorial to the Harmony Society and the preservation restoration custody and maintenance of Old Economy Park and the memorial was delegated to the Pennsylvania Historical Commission which commission later placed the care and restoration of the same in the hands of The Harmony Society Historical Association and

Whereas The Harmony Society Historical Association has continued to carry out its trust and has had many lean years and many rich years particularly in 1937 when it together with the Pennsylvania Historical Commission received on behalf of the Commonwealth an invaluable collection of books documents furniture paintings and relics from Dr. John S. Duss and his wife which collection is known as the "Duss Memorial Exhibit" and which articles were formerly in the buildings of the Harmony Society and

Whereas Not only has Dr. Duss and his wife contributed many invaluable gifts to the memorial but he has also given during the twenty-eight years since its establishment much of his time and energy in furtherance of the memorial and because of his having been a member of The Harmony Society since 1862 and as a result of his wide and intimate knowledge of its affairs and history he has been able to give incalculable assistance to Mr. Charles M. Stotz the conscientious architect in charge of the restoration of the buildings and to others in setting up the exhibits of relics and its other contents and

Whereas The Harmony Society Historical Association has also had the continued and enthusiastic support through the years of an organization known as the Economy Old Timers of whom Christiana Knoedler its corresponding secretary has carried much of the work and responsibility therefore be it

Resolved That we as members of the House of Representatives do congratulate The Harmony Society Historical Association for its faithful and successful execution of its trust Dr. John S. Duss and his wife for their generous kindness and Dr. Duss's untiring efforts and the Economy Old Timers and its recording secretary Christiana Knoedler for their and her help in carrying out a great historical trust and be it further

Resolved That the Chief Clerk of the House send a copy of this resolution to the associations and persons herein congratulated as a token of our appreciation for their unselfish efforts in keeping one of Pennsylvania's shrines intact for the inspiration of our contemporaries and our descendants

RESOLUTION No. 67

Mr. DAVID P. REESE. Mr. Speaker, I call up at this time House Resolution No. 67, on page 55 of today's calendar.

The resolution was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In House of Representatives, June 10, 1947.

Whereas the amount of tax collected under the Federal Unemployment Insurance Act is considerably in excess of the total amount appropriated for grants-in-aid to the several states and required by such states for the administration of their respective unemployment compensation laws and

Whereas the total amount of such tax should properly be returned to the states for administration of their respective unemployment compensation laws and the payment of benefits to unemployed workers therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concurs) that the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby respectfully memorializes the Congress of the United States to enact the necessary Federal legislation whereby all moneys collected from Pennsylvania employers under the Federal Unemployment Tax Act are returned to the Commonwealth for the administration of the Pennsylvania Unemployment Compensation Law Provided That any such moneys in excess of the amount required for administration are transferred to the Unemployment Compensation Account for the payment of benefits to unemployed Pennsylvania workers

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

BILL ON THIRD READING

L. 258) entitled "An act fixing the salaries of the associate judges not learned in the law of the courts of this Commonwealth" be and the same are hereby repealed

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WORLEY. Mr. Speaker, are we now on the judges' salary increase bill?

The SPEAKER. We are now on Senate Bill 94, Printer's No. 587, on page 30.

Mr. WORLEY. That is the judges' salary increase bill. Mr. Speaker, I want to say to this House that the time has come when this Legislature and State Legislators in general will have to take their part and stand alone and against the other branches of government and stand up for the duties conferred upon them.

When our Constitution was founded a separation of power was set up whereby there would be a legislative, an executive and a judicial branch, and the reason was that one should not dominate the other, because if a man could make a law and decide his own case we would have arbitrary acts, we would have a government of men and not of law. So for that reason we have the various powers separated.

I want to ask here tonight whether or not the judiciary is trying to dominate this House. You know the independence of the Legislature is the only assurance we have of democracy. Dictatorships have courts, dictatorships have the executive branch of government but they do not have the legislature, and if they do have the legislature they are simply a bunch of puppets, but in a democracy we have the judiciary, the executive and we have the legislature, and it is the legislature that determines the difference between a dictatorship and a democracy.

If we in America cannot stand alone and are afraid of the other two branches, we are going in the direction of dictatorship. You know that Abraham Lincoln once said that this is a Government by the people, of the people, and for the people. If we are going to stand here and pass this bill tonight to give the judges' an necessary increase we are simply saying to the people of Pennsylvania, "We are in a government by the people, of the politicians and for the big shots."

I submit, Mr. Speaker, we should vote down this bill, and I hope the members will go along.

Shall the bill pass finally?

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. LAYER filed the following reasons for his vote.

My recorded vote of "No" on this measure is not a vote against an increase in salary for our most competent judges, but in protest of this bill. It is my understanding that an argument was made that all of our public officials were to receive a ten per cent increase. Senate Bill 94 violated that agreement, therefore I recorded my vote as No.

I am in favor of a ten per cent increase.

Mr. LYONS filed the following reasons for his vote:

Reasons for voting "Aye" on Senate Bill No. 94 is because the defeat of this bill might deprive the courts of any increase in salary. I believe the Judges are entitled to the same increase in salary which was agreed upon for the other county office holders.

The increase provided by this bill appears to me unfair in comparison to the increase in salary given by the bills passed by the House.

Mr. MADDEN filed the following reason for his vote:

My vote on this bill is because the defeat of this measure might deprive the Courts of any increase in salary at this time. I believe the Judges are entitled to the same increase of salary which was agreed upon for the other county office holders. The increase provided by this bill appears to me unfair in comparison to the increase allowed by the salary raiser bills recently passed by the House.

Mr. SPROUL filed the following reasons for his vote.

My vote on this measure is not one against a judicial salary increase but in protest against this particular bill. I understand an agreement was made that all officials were to get a ten per cent increase with which we were in accord. This bill provides more than the agreement of ten per cent provided in the bills passing this House for other officials and is not in accord with the general understanding.

I am willing to stand by that agreement.

Mr. WEISS filed the following reasons for his vote.

I am voting "Aye" on Senate Bill 94 because voting "No" would deprive the courts of any increase. I conscientiously feel that the judges are entitled to a ten per cent increase, which is the percentage of increase agreed upon for other officeholders.

Under this bill the percentage of increase is approximately 17 percent which appears unfair in proportion to increases given to other officeholders and teachers. However I reiterate that some increase should be granted to the courts.

CONGRATULATORY RESOLUTION

Mr. CORDIER offered a resolution which was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, June 13, 1947.

Paul A. Tranchitella, Esquire, one of our Reading Clerks, is a resident of Philadelphia where he was born April 23rd, 1915. He is a son of the late Paul A. Tranchitella, a former tipstaff in the Municipal Court of Philadelphia and a former active member of the Republican Executive Committee of the second ward in Philadelphia for many years.

Mr. Tranchitella graduated from the University of Pennsylvania and the Temple Law School and was admitted to the Philadelphia Bar July 10th, 1946. He served in the United States Army Air Forces as an investigator, and received a commendation for his work while stationed at Kessler Field, Mississippi.

During the period he has served as Reading Clerk in this House he has added another success to his earlier achievements: therefore be it

Resolved, That this House extends to Paul A. Tranchitella its appreciation for the manner in which he has carried out his duties as Reading Clerk, and wishes him continued success in every field of endeavor he essays.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the Reading Clerk of the House.

Mr. TRANCHITELLA. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. Cordier, for his kind resolution. I am deeply moved by this public recognition of my work here, and hope it has been appreciated by all of you.

RECESS

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, the Chair will declare a recess for thirty minutes for the purpose of holding a Republican Caucus immediately in the New House Caucus Room. The Chair hears none, and a recess is declared.

AFTER RECESS

The time of recess having expired, the House was called to order.

The SPEAKER (Franklin H. Lichtenwalter) in the Chair.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 169, as follows:

An Act authorizing the arbitration of inheritance taxes when there are conflicting claims as to the domicile of the decedent and making uniform the law relating thereto

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows
Section 1	Short title—This act shall be known and may be cited as the "Uniform Act of Interstate Arbitration of inheritance Taxes"
Section 2	Definition of State—As used in this act the word "state" shall mean any state territory or possession of the United States and the District of Columbia
Section 3	Interpretation—This act shall be so interpreted and construed as to effectuate its general purpose to make uniform the law of those states which enact it
Section 4	Arbitration Agreement—When the register of wills of any county or the Secretary of the Department of Revenue claims that a decedent was domiciled in this State at the time of his death and the taxing authorities of another state or states make a like claim on behalf of their state or states the Secretary of Revenue may with the approval of the Attorney General make a written agreement with the other taxing authorities and with the executor or administrator to submit the controversy to the decision of a board consisting of one or any uneven number of arbitrators. The executor or administrator is hereby authorized to make the agreement. The parties to the agreement shall select the arbitrator or arbitrators.

Section 5 Hearings—The board shall hold hearings at such times and places as it may determine upon reasonable notice to the parties to the agreement all of whom shall be entitled to be heard to present evidence and to examine and cross-examine witnesses.

Section 6 Powers of Board—The board shall have power to administer oaths take testimony subpoena and require the attendance of witnesses and the production of books papers and documents and issue commissions to take testimony. Subpoenas may be signed by any member of the board. In case of failure to obey a subpoena issued by the board any judge of a court of record of this State upon application by the board may make an order requiring compliance with the subpoena and the court may punish failure to obey the order as a contempt.

Section 7 Determination of Domicile—The board shall by majority vote determine the domicile of the decedent at the time of his death. This determination shall be final for purposes of imposing and collecting inheritance taxes but for no other purpose.

Section 8 Majority Vote—Except as provided in section six in respect of the issuance of subpoenas all questions arising in the course of the proceedings shall be determined by a majority vote of the board.

Section 9 Filing of Determination of Domicile and Other Documents—The Secretary of Revenue register of wills the board or the executor or administrator shall file the determination of the board as to domicile the record of the board's proceedings and the agreement or a duplicate made pursuant to section four of this act with the authority having jurisdiction to assess or determine the inheritance taxes in the state determined to be the domicile and shall file copies of such documents with the authorities that would have been empowered to assess or determine the inheritance taxes in each of the other states involved.

Section 10 Interest or Penalties for Nonpayment of Taxes—In any case where it is determined by the board that the decedent died domiciled in this state interest or penalties if otherwise imposed by law for nonpayment of inheritance taxes between the date of the agreement and of filing of the determination of the board as to domicile shall not exceed six per centum (6%) per annum.

Section 11 Compromise by Parties to Arbitration Agreement—Nothing contained herein shall prevent at any time a written compromise if otherwise lawful by all the parties to the agreement made pursuant to section four of this act fixing the amounts to be accepted by this and any other state involved in full satisfaction of inheritance taxes.

Section 12 Compensation and Expenses—The compensation and expenses of the members of the board and its employees may be agreed upon among such members and the executor or administrator and if they cannot agree shall be fixed by the probate court of the state determined by the board to be the domicile of the decedent. The amounts so agreed upon or fixed shall be deemed an administration expense and shall be payable by the executor or administrator.

Section 13 Reciprocal Application—This act shall apply only to cases in which each of the states involved has a law identical or substantially similar to this act.

Section 14 Estates Affected—The provisions of this act shall apply to estates of decedents dying before or after its enactment.

Section 15 This bill shall become effective immediately upon final enactment.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

- Section 1 Short Title
 Section 2 Definition of State
 Section 3 Interpretation
 Section 4 Compromise Agreement Filing Interest or Penalty for Nonpayment of Taxes

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Short Title This act shall be known and may be cited as the "Uniform Act on Interstate Compromise of Inheritance Taxes"

Section 2 Definition of State As used in this act the word "state" shall mean any state territory or possession of the United States and the District of Columbia

Section 3 Interpretation This act shall be so interpreted and construed as to effectuate its general purpose to make uniform the law of those states which enact it

Section 4 Compromise Agreement Filing Interest or Penalty for Nonpayment of Taxes When the Register of Wills of any county or the Secretary of the Department of Revenue of the Commonwealth claims that a decedent was domiciled in this State at the time of his death and the taxing authorities of another state or states make a like claim on behalf of their state or states the Secretary of Revenue may with the approval of the Attorney General make a written agreement of compromise with the other taxing authorities and the executor or administrator that a certain sum shall be accepted in full satisfaction of any and all inheritance taxes imposed by this State including any interest or penalties to the date of filing the agreement The agreement shall also fix the amount to be accepted by the other states in full satisfaction of inheritance taxes The executor or administrator is hereby authorized to make such agreement Either the Secretary of Revenue or the executor or administrator shall file the agreement or a duplicate with the authority that would be empowered to assess or determine inheritance taxes for this State if there had been no agreement and thereupon the tax shall be deemed conclusively fixed as therein provided Unless the tax is paid within sixty (60) days after filing the agreement interest or penalties shall thereafter accrue upon the amount fixed in the agreement but the time between the decedent's death and the filing shall not be included in computing the interest or penalties

In the event the aggregate amount payable under such agreement to the states involved is less than the maximum credit allowable to the estate against the United States estate tax imposed with respect thereto the personal representative forthwith shall also pay to the department so much of the difference between such aggregate amount and the amount of such credit as the amount payable to the department under the agreement bears to such aggregate amount

Section 5 The act of August 5 1941 Pamphlet Laws 815 is herewith repealed

Section 6 This bill shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

NOT VOTING—1

Trout.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 193, as follows:

An Act relating to judgments providing for the lien thereof and the duration and revival of such liens prescribing the circumstances under which executions to enforce payment of judgments may be levied on real property and imposing duties on prothonotaries sheriffs and other court and county officers

Section 1 This act shall be known and may be cited as the "Judgment Lien Law"

Section 2 Every judgment now or hereafter entered of record and indexed in any court of record in this Commonwealth shall be a lien upon all real property within the county where the judgment is entered which at the time of the entry and indexing of the judgment is owned by the person against whom the judgment is entered and shall unless sooner discharged as provided by law continue as a lien as to the defendant and all other persons for a period of five years from the date on which the judgment was entered and no longer unless the same is revived as hereinafter provided

Section 3 (a) The lien of a judgment may be revived by the indexing of (1) a judgment of revival by agreement between the plaintiff and defendant or of (2) a writ of scire facias if such judgment by agreement is entered of record in or such writ is issued out of the court in which the original judgment was entered within five years after the date on which the original judgment or the last preceding judgment of revival as the case may be was indexed. Provided That if any interest in any part of the real property bound by the lien of the judgment has been acquired by a terre-tenant then the lien of such judgment shall be revived as to such part of the real property only if the terre-tenant within the five-year period hereinbefore designated joins in the agreement or is made a party to the scire facias proceedings as the case may be. Provided further That if revival shall have been had against the defendant at a time when a terre-tenant's deed is of record but without the joinder of the terre-tenant then within a period of five years after the recording of the terre-tenant's deed or other evidence of title the lien may be revived as to the terre-tenant by (1) agreement between the plaintiff and the terre-tenant alone or between the plaintiff defendant and terre-tenant or (2) by writ of scire facias issued against the terre-tenant without joining the defendant or against the defendant and terre-tenant jointly entered in or issued out of and indeed in the court in which the judgment was entered within such period of five years after the recording of the terre-tenant's deed or other evidence of title and in such event the lien shall continue as to the terre-tenant for the same period only as it continues against the defendant when it must be revived against both parties as hereinbefore provided. This proviso shall not be so construed as to revive any lien as to any part of the property acquired by a terre-tenant by the mere recording of a terre-tenant's deed or other evidence of title without specific revival by agreement or scire facias as above provided.

(b) In the case of two or more joint defendants no revival shall be effective against any of such defendants or their real property whether or not owned jointly with the other joint defendants or any of them unless all such joint defendants shall join in the agreement or shall be made parties to the scire facias proceedings. Provided That if any number less than all of the joint defendants shall agree to be bound the revival shall be effective against all of the defendants so agreeing.

(c) The revival lien of any judgment shall unless sooner discharged as provided by law continue for a period of five years from the date on which the judgment of revival whether entered by agreement or on writ of scire facias was indexed provided such judgment of revival if entered on a writ of scire facias was indexed within a period of five years after the issuance of such writ otherwise such lien shall continue only for a period of five years from the date on which the writ of scire facias to revive was indexed and in either case no longer unless the same is again revived as provided in this act. In any case where by reason of pending litigation judgment cannot be entered on the writ of scire facias within a period of five years after the indexing of such writ the court before which such litigation is pending may enter an order continuing the lien of such writ for such further period not exceeding five years as the court may direct such order shall become effective when indexed.

(d) As used in this act the term "terre-tenant" shall not include any person claiming under or whose claim of title passes through a deed which is not recorded in the county where the real property is located or any person claiming under or through a deceased defendant or terre-tenant whose will has not been filed with or letters of administration on whose estate have not been issued by the register of wills or orphans' court of such county. Provided That any person claiming under or through a deceased defendant or terre-tenant who was not a resident of the county at the time of his death may qualify as a terre-tenant under the provisions of this act by recording in the office of the recorder of deeds of the county where the real property is located a certified copy of the will of such decedent if he died testate or if he died intestate a declaration of interest accompanied by a certificate of the register of wills or probate court or officer of the county state or county in which the decedent resided at the time of his death that letters of administration have been issued in the estate of such decedent.

Section 4 A writ of scire facias issued to revive a judgment at any time either before or after the expiration of five years after the indexing thereof or before or after five years after the indexing of the last preceding judgment of revival thereof shall when indexed in the judgment index be a lien upon all real property within the county which at the time of the indexing thereof is owned by the defendant against whom the original judgment is entered whether or not such real property was owned by him at the time the judgment was indexed or previously revived. All liens against after-acquired property or gained property as to which the lien of the original judgment has been lost shall be effective as of the date when the writ of scire facias was indexed and shall unless sooner discharged as provided by law continue as a lien for a period of five years from the date of the indexing of the judgment of revival thereon and no longer unless the same is revived as provided in this act.

Section 5 Whenever any real property of any person serving in the armed forces of the United States in time of war is subject to the lien of any judgment the plaintiff may at any time before the expiration of such lien issue a writ of scire facias to revive the same. No judgment of revival shall be entered during the continuance of such service but successive alias writs of scire facias may be issued and if properly indexed shall be effective to continue the lien of the judgment. After the service of the defendant or the terre-tenant as the case may be in the armed forces of the United States has terminated or after the expiration of six months after the date proclaimed by the President of the United States or by concurrent resolution of the two houses of Congress as the date of the termination of the war which ever shall first occur judgment of revival may be entered but only after ten days' written notice served on the defendant or terre-tenant as the case may be who shall have the right to enter an appearance and defend as in other cases. If the defendant or terre-tenant as the case may be shall not return to and acquire a residence in the county in which judgment is entered within three months after the termination of his service in the armed forces of the United States or within nine months after the date proclaimed by the President of the United States or by concurrent resolution of the two houses of Congress as the date of the termination of the war whichever shall first occur the plaintiff may issue an alias writ of scire facias and on return of nihil habet thereon the court may enter judgment which shall become effective when indexed.

Section 6 All writs of scire facias provided for by this act shall be served in the manner provided by law for the service of a summons on all persons named in the writ and shall be indexed. If the writ is directed against the defendant and he is dead service shall be made on his heirs executors or administrators. If the sheriff cannot find any one or more of said persons within the county he shall make return of nihil habet as to all those not so found. On return being made by the sheriff showing service on all such persons found in the county and a return of nihil habet as to all those not so found the prothonotary shall at any time after the end of the period during which the writ runs upon praecipe enter and index judgment of revival of any such judgment during another period of five years against the real estate bound by the judgment unless sufficient cause is shown to prevent the same.

Section 7 (a) The holder of any judgment may within five years after the entry thereof or after the entry of any judgment of revival thereon have execution in the manner provided by law on such original judgment or on such judgment of revival as the case may be against any real property bound by the lien of the judgment whether or not any interest therein has been acquired by a terre-tenant and against any real property acquired by the defendant subsequent to the entry of the original judgment or of the judgment of revival as the case may be and owned by him at the time of the indexing of the execution. In the case of after-acquired property the execution when docketed and indexed shall become a lien upon such real property. In the case of real property which is then subject to the lien of the judgment the execution when docketed and indexed shall continue such lien beyond the time it would otherwise have expired. Any lien obtained or continued solely as the result of the docketing and indexing of an execution shall continue only for a period of five years from the indexing of the execution.

(b) In all cases where more than five years have expired since the entry of the judgment or the entry of the last preceding judgment of revival as the case may be no execution upon any real property may issue until a writ of scire facias shall have issued and been reduced to judgment and the execution shall issue on the judgment so entered and not on the original judgment.

Section 8 Nothing contained in this act shall be construed to affect or limit the provisions of section fifteen of the "Fiduciaries Act of one thousand nine hundred seventeen" approved the seventh day of June (P. L. 447).

The provisions of this act shall not affect the lien of any judgment entered prior to the effective date of this act. The lien of all such judgments that are valid and subsisting liens on such date shall continue as such for the same periods as they would have continued had this act not been enacted but not longer unless prior to the expiration of such periods such liens are revived in the manner provided by this act.

Section 9 The following acts are hereby repealed:

The act approved the twelfth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 506) entitled "An act providing that in certain cases where a scire facias is issued on a judgment to revive or extend the lien thereof such lien shall take effect from the date of issuance of the writ."

The act approved the twenty-eighth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-three (P. L. 774) entitled "An act regulating the lien of judgments prescribing the procedure for the revival of judgments and for the continuance of the lien thereof and repealing certain acts and parts of acts."

All other acts and parts of acts inconsistent with parts of this act are hereby repealed.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

NOT VOTING—1

Trout,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House of Representatives has passed the same without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 600, as follows:

An Act to amend section three hundred six point one of the act approved the second day of June one thousand nine hundred fifteen (P. L. 736) entitled "An act defining the liability of an employer to pay damages for injuries received by an employee in the course of employment establishing an elective schedule of compensation and providing procedure for the determination of liability and compensation thereunder" by further regulating the payment in second injury cases.

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows:

Section 1 Section three hundred six point one of the act approved the second day of June one thousand nine hundred fifteen (P. L. 736) entitled "An act defining the liability of an employer to pay damages for injuries received by an employee in the course of employment establishing an elective schedule of compensation and providing procedure for the determination of liability and compensation thereunder" as added by the act approved the twenty-ninth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 1186) is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 306.1 If an employee who has incurred (through accident or otherwise) permanent partial disability through the loss or loss of use of one hand one arm one foot one leg or one eye incurs total disability through a subsequent injury causing loss or loss of use of another hand arm foot leg or eye he shall be entitled to additional compensation as follows

After the cessation of payments by the employer for the period of weeks prescribed in Clause (c) hereof for the subsequent injury additional compensation shall be paid during the continuance of total disability at the weekly compensation rate applicable for total disability for the remainder of the five hundred week period provided in Clause (a) hereof This additional compensation shall be paid by the Commonwealth only upon an award by a compensation referee or the board All claims for such additional compensation shall be forever barred unless the employe shall have filed a petition therefor with the board within one year after the last payment made under Clause (c) hereof out of the general fund in the State Treasury The sum of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) is hereby appropriated to the Department of Labor and Industry for compensation payable by the Commonwealth under this section for the biennium one thousand nine hundred and forty-five one thousand nine hundred forty-seven

The Department of Labor and Industry shall be charged with the conservation of the assets of said appropriation In furtherance of this purpose the Attorney General shall appoint a member of his staff to represent the Commonwealth in all proceedings brought to enforce claims against the Commonwealth In its award the Workmen's Compensation Board of the Department of Labor and Industry shall specifically find the amount the injured employe shall be paid weekly the number of weeks compensation which shall be paid by the employer the date upon which payments out of the State appropriation shall begin and if possible the length of time such payments shall continue all payments to cease upon the death of claimant

Any benefits received by any employe or to which he may be entitled by reason of such increased disability from any State or Federal fund or agency to which said employe has not directly contributed shall be regarded as a credit to any award made against the Commonwealth as aforesaid excepting those benefits received by an employe by reason of service connected physical injuries incurred during any war between the United States of America and any foreign country

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Elk, Mr. Sorg.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Elk permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SORG. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I am not opposed to this bill. I want to know if anybody knows just what has taken place since we passed this second injury bill, how many cases there have been in the State of Pennsylvania and what they are doing under this second injury. I notice that there is a one hundred thousand dollar appropriation carried in this bill, is that correct?

Mr. SORG. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman have any information with regard to the number of cases, or how much money is being spent that we appropriated before in this second injury? If the gentleman has that information, if he would give it to the House, I think then we would know what we are doing on this legislation.

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, I haven't in mind the exact number of cases that have been covered under the provisions of the second injury fund established by the State. I should like to state to the gentleman to my knowledge there are no claims now that have not been paid, and I would like to suggest that it is my opinion that even though the appropriation, if that is what the gentleman had in mind, is not adequate, nevertheless there is a provision in the law requiring payment from the general fund. Also that the present pension is designed to prevent the deduction of the service disability payment in the event a workman should happen to be injured and be entitled to any receipts under the second injury fund. It is a very good measure.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, it is not a question of whether this is a good measure, and I am not opposing the measure in itself. I just thought that we should have some knowledge of what this second injury fund is that we set up at the last session of the Legislature, and whether or not there has been enough money under the appropriation that we gave before, or whether there has been a certain amount of money paid out of the general fund.

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, I don't have the figures available that the gentleman desires. I would however refer him to the Department of Labor and Industry that has the administration of this fund, for those figures.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I might say to the Majority Leader that I tried without success to get some information but I was not very successful in the Department of Labor and Industry. However, I am not opposing this bill. In other words, I am for the bill. I just thought that Members of the Legislature at least should know what is going on. I do not ask you to oppose the bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House of Representatives has passed the same without amendment.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. DIX asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the Poet Laureate of the House, the gentleman from Wayne, Mr. Dix, at this time, who has a message of interest to all of us.

Mr. DIX. Mr. Speaker, as the Governor's secretary, Mr. Perry came into the Hall of the House late this afternoon I heard him say—"Why Don't We Go Home?" Mr. Speaker, this simple and forthright question appealed to me.

WHY DON'T WE GO HOME?

Why don't we go home, Mr. Speaker,—

Why don't we go home?

Although admiring Governor Duff,
We've really been here long enough.

Why don't we go home, Mr. Speaker,—
Why don't we go home?

We've been here far too long already,
And we are all a bit unsteady;
It seems that it has been a year;—
Pray, tell me why we're staying here.

Our wives—indeed they miss us sadly;
Our sweethearts—waiting for us madly;
There's little for us here to do,—
Let us go home—we plead with you.

Why don't we go home, Mr. Speaker,—
Why don't we go home?
Although admiring Governor Duff,
We've really been here long enough.
Why don't we go home, Mr. Speaker,—
Why don't we go home?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, tomorrow I will have the great privilege of replying to the gentleman from Wayne as to why we haven't gone home a little sooner.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. COLE asked and obtained permission to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, it seems as though the two great political parties of Pennsylvania have missed the boat somewhere, or perhaps we should organize a third party. One of the most important bills ever put up before the session of any particular legislature in the United States was missed by the Pennsylvania State Legislature. Somebody with a very fine sense of humor picked out this as the masterpiece of legislation enacted during this current year and I would like to read from a Philadelphia newspaper an act which was passed in the State of Illinois reading as follows:

ILLINOIS TO BAN ALLEYS TO STRAY CATS

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 13.—A bill passed by the state senate and approved by a house committee would prohibit stray cats from prowling in alleys.

The bill, approved by the house committee on license and miscellany, would make it unlawful for cats to frequent their native habitats unless in the "immediate and actual control" of their owners.

I think somebody missed the boat in Pennsylvania.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. SPROUL asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I am confused. Looking around the House I do not recognize seven or eight gentlemen I saw last night. They came in with Tittle's Talented Trotter's, and I want to express the appreciation of the House for the gentlemen who rendered those songs. I know Gus Wachhaus, I guess he went to bed with his beard, he was so attached to it. I noticed Uncle Tom came with his Cabin, and we want to pay tribute to Homer Brown, also to Dave Livingstone for rolling the bones. The long and short of it is that I am confused again, because we had a good time, but the DeLong was short and the short fellow was DeLong, and I was confused again.

After all my friend Bill Layer threw cold water on the whole party. But what I want to talk about particularly, we have a lot of legislative nuts, and I am not talking about you, to crack, and with apologies to Mr. Briadbelt and Charlie Smith and I want to read this letter.

"I hope that they don't make cases like mine any more complex and I hope they will be kept in mind. I am a Railway Mail Clerk and work in the Railway Postal Car. I run between Philadelphia and Pottsville and they insist that I pay the tax for the time I am in Philadelphia. If their opinion is correct then I will be subject to the tax in every town that levies a wage tax that we pass through, which means we will need a stop watch. What we now pay the tax for is more than I know. We are in the car, we don't use their water or sanitation facilities and we are our own policemen. Under their interpretation every salary person, truck driver passing through the city is subject to it. I fully realize that you and the other Representatives have a big problem with the tax program and the teacher problem to decide and wish you success with the same.

Sincerely, Blayne Broadbelt."

I thank the House for listening to this little bit of nonsense, because I am confused again.

BILLS SIGNED BY SPEAKER

Bills numbered and entitled as follows having been prepared for presentation to the Governor, and the same being correct, the titles were publicly read as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 898.

An Act to further amend section five hundred thirty-two of the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred eleven (P. L. 309) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" by permitting additional or increased appropriations by first class school districts in certain cases

HOUSE BILL No. 1173.

An Act to amend the title of and the act approved the fifth day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-seven (P. L. 817) entitled "An act authorizing and regulating the growth sale and distribution of forest tree seedlings and transplants by the Department of Forest and Waters regulating the use of such forest tree seedlings and transplants and imposing duties upon the Department of Agriculture with regard to the enforcement of this act" by extending its provisions to include shrubs and vines under certain circumstances

Whereupon,

The SPEAKER, in the presence of the House, signed the same

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. FISH asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, some time ago at the request of the veterans' organizations throughout this Commonwealth there was an attempt made to introduce legislation whereby a portion of, or all of, the disability pension paid a veteran would be excluded from consideration as income by the Department of Public Assistance of this Commonwealth.

We were told that such consideration would be discriminatory, perhaps even unconstitutional and that it was in conflict with the Federal Social Security regulations.

We would like to quote from the stated policy of the Department:

"There was recognition that there were many cases where other agencies or non-legally responsible relatives or friends were supplementing assistance with restricted contributions for specific purposes. Income from this source could not be considered as affecting basic eligibility for assistance. Since actual needs will be met in these situations, and since the supplementary assistance would not otherwise be available, it was thought unwise to discourage this help."

Such policy permits of very broad interpretation, and appears inconsistent with the criticism of the proposed legislation.

It should be recognized that the disability payments made to a veteran are based upon the recognition of a decrease in his earning capacity due to injury or illness suffered while in the armed service, and to compensate him in some small degree therefor.

On the other hand it has been agreed that a retired school teacher whose retirement payment benefits are low, should he apply for assistance, can and does receive from the Pennsylvania State Educational Association, a grant from their "Emergency Fund," which is given with the specific intent that it be used for those things beyond the assistance budget which the Department of Public Assistance does not recognize.

Further, and with regard to the constitutionality of this offered bill and the excessive cost of $480,000 a biennium, we wonder as to the constitutionality of the Department of Public Assistance making payments to the recipients who have left the Commonwealth and reside in most all of the forty-seven other states, and from whom no benefits are obtained in the payment of taxes. These "out of state" payments approximate one million dollars during a biennium.

It is quite apparent that one half of the amount sent by the Department of Public Assistance to persons living outside of the boundaries of the Commonwealth and for whom we have no responsibility, would provide for the exemption of a small amount of income received as disability payments by the disabled veterans living within the boundaries of this Commonwealth.

I, therefore, desire to have spread upon the minutes of this body my protest to the continuation and continuance of such unfair practices.

SENATE

SATURDAY, June 14, 1947

The Senate met at 12:00 o'clock, M., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Daniel B. Strickler) in the Chair.

PRAYER

In the absence of the Chaplain prayer was offered by the gentleman from Butler, Senator CARR.

Our Father who are in Heaven, as we approach unto the time when the labors of this session shall close, we feel the need of Thy blessing upon us. We would ask, Oh God, Thy forgiveness for those things we have done amiss and Thy blessing upon those things which we have done in accordance with Thy will. Thou are He who rules and overrules in the affairs of men. We would ask that all things might be subject unto Thy will, that in the lives that we live and the words that we speak we may glorify Thy name. Bless our state, our Father, and help us to continue to be great not only in the sight of men but in Thy sight as well. We ask it in Thy name. Amen?

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. TALLMAN and Mr. BLASS, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

Governor's Office, Harrisburg, June 14, 1947.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I return herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 408, Printer's No. 144, entitled "An Act authorizing the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission to accept on behalf of the Commonwealth certain real estate comprising the Crispin Cemetery in Philadelphia and providing for its restoration and maintenance as an historic shrine."

This bill would authorize the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission to accept on behalf of the Commonwealth, Crispin Cemetery in the City of Philadelphia, wherein are buried the remains of Thomas Holme and Captain William Crispin who were direct descendents of the grandfather of William Penn.

William Crispin was the first Chief Justice of the Colony of Pennsylvania and Thomas Holme its first Surveyor General.

The bill carries a biennial appropriation of $5,000 for restoration and maintenance.

That Crispin Cemetery is an historic shrine, since it contains the remains of the first Chief Justice and the first Surveyor General of William Penn's Colony, is clear beyond question, but within the boundaries of this Commonwealth are to be found a plethora of resting places of the eminent of past centuries whose contributions to Pennsylvania and America merit the same consideration this bill would accord these men. Unless then, we are prepared to enter into a program to take over wholesale, at corresponding expense, the many cemeteries within our confines which may be thus designated as historic shrines we should not select one at random because some person has had sufficient interest in it to bring the matter to the attention of the Legislature.

The appropriation contained in this bill is not large considering the budget as a whole and title to the cemetery would come to the Commonwealth as a gift, but such factors in the absence of a commensurate purpose do not justify the expenditure of taxpayers' money.

For these reasons, the bill is not approved.

JAMES H. DUFF

SENATE BILL No. 408, PRINTER'S No. 144 LAID ON THE TABLE

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 408, Printer's No. 144, returned from the Governor without approval, be laid on the table.

Mr. SCARLETT. Mr. President, I second the motion. The motion was agreed to.

Whereupon,

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Daniel B. Strickler) in the presence of the Senate signed the same.

HOUSE BILL No. 364 TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, I call from the table House Bill No. 364.

SENATE INSISTS UPON ITS AMENDMENTS NON-CONCURRED IN BY THE HOUSE TO HOUSE BILL No. 364

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, I move that the Senate insist upon its amendments non-concurred in by the House to House Bill No. 364, entitled:

An Act to further amend subsection (a) of section two hundred ten of the act approved the ninth day of April, one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 177), entitled "Administrative Code of 1929," increasing the salary of the Commissioner of Fisheries.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

TYLER

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, one of the members of the Senate is celebrating his birthday today. I think every man in this Senate has a very high regard for him and particularly his rare quality, one that is very fine, in that he stands by as an old soldier always, and I am very certain that the Senate is very happy to extend its warm affectionate greetings and good wishes to Senator Tyler on his sixty-ninth birthday.

Mr. President, I understand that there is a committee from the House here to do Senator Tyler honor and I suggest, Sir, that the President invite the committee from the House on to the floor of the Senate.

Mr. WOODRING. Mr. President, if the gentleman from Lehigh will put that in the form of a motion I would like to second the motion, because we on this side also have the highest admiration and regard for a fine gentleman. Senator Tyler has a winning personality, he has a kind graciousness, he has a winning smile, he is very much the grand gentleman, and we are very happy to be able to help celebrate his birthday. I also want to point out that he is one of the few men, who, when they celebrate their birthday, they close the banks and put out the flag.

Mr. ROSENFELD. Mr. President, the other day I said it was my extreme pleasure to be associated with the nicest group of gentlemen that it has ever been my pleasure to know and at this time, Mr. President, if I would be permitted to make a slight distinction I want to say, Senator Tyler is one of the nicest of the nicest.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair is very glad indeed to welcome to the floor of the Senate the committee and group from the House and extends to them the privileges of the floor and invites them to come to the rostrum and render what they have in mind to honor Senator Tyler.

The Chair would also be pleased to add his personal felicitations to the Honorable Cyrus B. Tyler of Wyoming on his birthday, and to tell him in behalf of the Senators that we all appreciate our association with him.

The committee will come forward.

(The Senate was at ease.)

The PRESIDENT. The Chair would like to say to the members of the committee that we appreciate their songs and would like to have some more. We also want to say that we are proud of one song over here, one I have never heard sung like I have heard delivered here—"My Clementine." The peerless leader of that song is Senator Tyler and I would like to have him come forward.

(The Senate was at ease.)

Mr. WADE. I think, Mr. President, that we should be very deeply appreciative of the fine efforts of our distinguished colleagues from the other side and I would like to make this presentation to the chairman personally but before I do so I would like to move, Mr. President, that we give a rising vote of thanks to Mr. Tittle and to Tittle's treble-tongued ticklers as well.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I certainly do not want the House members to leave without letting them know how we appreciate the fine harmony being displayed between the House and Senate this morning. I think we all share with them the descriptive name that has been given to us Senators and I want to compliment the House singing group for upholding the traditions of the House, a long-standing tradition, by singing their favorite theme song "I Want a Girl."

On behalf of all of us I want to say to Cy that during all the years I have served with him, and the rest of us I believe share the same opinion, that he is the one man that I know amongst all of us whose smile has never left his face; he always has a kind answer for you; no matter how serious a problem you have on legislative matters you can always count on old Cy having some nice philosophy to take away the sharp edges, all contributing to make a job like this worth while.

PRESENTATION TO SENATOR FARRELL

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, as a good many members of the Senate know, through the kindness of the President pro tempore of the Senate I have served for eight years as chairman, on the Republican side of the Senate, of the Committee on Stuff and Things. I made a report to the Republican caucus the other day advising them as to the state of the treasury—much to their astonishment we had a surplus—and there were several suggestions made as to how to spend the surplus.

Mr. President, one of the distinguished Republican Senators had the misfortune to plunge heavily and buy a twenty dollar hat, which he put in his locker and which disappeared. Not discouraged, the gentleman bought a twenty-five dollar hat;; that also went into the locker and that also disappeared. In order to prove that he had a lot of courage the gentleman went back and bought a thirty dollar, hat, and that was stolen also.

Mr. President, the Committee on Stuff and Things felt that the distinguished citizen from Philadelphia should not have this session turn out to be a total loss and so, although the Committee on Stuff and Things could not afford a hat that would fit the gentleman, we decided, in place of the hat, Mr. President, that we would like to present to the gentleman, from the Committee on Stuff and Things, an article to reimburse him very slightly for the hat he lost.

And so, Senator Farrell, on behalf of the Republican caucus, I would like to present you with this slight token of our very deep appreciation.

Mr. FARRELL. Mr. President, I just want to say this, that I very much appreciate the fine hat that was given to me. I want to say, seriously, I have been very much touched by the good feeling of the members of the House, in coming over here and paying their respects on the birthday of our very fine Senator Tyler.

I also would just like to say, Mr. President, that you were not here on one occasion when I had the most important bill I ever had in this Senate and, needing a vote to pass it, Senator Tyler about five o'clock in the morning decided to go home and go to bed. We sent the Sergeant-at-arms down to ask him if he would get out of bed and come here and vote for my bill which he did, and when a man gets out of bed and votes on a bill of mine I very much appreciate it. Senator Tyler slipped his old-fashioned nightgown down in his trousers and came up here and he voted "aye" on the bill and it passed by his one vote.

So, Mr. President, I join with the members of the House—it was nice of them to come over here—this is the first time this has ever happened during my service in the Legislature and it shows a very fine spirit.

I also want to pay my compliments to Senator Tyler and, as Joe Jefferson said in Rip Van Winkle "May you live long and prosper."

HOUSE BILL No. 417 TAKEN FROM TABLE

JAMES H. DUFF

MEMBERS OF THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE PENNSYLVANIA SOLDIER'S ORPHAN SCHOOL

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, June 13, 1947.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

In conformity with law, I have the honor hereby to nominate for the advice and consent of the Senate the following persons for appointment as Members of the Board of Trustees of the Pennsylvania Soldier's Orphan School:

Dr. Ruth Miller Steese, 526 Chestnut Street, Mifflinburg, to serve until the third Tuesday of January, 1953, and until her successor shall have been appointed and qualified, to fill a vacancy.

Hon. James E. Van Zandt, 1017 Eighteenth Avenue, Altoona, to serve until the third Tuesday of January, 1953, and until his successor shall have been appointed and qualified, to fill a vacancy.

JAMES H. DUFF

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, it was erroneously reported in the newspapers this morning that the nominations to the Registration Commission of the city of Pittsburgh has been advised and consented to by the Senate. However, Mr. President, they were among this group of nominations just reported from the Committee on Executive Nominations and have not as yet been consented to.

UNANIMOUS CONSENT UNDER RULE 38

By unanimous consent,

A motion was made by Mr. KEPHART and Mr. CARR,

To grant unanimous consent to immediate consideration of the nominations just reported from the Committee on Executive Nominations, and the Senate do now resolve itself into Executive Session, for the purpose of acting upon the nominations reported at to-day's session.

Which was agreed to.

Whereupon,

A motion was made by Mr. KEPHART and Mr. CARR, That the Senate do advise and consent to the nominations reported.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I intend to vote for the confirmation of the Registration Commission of Allegheny County, but in doing so I want to pay a compliment to a man who has served on that committee, Wilbur E. Fraley.

Mr. Fraley, while serving on this commission was very efficient, very courteous, and I know that he has done a very fine job as a registration commissioner. Although he does not belong to my party, I believe we should give credit to a man who took his work seriously, worked long hours and tried to do a good job to please all the people, regardless of political faith, and I believe it is in keeping to say that he is leaving this commission with the hope that in his other work he goes into he will have just as much success, because Mr. Fraley was a very fine registration commissioner, did a fine job, and I certainly wish him a lot of luck.

I also want to compliment the Republican party for picking Thomas Conway as one of the registration commissioners. I am very happy—Jimmy Conway and I were boys together—and he has shown in his work as a doctor and by his activities in politics that he will be a very fine gentleman and capable of filing the position, and I want to congratulate the Republicans of Allegheny County for picking a fine man. How did they come to take in these old Pinchot Republicans or Democrats, into the Republican fold—now we have Mr. Taylor, Mr. Walker, and with the new registration commissioner in Pittsburgh we have Doctor Conway—oh yes, I forgot Mr. Wade was one time a very strong supporter of Mr. Pinchot.

Mr. Wade, I would like to have your attention for a moment—I just said, talking about the old Pinchot Republicans who are now in possession, and I want to draw the attention of Mr. Wade, I overlooked mentioning his name—was at one time a real staunch supporter of the Old Warrior, Gifford Pinchot, and we hope as this better group of people who followed Pinchot into the Republican party, maybe the next session of the Legislature the Republican party will be the real progressive and liberal party of the state.

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, I have heard of the seven wonders of the world and now we have come to the eighth—Senator Holland has complimented the Republicans for doing something.

Mr. HOLLAND. May I answer Mr. President—one must compliment the Republicans because they have a very fine Governor, Jim Duff.

Mr. JASPAN. We have come to the ninth wonder.

Mr. CARR. I move that the Republican majority accept the compliments of Senator Holland and Senator Jaspán.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—50.

Barr,	Frazier,	Lord,	Tarr,
Becker,	Geltz,	Mahany,	Taylor,
Berger,	Haluska,	Mallery,	Tyler,
Blass,	Hare,	Margie,	Wade,
Carr,	Heyburn,	Rahauser,	Wagner,
Chapman,	Holland,	Rosenfeld,	Waikoe,
Crider,	Homsher,	Ruth,	Watson,
Crowe,	Jaspán,	Scarlett,	Wilson,
Dent,	Kephart,	Snowden,	Wolfe,
DiSilvestro,	Klein,	Stevenson,	Wood, L. H.,
Doehla,	Lane,	Stiefel,	Wood, T. N.,
Donlan,	Leader,	Tallman,	Woodring,
Farrell,	Letzler,

NAYS—0.

Two-third of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Governor be informed accordingly.

EXECUTIVE SESSION RISES

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, I move that the Executive Session do now rise.

Mr. CARR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

RECESS

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess for one hour.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed the Senate will be in order.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced presented communications in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, which were read as follows:

APPROVED AND SIGNED SENATE BILL No. 219,
PRINTER'S No. 385

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, June 14, 1947.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed Senate Bill No. 219, Printer's No. 385, entitled "An Act to add section eight hundred twelve to the act approved the third day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 1333) entitled 'An act concerning elections including general municipal special and primary elections the nominations of candidates primary and election expenses and election contests creating and defining membership of county boards of elections imposing duties upon the Secretary of the Commonwealth courts county boards of elections county commissioners imposing penalties for violation of the act and codifying revising and consolidating the laws relating thereto and repealing certain acts and parts of acts relating to elections' providing that where members of a political party are appointed or elected to represent the members of such party in an election district said members shall constitute a political committee for such district subject to the control of the respective political committee of which they are members."

JAMES H. DUFF

RETURN WITHOUT APPROVAL SENATE BILL No. 638,
PRINTER'S No. 261

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, June 14, 1947.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I return herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 638, Printer's 261, entitled "An Act authorizing the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission to release historic documents to the Attorney General of the United States for exhibition on the 'Freedom Train.'"

This bill would authorize the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission to release to the Attorney General of the United States for one year certain of our historic documents, including the original charter to William Penn from King Charles II of England for exhibition on the "Freedom Train," which is to visit every state in the Union carrying a large quantity of historic documents or their facsimiles to be exhibited publicly to the people of the United States.

Under the arrangement contemplated, practically all of the documents to be carried in the three cars of this exhibitionary train will come from the Library of Congress and National Archives. Six items will be supplied by an individual owner and the Commonwealth of Massachusetts will loan a certified facsimile of the Mayflower Compact (Bradford's Diary).

While I am in accord with the purposes of the excursion to enlighten the people as to our national history I cannot agree to the release of the original Penn Charter to this end. Since 1682 this precious document pertaining to the history of Pennsylvania has never been out of our possession.

It is doubtful if the Charter now could very well stand the exposure and vibration occasioned on such a journey without irreparable damage being done to it. This is true notwithstanding the great care with which I assume it would be treated because even the jolting of the train itself would have a tendency to break the seal and tear the old parchment already deteriorated by age. The Liberty Bell on its last trip was considerably marred, not through vandalism of any sort, but primarily because of the rigors of the journey.

Since certified facsimiles of historic documents appear to be acceptable for the purpose of the exhibition and to supply these requires no additional legislative action, I am disposed to retain our original documents where they are less liable to injury, feeling confident that the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission will supply certified facsimiles.

For these reasons, the bill is not approved.

SENATE BILL No. 638, PRINTER'S No. 261
LAID ON TABLE

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 638, Printer's No. 261 be laid on the table.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I second the motion. The motion was agreed to.

An Act to amend the act approved the 21st day of May 1931 (P. L. 149) entitled "An act imposing a State tax payable by those herein defined as distributors on liquid fuels used or sold and delivered within the Commonwealth which are ordinarily practically and commercially usable in internal combustion engines for the generation of power providing for the collection and lien of the tax and the distribution and use of the proceeds thereof requiring such distributors to secure permits to file corporate surety bonds and reports and to retain certain records imposing duties on retail dealers common carriers county commissioners and such distributors providing for rewards imposing certain costs on counties conferring powers and imposing duties on certain State officers and departments providing for refunds imposing penalties and making an appropriation" by further regulating the procedure for filing petitions for redetermination petitions for review and appeals to Court

Section 1 Section 7 of the act approved the 21st day of May 1931 (P. L. 149) entitled "An act imposing a State tax payable by those herein defined as distributors on liquid fuels used or sold and delivered within the Commonwealth which are ordinarily practically and commercially usable in internal combustion engines for the generation of power providing for the collection and lieu of the tax and the distribution and use of the proceeds thereof requiring such distributors to secure permits to file corporate surety bonds and reports and to retain certain records imposing duties on retail dealers common carriers county commissioners and such distributors providing for rewards imposing certain costs on counties conferring powers and imposing duties on certain State officers and departments providing for refunds imposing penalties and making an appropriation" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 7 Determination and Redetermination of Tax Penalties and Interest Due

(a) If the department is not satisfied with the report and payment of tax made by any distributor under the provisions of this act it is hereby authorized and empowered to make a determination of the tax due by such distributor based upon the facts contained in the report or upon any information within its possession or that shall come into its possession

(b) Promptly after the date of any such determination the department shall send by registered mail a copy thereof to such distributor Within [thirty (30)] ninety (90) days after the date upon which the copy of any such determination was mailed such distributor may file with the department a petition for redetermination of such tax Every petition for redetermination shall state specifically the reasons which the petitioner believes entitles him to such redetermination and shall be supported by affidavit that it is not made for the purpose of delay and that the facts therein set forth are true It shall be the duty of the department within [ninety (90) days] six (6) months after the date of any determination to dispose of any petition for redetermination Notice of the action taken upon any petition for redetermination shall be given to the petitioner promptly after the date of redetermination by the department

(c) Within [thirty (30)] sixty (60) days after the date of mailing of notice by the department of the action taken on any petition for redetermination filed with it the distributor against whom such determination was made may by petition request the Board of Finance and Revenue to review such action Every petition for review filed hereunder shall state specifically the reason upon which the petitioner relies [and shall be in such form as the Board of Finance and Revenue shall prescribe] or shall incorporate by reference the petition for redetermination in which such reasons shall have been stated. The petition shall be supported by affidavit that it is not made for the purpose of delay and that the facts therein set forth are true. If the petitioner be a corporation joint-stock association or limited partnership the affidavit must be made by one of the principal officers thereof. A petition for review may be amended by the petitioner at any time prior to the hearing thereon as hereinafter provided. The Board of Finance and Revenue shall [dispose] act finally in disposition of such petitions filed with it within [ninety (90) days] six (6) months after they have been received and in the event of the failure of said board to dispose of any such petition within [ninety (90) days] six (6) months the action taken by the department upon the petition for redetermination shall be deemed sustained. The Board of Finance and Revenue may sustain the action taken on the petition for redetermination or it may redetermine the tax due upon such basis as it shall deem according to law and equity. Notice of the action of the Board of Finance and Revenue shall be given by mail or otherwise to the department and to the petitioner.

(d) The [department] Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or any person aggrieved by the decision of the Board of Finance and Revenue or by the board's failure to act upon his petition for review within [ninety (90) days] six (6) months may within sixty (60) days appeal to the court of common pleas of Dauphin County from the decision of the Board of Finance and Revenue or from the decision of the department as the case may be in the manner now or hereafter provided by law for appeals in the case of tax settlement.

(e) If any distributor shall neglect or refuse to make any report and payment of tax required by this act the department shall estimate the tax due by such distributor and determine the amount due by him for taxes penalties and interest thereon as prescribed herein from which determination there shall be no right of review or appeal. Upon any such neglect or refusal the liquid fuels permit or permits issued to such distributor may be suspended or revoked by the department and required to be surrendered to the department.

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment.

trative details for the determination, payment and collection of such contributions and the payment of such compensation; providing for cooperation with the Federal Government and its agencies; creating certain special funds in the custody of the State Treasurer and prescribing penalties,' by further defining employees ineligible to compensation by providing for increases in the duration of benefits by changing the manner in which compromises are to be made and by providing a prison sentence for individuals fraudulently claiming benefits" respectfully submit the following bill as our report:

WELDON B. HEYBURN,
JAMES S. BERGER,
(Committee on the Part of the Senate.)
(Committee on the part of the House of Representatives.)

An Act to further amend the act approved the fifth day of December one thousand nine hundred thirty-six (P. L. 1937 page 2897) entitled "An act establishing a system of unemployment compensation to be administered by the Department of Labor and Industry and its existing and newly created agencies with personnel (with certain exception) selected on a civil service basis requiring employers to keep records and make repots and certain employers to pay contributions based on payrolls to provide moneys for the payment of compensation to certain unemployed persons providing procedure and administrative details for the determination payment and collection of such contributions and the payment of such compensation providing for cooperation with the Federal Government and its agencies creating certain special funds in the custody of the State Treasurer and prescribing penalties" by further defining employees ineligible to compensation by providing for increases in the duration of benefits by changing the manner in which compromises are to be made and by providing a prison sentence for individuals fraudulently claiming benefits

Section 1 Section three hundred nine point one of the act approved the fifth day of December one thousand nine hundred thirty-six (P. L. 1937 page 2897) entitled "An act establishing a system of unemployment compensation to be administered by the Department of Labor and Industry and its existing and newly created agencies with personnel (with certain exception) selected on a civil service basis requiring employers to keep records and make reports and certain employers to pay contributions based on payrolls to provide moneys for the payment of compensation to certain unemployed persons providing procedure and administrative details for the determination payment and collection of such contributions and the payment of such compensation providing for cooperation with the Federal Government and its agencies creating certain special funds in the custody of the State Treasurer and prescribing penalties" as amended by the act approved the twenty-seventh day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-three (P. L. 717) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 309.1 Compromises Where the Department is satisfied (1) that the employer is unable to make payment in full of contributions interest and penalties imposed upon him by the law or that it would be inequitable to require the payment in full of delinquent interest and (2) that the employer has acted in good faith the secretary is hereby authorized [with the approval of the Attorney General and under rules and regulations adopted therefor] to compromise delinquent interest and penalties due on any contribution and in the case of any employer that has been adjudged a bankrupt or for whom a receiver has been appointed to compromise the principal of any delinquent contribution as well as interest and penalties thereon Provided That any compromise of a total delinquent amount in excess of one thousand dollars shall require the approval of the Attorney General

Section 2 Sections four hundred two and four hundred four of said act as amended by the act approved the twenty-ninth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 1145) are hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 402 Ineligibility for Compensation An employee shall be ineligible for compensation for any week

(a) In which his unemployment is due to failure without good cause either to apply for suitable work at such time and in such manner as the department may prescribe or to accept suitable work when offered to him by the employment office or by any employer Provided That such employer simultaneously notifies the employment office of such offer

(b) In which his unemployment is due to voluntarily leaving work without good cause [Provided That no employee shall be deemed to be ineligible under this section where as a condition of continuing in employment such employee would be required to join or remain a member of a company union or to resign from or refrain from joining any bona fide labor organization or to accept wages hours or conditions of employment not desired by a majority of the employees in the establishment or the occupation or would be denied the right of collective bargaining under generally prevailing conditions] In determining whether or not an employee has left his work voluntarily without good cause the department shall give consideration to the same factors in so far as they are applicable provided with respect to the determination of suitable work under section four (t) and provided further that the provisions of this subsection shall not apply in the event of a stoppage of work which exists because of a labor dispute within the meaning of subsection (d)

(c) With respect to which or a part of which he has received or is seeking unemployment benefits under an unemployment compensation law of any other state or of the United States Provided That if the appropriate agency of such other state or of the United States finally determines that he is not entitled to such unemployment benefits the disqualification shall not apply

(d) In which his unemployment is due to a voluntary suspension of work resulting from an industrial dispute at the factory establishment or other premises at which he is or was last employed Provided That this disqualification shall apply only to any week of unemployment which in whole or in part includes any part of a period beginning with the day on which such suspension occurs and ending with (i) the last day of the fourth calendar week immediately following the calendar week in which such suspension occurs or (ii) the day on which such suspension was terminated whichever is the earlier

(d) In which his unemployment is due to a stoppage of work which exists because of a labor dispute at the factory establishment or other premises at which he is or was last employed Provided that this subsection shall not apply if it is shown that (1) he is not participating in or directly interested in the labor dispute which caused the stoppage of work and (2) he is not a member of an organization which is participating in or directly interested in the labor dispute which caused the stoppage of work and (3) he does not belong to a grade or class of workers of which immediately before the commencement of the stoppage there were members employed at the premises at which the stoppage occurs any of whom are participating in or directly interested in the dispute

(e) In which his unemployment is due to his discharge or temporary suspension from work for willful misconduct connected with his work and

(f) Which in whole or in part includes any part of the two-week period which immediately follows each period of employment under Shipping Articles

Section 404 Rate and Amount of Compensation Compensation shall be paid [with respect] to each eligible employee [whose benefit year begins prior to June first one thousand nine hundred forty-five in accordance with the provisions of this act prior to that date and with respect to each eligible employee whose benefit year begins subsequent to May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred and forty-five] in accordance with the following provisions of this section

(a) The employee's weekly benefit rate shall be that rate which appears in "part B" and which is on the same horizontal line in "part A" as the interval which includes his "highest quarterly wage"

(b) The "highest quarterly wages" of an employee shall be the total wages (computed to the nearest dollar) which were paid to such employee in that calendar quarter in which such total wages were highest during the base year

(c) Each eligible employee who is totally unemployed with respect to any week ending subsequent to the sixth day of June one thousand nine hundred and forty-five and prior to the first day of January one thousand nine hundred and forty-six shall be paid with respect to such week compensation in an amount equal to his weekly benefit rate no payment shall be made for any week ending during such period unless the employee has been totally unemployed with respect to such week and has served one waiting] [week as required under section four hundred one (e) Provided That with respect to such week the employee has been totally unemployed for purposes of this subsection An employee shall be deemed totally unemployed with respect to any week during which he performs no services and with respect to which no remuneration is paid or payable to him or to any week of less than fulltime work if the remuneration paid or payable to him with respect to such week does not exceed three dollars ($3.00)]

(d) Each eligible employee who is unemployed with respect to any week [ending the first day of January one thousand nine hundred and forty-six or thereafter] shall be paid with respect to such week compensation in an amount equal to his weekly benefit rate less that part of the remuneration of any paid or payable to him with respect to such week which is in excess of three dollars ($3.00) such compensation if not a multiple of one dollar ($1.00) shall be computed to the next higher multiple of one dollar ($1.00) Provided That if at the end of any calendar quarter the balance in the unemployment trust fund to the credit of Pennsylvania is less than one and one-half times the highest amount paid out for compensation loss any refunds during any twelve consecutive months the maximum amount of compensation payable to any employee for a week of unemployment ending during the next calendar quarter shall not be in excess of eighteen dollars ($18)

(e) Any otherwise eligible employee shall be entitled during his benefit year to an amount equal to his weekly benefit rate multiplied by the number which appears at the top of a column under "part C" to be ascertained by location on the same horizontal line on which his weekly benefit rate appears the interval which includes the total wages paid to him during his base year Provided That if at the end of any calendar quarter the balance in the unemployment trust fund to the credit of Pennsylvania is less than one and one-half times the highest amount paid out for compensation less any refunds during any twelve consecutive months no employee shall be paid compensation with respect to week of unemployment ending during the next calendar quarter in an amount which together with any amounts previously paid with respect to the same benefit year would be in excess of sixteen times the employee's weekly benefit rate or two hundred and eighty-eight dollars ($288) whichever is the lesser and Provided Further That no employee shall be paid compensation in excess of twenty times his weekly benefit rate with respect to any benefit year which begins prior to the first day of October one thousand nine hundred forty-seven

(f) For the purposes of this section and of section four hundred one (a) Wages paid with respect to employment performed under shipping articles shall be considered as having been paid in the respective calendar quarters in which the services of the employe were being performed

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 The last paragraph of section one thousand four hundred thirteen of the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred eleven (P. L. 309) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" as last amended by the act approved the twenty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-three (P. L. 512) is hereby further amended to read as follows

* * * * *

On or before the first day of November of each year the secretary of the board of school directors in each district in which special education for physically or mentally handicapped children is provided shall make such reports as may be required by the Department of Public Instruction in regard to such special education being maintained for the current school year for which the approval of the State Council of Education is desired.

When any child between the ages of six (6) and twenty-one (21) years of age resident in this Commonwealth who is blind or deaf or afflicted with cerebral palsy is enrolled with the approval of the Department of Public Instruction as a pupil in any of the schools or institutions for the blind or deaf or cerebral palsied under the supervision of or approved by the Department of Public Instruction the school district in which such child is resident shall pay twenty-five per centum (25%) of the cost of tuition and maintenance of such child in such school or institution as determined by the Department of Public Instruction and for the tuition and maintenance of such children the Commonwealth shall pay out of funds appropriated to the department for special education seventy-five (75%) of the cost of their tuition and maintenance as determined by the department. Provided That the Commonwealth shall pay out of moneys appropriated to the department for special education the cost of tuition and maintenance of any child between the ages of six (6) and twenty (21) years of age who is blind or deaf or afflicted with cerebral palsy and is enrolled with the approval of the Department of Public Instruction as a pupil in any of the schools or institutions for the blind or deaf or cerebral palsied under the supervision of or approved by the Department of Public Instruction if the residence of such child in a particular school district in the Commonwealth cannot be determined. When any person less than six (6) or more than twenty-one (21) years of age resident in this Commonwealth who is blind or deaf or afflicted with cerebral palsy is enrolled with the approval of the Department of Public Instruction as a pupil in any of the schools or institutions for the blind or deaf or cerebral palsied under the supervision of or approved by the Department of Public Instruction the Commonwealth shall pay to such school or institution out of moneys appropriated to the department for special education the cost of tuition and maintenance of such person as determined by the Department of Public Instruction. To facilitate payments by the several school districts to the schools or institutions in which deaf or blind or cerebral palsied children are enrolled of amounts due by such districts for their proportion of the cost of tuition and maintenance of such children the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall withhold from any moneys due to such districts out of any State appropriation for the assistance as reimbursement of school districts the amounts due by such districts to such schools or institutions for the blind or the deaf or the cerebral palsied and amounts so withheld shall be paid to such schools or institutions by warrant of the Auditor General upon the State Treasurer after requisition of the Superintendent of Public Instruction for which purpose all amounts so withheld are hereby specifically appropriated to the Department of Public Instruction. Payments of the Commonwealth's proportion of the cost of tuition and maintenance of blind or deaf or cerebral palsied pupils enrolled in schools or institutions for the blind or for the deaf or for the cerebral palsied as hereinbefore provided shall be made quarterly out of moneys appropriated to the Department of Public Instruction for special education by warrant of the Auditor General upon the State Treasurer after requisition by the Superintendent of Public Instruction to determine from time to time what amounts are due to schools for the blind or for the deaf or for the cerebral palsied hereunder such schools shall forward to the department at such times and in such form as the department shall prescribe sworn statements setting forth the names ages and residences of all pupils enrolled hereunder specifying the school districts liable for a part of the cost of tuition and maintenance of any such pupils the per capita cost of and maintenance of pupils and such other information as the department shall require. Provided That the provisions of this paragraph relative to special education for children afflicted with cerebral palsy shall not apply to school districts in cities of the first class.

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same without amendments.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 700, as follows:

An Act authorizing and empowering city treasurers of cities of the second class to sell at public sale lands or real estate upon which the taxes assessed and levied by the city or school district are delinquent and unpaid fixing the interests of all taxing authorities where such lands are purchased by the city providing for the distribution of moneys received as income from or resale of such lands and providing for a method of reselling such lands purchased by the city or by the city and school district within said city at any sale for the non-payment of taxes free and clear of all mortgages ground rents interest in or claims against said lands

Section 1 In addition to the remedies now provided by law for the collection of delinquent city taxes the city treasurers of cities of the second class of this Commonwealth are hereby authorized and empowered to sell at public sale in the manner hereinafter provided property upon which the taxes assessed and levied have not been paid and have become delinquent Such sales shall be made on the first Monday in June in the year succeeding the year in which the respective taxes are assessed and levied or on any day to which such sale may be adjourned or on any first Monday of June in any succeeding year

Section 2 Where the respective treasurer has not already in his hands the duplicates of said taxes or certificates or schedules thereof it shall be the duty of any receiver or collector of taxes or other person having such delinquent taxes in his hands to certify to the said city treasurer schedules of all unpaid taxes with descriptions of the property assessed and it shall be the duty of the city treasurer to advertise for sale all the lands upon which it appears the taxes have not been paid as shown by the duplicates in his hands or by the returns or schedules certified to him as aforesaid Said advertisement shall be made once a week for three successive weeks prior to the day of sale in at least two newspapers of general circulation and in the legal newspaper printed and published in the respective city The treasurer shall also cause to be posted or tacked in a conspicuous place on each parcel or lot of land advertised for sale at least ten days prior to the day of sale a notice stating that said lands will be sold by said treasurer for delinquent taxes on a certain day and time and at a certain place within the city for which posting of notice he shall receive and tax as costs one dollar No sale shall be valid where the taxes have been paid prior to said advertisement or where the taxes and costs have been paid after advertisement and before sale

Section 3 The lands sold under this act may be redeemed by the owner or by any one interested in said lands at any time within one year after such sale by the payment to the city treasurer of the full amount which the purchaser paid to said treasurer for taxes and costs and ten per centum in addition thereto and when the sale has been made for less than the takes and costs the party redeeming shall pay to said treasurer the balance of taxes and costs which were not made by the sale of the said property In case there are any city or school taxes levied either before or after the said sale which remain unpaid the person redeeming shall pay the same and all penalties interest and lien costs thereon and in case the purchaser has paid any taxes of any kind whatsoever assessed and levied against said property the same shall be reimbursed to said purchaser before any redemption shall take effect The said treasurer shall keep in his office a book or schedule in which he shall enter all the sales made by him giving a description of each property sold the name of the person as the owner thereof as the same appears upon the duplicate or has been returned to him the time of sale and the price at which sold together with the cost Each respective city shall have the right to bid at any such sale the amount of taxes and costs and if necessary purchase such lands

Section 4 It shall be the duty of the purchaser or purchasers at said treasurer's sale as soon as the property is struck down to pay the amount of the purchase money and before delivery of deed all other city and school taxes penalties interest and lien costs if such purchase money is insufficient for the payment thereof and also one dollar and fifty cents for the use of the prothonotary for entering the report of the treasurer and acknowledgment of the treasurer's deed as hereinafter mentioned and in case said amount is not forthwith paid after the property is struck down the sale may be avoided and the property immediately put up again by the said treasurer Provided however That this section shall not apply when the lands are purchased by said city

Section 5 It shall be the duty of the city treasurer at the first term of a court of common pleas of the proper county succeeding such sale to make a report and return wherein he shall set forth a brief description of the land or property sold the name of the person (where known) in which the same is assessed the amount of tax and the year for which the same is assessed the time when and the newspapers in which the advertisement for sale was made with a copy of said advertisement the time of sale the name of the purchaser and the price for which each respective property was sold and upon the presentation of said report or return if it shall appear to said court that such sale has been regularly conducted under the provisions of this act the said report and the sale so made shall be confirmed nisi in case no objections or exceptions are filed to said sale within ten days a decree of absolute confirmation may be entered as of course by the prothonotary In case any objections or exceptions are filed they shall be disposed of according to the practice of said courts and when the same are overruled or set aside a decree of absolute confirmation shall be entered as aforesaid but all objections or exceptions shall be confined to the regularity of the proceedings of said treasurer

Section 6 After any sale of property or lands for delinquent taxes has been confirmed by the court as aforesaid it shall be the duty of the purchaser or purchasers where the bid exceeds the taxes and costs as aforesaid to make and execute to the said treasurer for the use of the persons entitled a bond for the surplus money that may remain after satisfying and paying all the taxes and costs as aforesaid with warrant of attorney to confess judgment annexed thereto and it shall be the duty of said treasurer to forthwith file said bond in the office of the prothonotary of the proper county at the number and term where said report and return is filed and the surplus bond filed as aforesaid from the time of the date of the deed for property thus sold shall bind as effectually and in like manner as judgments the land by said treasurer sold into whose hands or possession soever they may come and the owner of said lands at the time of sale their heirs or assigns or other legal representatives may at any time within five years after such sale cause judgment to be entered in said court upon said bond in the name of said treasurer for the use of said owners their heirs assigns or legal representatives (as the case may be) and in case the moneys mentioned in said bonds with legal interest thereon from the time it is demanded be not paid within three months after such entry execution may forthwith issue for the recovery thereof

Section 7 When the purchaser has paid the amount of his bid and all other city and school taxes penalties interest and lien costs if any and has given the surplus bond as above required if necessary it shall be the duty of the city treasurer to make the said purchaser or purchasers his or their heirs or assigns a deed in fee simple for the lands sold as aforesaid and the said deed or deeds to duly acknowledge in the court of common pleas and such acknowledgment shall be duly entered and recorded by the prothonotary of said court in the treasurer's deed book and for such service and the entry of the report of said treasurer said prothonotary shall receive the sum of one dollar and fifty cents

Section 8 Where the owner or other person interested in the land thus sold shall redeem the same it shall be the duty of the city treasurer to acknowledge the receipt of the redemption moneys upon the margin of the acknowledgment of the treasurer's deed as the same is entered and recorded in the prothonotary's office as aforesaid and thereafter said deed shall be void and of no effect and thereupon such owner or persons interested as aforesaid shall be entitled to have the treasurer's deed delivered up to him her or them by the purchaser for cancellation And it shall be the duty of the said treasurer to pay to said purchaser all the moneys he had paid at the time of sale together with the ten per centum penalty thereon and it shall also be the duty of said treasurer to enter upon the book of sales kept by him as hereinbefore provided an acknowledgment or receipt showing that the owner or party interested redeemed the same therein giving date of redemption and amount of money received

Section 9 After the period for redemption as provided for in this act has expired and the said lands have not been redeemed it shall be the duty of the city treasurer to certify to the board or boards of assessors or proper assessing authorities charged with the duty of assessing such real estate for purposes of taxation that he sold the lands redemption has expired and said lands have not been redeemed to the grantee named in the deed and that the period for redemption and if the said lands have been sold to the city the aforesaid assessing authorities shall not thereafter return said lands for purposes of taxation and no taxes shall be levied thereon as long as the property is held and owned by the city Copies of the aforesaid certification may also be furnished to deed registries or other interested authorities

Section 10 The interests of all taxing authorities having taxes or claims against any property sold to any city of the second class by the city treasurer under the provisions of this act shall be fixed and determined as of the time of the certification by the city treasurer as provided for in section eight and shall remain fixed without the necessity of filing or reviving liens or otherwise preserving such taxes or claims and shall take priority over all mortgages ground rents or claims whatsoever until said taxes or claims are fully paid or otherwise divested by law and if the said city received income from the property it shall distribute any net income first to the cost of the treasurer's sale and the balance to the interested taxing authorities in proportion to their taxes and claims against the property until such taxes and claims have been liquidated and thereafter in proportion to their rate of tax levy within the city

Section 11 If upon a resale by the city of any property purchased by it under this act either for a sum sufficient to pay all taxes and claims or for a lesser sum as provided hereinafter it should be deemed necessary by said city to conduct proceedings hereinafter set forth to perfect its tax title acquired at the treasurer's sale it shall be lawful for the said city to deduct the costs of said proceedings from the sale price as well as the cost of the original tax sale and the usual commission to a real estate broker if any before distribution of the balance and if the sale price or balance remaining is more than sufficient to pay all taxes and claims then the sum left after all taxes and municipal claims have been satisfied shall be distributed to the interested taxing authorities in proportion to their rate of tax levy upon real estate within the city at the time of resale If however such sum is less than all taxes and municipal claims such sum shall be distributed to the interested taxing authorities in proportion to their total tax claims against the property regardless of priority of lien and such taxes and municipal claims shall be considered as fully paid and satisfied

Section 12 (a) In case of resale of such lands which have been purchased by the city under this act or by the city or school district within said city at any sale for the non-payment of taxes after the period of redemption has expired it may appear that there are mortgages ground rents rights title interest in or claims against such lands which have not been divested by the tax sale or other defects or objections to a good and marketable title the city may present its petition or complaint with a search of title attached to the court of common pleas of the county wherein the lands are situate setting forth (1) the location of the lands by metes and bounds or if it be in a recorded plan of lots the plan number of the lot and place of record of the plan or reference to a former deed of record (2) the names or names of the former owner or owners reputed owners mortgagees assignees or any other person or persons shown by such title search to have any mortgage ground rent right title interest in or claim against such land if any there be (3) that upon diligent inquiry no person has been found who has or claims to have any mortgage ground rent right title interest in or claim against said land unless it be those named in the petition (4) that the period of redemption has expired and the city or school district has agreed to sell said land setting forth the sum offered therefor which may be less than the sum of all taxes and municipal claims against the land (5) the sum of all taxes and municipal claims due each taxing authority

(b) Thereupon a rule shall be granted upon the persons named in the petition and generally upon all other persons not named in the petition who have or claim to have or may appear to have any mortgage ground rent right title interest in or claim against said land to appear within thirty days from service of the rule upon them and show cause why the title of the petitioner or complainant to said land should not be adjudicated and decreed valid and indefeasible as against all mortgages assignees or other persons having any right title interest in or claim against said lands whatsoever and to further show cause why the sale of the said land by the city or school district should not be made free and clear of their respective mortgages ground rents interests or claims whatsoever The rule may be made returnable to such term or return day as may be fixed by the court

(c) As to persons domiciled within the county or in any other county of this Commonwealth and whose whereabouts may be ascertained the rule shall be served and returned as writs of summons are served and returned As to those persons whose domicile is without the Commonwealth the petitioner or complainant may have any competent adult serve the defendant personally and file an affidavit to that effect If a defendant is dead or his identity or whereabouts is unknown and cannot be ascertained the petitioner or complainant shall file an affidavit to that effect wherein the affiant may state that the heirs and assigns of a named former owner are unknown and if the court is satisfied that due inquiry has been made the rule shall be served by one advertisement in a newspaper of general circulation and the legal newspaper published in the city where the land is situate or as the court named in the petition to appear on or before the return day of the rule and show cause why the title of the city or school district should not be adjudicated and decreed valid and indefeasible as against all mortgages ground rents rights title interest in or claims against the land whatsoever and to further show cause why the sale of the said land should not be made by the city or school district free and clear of all the aforesaid claims whatsoever Said advertisement shall be made at least thirty days before the return day of said rule and shall be deemed a good and sufficient service of the rule as to all persons whatsoever Said rule shall also be served personally upon other interested taxing authorities

Section 13 In case no person shall appear at or before the return day and make answer to said petition and rule or make objection to the sale of the said land by the city or school district and the court is satisfied that the proposed sale is proper and to the advantage of all interested taxing authorities upon affidavit filed by petitioner or complainant that the aforesaid rule to show cause properly endorsed with notice to plead has been served and that the defendant has not filed an answer and that no person has objected to said sale it shall enter a decree making said rule absolute and approving such sale and direct a conveyance of such land to the person or persons to whom the city or school district has agreed to see free and clear of all mortgages ground rents rights title interest in or claims against said land whatsoever and the price received therefore after deducting all costs of this proceeding and of the original tax sale as well as the usual commission to a real estate broker if any shall be distributed to the respective taxing authorities as hereinbefore provided for

Section 14 If any person shall appear and make answer or objections to said petition or complaint and rule and said answer or objection shall contest the adequacy of the price for which the city or school district has agreed to sell said land the court shall fix a time within thirty days from the aforesaid return for all persons to appear before said court and make offers for said land and the court may approve such offer as in its discretion appears to be in the interest of all taking authorities having claims against the land If however such answer or objection sets up any claim to a mortgage ground rent right title interest in or claim against said land adverse to the title of the city or school district the court shall order and decree that such person or persons shall commence proceedings within thirty days to foreclose any mortgage bring his action in ejectment or such other proceeding as may be necessary to establish his claim and failing therein within the time aforesaid the court shall make said rule absolute and direct a conveyance of the land as provided in section eleven hereof If any person or persons appear at any stage of the proceedings who may appear to the court to have any interest whatsoever in the land and pay all taxes which would have been levied against said land had the same not been certified to the assessors and removed from the tax rolls as well as the costs of this proceeding the court may direct a conveyance to said person but no real estate commission shall be paid

Section 15 If any city treasurer of a city of the second class is also treasurer and or collector of school taxes for the school district of said city then this act and all its terms and conditions and to all intents and purposes may be applied to the collection of school taxes assessed and levied for school purposes within such city of the second class but shall not be considered as an exclusive remedy for the collection of school taxes The city shall be considered a trustee for the school district when lands are purchased by the city at its treasurer's sale whereon school taxes are due and owing

Section 16 All lands heretofore or hereafter purchased by any city of the second class or school district within such city at a sheriff sale treasurer's sale or any sale for the nonpayment of city or school taxes and held beyond the period of redemption may be sold to a purchaser under the terms of sections eleven twelve thirteen and fourteen of this act

Section 17 The act approved the thirtieth day of March one thousand nine hundred three (P. L. 106) entitled "An act authorizing and empowering the city treasurers of the several cities of second class and third class of this Commonwealth to sell at public sale all properties upon which the taxes assessed and levied are delinquent and remain unpaid" and its amendments are hereby repealed insofar as they relate to cities of the second class

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the House is requested.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 817, as follows:

An Act defining and regulating certain installment sales of motor vehicles prescribing the conditions under which such sales may be made and regulating the financing thereof regulating and licensing persons engaged in the business of making or financing such sales prescribing the form contents and effect of instruments used in connection with such sales and the financing thereof prescribing certain rights and obligations of buyers sellers persons financing such sales and others limiting incidental charges in connection with such instruments and fixing maximum interest rates for delinquencies extensions and loans regulating insurance in connection with such sales regulating reposessions redemptions resales and deficiency judgments and the rights of parties with respect thereto authorizing extensions loans and forbearances related to such sales authorizing investigations and examinations of persons engaged in the business of making or financing such sales prescribing penalties and repealing certain acts

Section 1 Short Title This act shall be known and may be cited as the "Motor Vehicles Sales Finance Act"

Section 2 Findings and Declarations of Policy It is hereby determined and declared as a matter of legislative finding

(a) That an exhaustive study by the Joint State Government Commission discloses nefarious unscrupulous and improper practices in the financing of the sale of motor vehicles in this Commonwealth which are unjustifiably detrimental to the consumer and inimical to the public welfare. Such practices prevail not only among some sellers but also among some sales finance companies and some banks which acquire contracts arising out of installment sales of motor vehicles and which frequently influence the credit policies of sellers

(b) That the agreement for the installment sale of motor vehicles in this Commonwealth has been generally cast in the form of the so-called "Pennsylvania Bailment Lease" contract in which the seller is technically the lessor and the buyer is technically the lessee. By the use of this fictional instrument in the installment sale of motor vehicles the extension of credit to the purchaser has been so inextricably entwined with the alleged bailment of the motor vehicle as to deprive the consumer of the benefit of existing laws

(c) That consumers because of these legal technicalities and because of their equal bargaining position are at the mercy of unscrupulous persons and are being intolerably exploited in the installment purchase of motor vehicle. Such exploitation is evident in the unfair provisions of the installment sale contract exorbitant charges for credit extortionate default extension collection repossession and other charges unconscionable practices respecting execution of contracts refinancing of contracts prepayment refunds insurance repossession and redemption

(d) That practices enumerated and other equally pernicious have existed to such an extent that regulation of the installment selling of motor vehicles is necessary to the adequate protection of the public interest. Adequate regulation of installment selling must include control of the functions of selling and financing of motor vehicles whether exercised by the same or by different persons

Therefore it is hereby declared to be the policy of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to promote the welfare of its inhabitants and to protect its citizens from abuses presently existing in the installment sale of motor vehicles and to that end exercise the police power of the Commonwealth to bring under the supervision of the Commonwealth all persons engaged in the business of extending consumer credit in conjunction with the installment sale of motor vehicles to establish a system of regulation for the purpose of insuring honest and efficient consumer credit service for installment purchasers of motor vehicles and to provide the administrative machinery necessary for effective enforcement

Section 3 Definitions The following words terms and phrases when used in this act shall have the meaning ascribed to them in this section except where the context clearly indicates otherwise

Section 16 Transfer of Installment Sale Contract

A The seller of a motor vehicle under an installment sale contract executed in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania shall not sell transfer or assign the obligation represented by such contract to any person in Pennsylvania or elsewhere who is not licensed as a sales finance company pursuant to the provisions of this act.

B A sales finance company licensed pursuant to the provisions of this act shall not sell transfer or assign the obligation represented by a motor vehicle installment sale contract executed in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania which it has lawfully acquired to any other person in Pennsylvania or elsewhere who is not licensed as a sales finance company pursuant to the provisions of this act.

C Whenever an installment sale contract is lawfully sold transferred or assigned to a person who is licensed as a sales finance company pursuant to the provisions of this act such new holder shall furnish to the buyer in such contract a written notice of such sale transfer or assignment excepting when assignment is made only to secure a bona fide commercial loan. Such notice shall set forth the name and address of the new holder and shall notify the buyer of the name and address of the person authorized to receive future payments on such contract. If such notice has not been given any payment or tender of payment made to and any service of notice on the last known holder by the buyer shall be binding upon any subsequent holder.

D The provisions of this section shall not apply to an assignment of an aggregation of installment sale contracts which is executed by a seller or sales finance company only as collateral security for a bona fide commercial loan obtained at lawful rates of interest from a person regularly engaged in the business of lending money on the security of such assigned collateral and under which in the absence of default or other bona fide breach of the loan contract ownership of the assigned contracts remains vested in the assignor and collection of payments on such assigned contracts is made by the assignor and provided such assignment and loan contracts are not for the purpose of evading or circumventing the provisions of this act.

Section 17 Insurance

A The buyer of a motor vehicle under an installment sale contract may be required to provide insurance on such motor vehicle at the buyer's expense for the protection of the seller or subsequent holder. Such insurance shall be limited to insurance against substantial risk of damage destruction or theft of such motor vehicle provided however the foregoing shall not interfere with the liberty of contract of the buyer and seller to contract for other or additional insurance as security for or by reason of the obligation of the buyer and inclusion of the cost of such insurance premium in the principal amount advanced under the installment sale contract. Such insurance shall be written for the dual protection of the buyer and of the seller or subsequent holder to the extent of his interest in the motor vehicle. Such insurance shall be for an amount and period of time and upon terms and conditions which are reasonable and appropriate considering the type and condition of the motor vehicle the amount of the time balance and the schedule of payments in the installment sale contract.

B The buyer of a motor vehicle under an installment sale contract shall have the privilege of purchasing such insurance from an agent or broker of his own selection and selecting an insurance company acceptable to the seller provided however the inclusion of the cost of the insurance premium in the installment sale contract when the buyer selects the company agent or broker shall be optional with the seller.

C Whenever the seller contracts to purchase at the buyer's expense such insurance on a motor vehicle sold under an installment sale contract such insurance shall be purchased through an agent and/or broker authorized to conduct business in Pennsylvania and such insurance shall be written by an insurance company qualified to do business in Pennsylvania. The status of the buyer and seller or holder as set forth in such insurance contract shall conform to the status of these parties in the installment sale contract. The cost of the premium on such insurance to the buyer shall not be in excess of the amount of the premium which others are required to pay to such insurance company for similar coverage and in no event in excess of rates established in the then current published applicable manual of a recognized standard insurance rating bureau or the rates fixed by authority of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

D Whenever the seller contracts to purchase at the buyer's expense such insurance on a motor vehicle sold under an installment sale contract a copy of the policy or a certificate of insurance shall be delivered to the buyer within thirty (30) days of the date of the buyer's signing of the installment sale contract.

E The insurance policy which is furnished to the buyer when the insurance is placed by the seller or subsequent holder at the buyer's expense shall set forth complete information as to the effective dates amounts of premiums and coverage and shall contain all the terms of the insurance contract. When a certificate of insurance issued under a master policy is furnished to the buyer in lieu of an individual policy such certificate shall set forth all information as to effective dates amounts of premiums and coverage and shall contain all the terms of the insurance contract embodied in the master policy to the same extent as would appear if an individual policy were issued and shall give due notice that it is not an insurance policy.

F When the seller or subsequent holder has placed at the expense of the buyer insurance on a motor vehicle sold under an installment sale contract and the buyer prepays the time balance under the contract prior to the expiration date of the insurance such insurance shall remain in force unless the buyer requests cancellation thereof. The seller or holder shall not cancel the insurance under such circumstances without the buyer's consent nor shall the seller or holder coerce the buyer to cancel the insurance. Unexpired insurance premiums received by the seller or holder resulting from cancellation of insurance which was originally placed at the buyer's expense shall be paid to the buyer or credited to any matured unpaid installments under the contract.

G When the seller contracts to purchase insurance at the buyer's expense and such insurance is cancelled by the insurance company prior to expiration the seller or subsequent holder shall place comparable insurance with another insurance company and furnish the buyer with a copy of the insurance policy subject to the same requirements of this act applicable to the original policy. In the event the holder is unable to obtain such insurance in another insurance company he shall immediately notify the buyer who may then obtain such insurance from an insurance company agent or broker of his own selection and the holder shall be liable for any additional costs incurred by the buyer in rewriting such insurance for the unexpired period for which the original insurance was written. The holder under these circumstances shall also be liable to the buyer for any loss suffered by the buyer through negligence on the part of the holder in promptly advising the buyer of his inability to obtain replacement insurance.

Section 18 Other Costs Included in Amount Financed

A In addition to the cost of insurance premiums authorized in the preceding section of this act the seller of a motor vehicle under an installment sale contract may require the buyer to pay certain other costs incurred in the sale of a motor vehicle under such contract as follows:

1 Fees payable to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for filing a lien or encumbrance on the certificate of title to a motor vehicle sold under an installment sale contract or collateral security thereto.

2 Fees payable to a public official for filing or recording and satisfying or releasing the installment sale contract or instruments securing the buyer's obligation

3 Fees for notarization required in connection with the filing and recording or satisfying and releasing a mortgage judgment lien or encumbrance

B The seller of a motor vehicle under an installment sale contract may also contract with the buyer to pay on behalf of the buyer such other costs incidental to the sale of a motor vehicle and contracted for voluntarily by the buyer as follows

1 Fees payable to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for registration of the motor vehicle and issuance or transfer of registration plates

2 Fees payable to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for driver's license for the buyer

3 Costs of messenger service and other costs contracted for voluntarily by the buyer

C Such other costs may be charged contracted for collected or received by the seller from the buyer independently of the installment sale contract or the seller may extend credit to the buyer for the amount of such costs and include such amount in the principal amount financed under the installment sale contract
